Editor's Column

STUART R. PADDOCK

Those who read this week's "Way Back When" will know the joy our local communities brought to the Christmas season 30 years ago. Christmas spirit meant food baskets for unfortunate families; and toys for the children. The names of the families needing food and gifts were gathered from police officers, local relief agencies and charitably minded people of many organizations.

No need for us to say more. Turn to this week's "Way Back When" and learn the joy we had in remembering others during the Christmas season.

We join the hundreds of Republicans and Democrats alike who regret the decision of Mrs. Marguerite Stitt Church to decline renomination for U. S. Representative in the 13th Congressional district.

She has performed an outstanding service to her country and the 13th district. We do not know what influenced her to retire. As a friend and admirer, we can suggest a reason or two. One of them would be her disappointment over the loss of part of the old 13th district which she loved so much.

However, she has certainly won the right of a few years of quiet life. We hope that some way can be found for her country to make use of the knowledge she possesses of the causes and effects of what is happening in this world today.

We can only hope that her successor will be someone of similar caliber.

We can expect many aspirants for the seat to be vacated by Mrs. Church. For that position, candidates will be selected at the April primaries for the election to be held in November.

We hope Mrs. Church's legion of friends will throw their support to a person who has the ability and willingness to do the kind of job Mrs. Church has done.

Maine Township Republicans paid tribute last Thursday to our newspaper friend and County Commissioner, Fred Fulle.

The ballroom of the Conrad Hilton hotel was filled with admirers and personal friends of Fred. The event was a personal recognition of his 25 years as Maine Township Committeeman.

We were glad to note that, although Benjamin Adamowski and Charles F. Carpentier gave talks, it did not resemble in any way a political rally. Politics were forgotten for the evening.

We are leaving this week for the South to get away from the wintry blasts, but we hope through this column to continue our weekly visits with our readers.

Yes, we know there is a primary election next April, but we will be back to cast our vote. We just hope that nobody gets unduly excited!

Credit for the success of the Arlington Heights sewer bond issue Saturday is no doubt due to the excellent selling job of the village administration. In addition, those residents who have from time to time been "flooded-out" had something to do about it.

There was strong opposition but the campaign was devoid of personalities, and Arlington Heights is still a "City of Good Neighbors."

The "civil war" that is waging in Palatine between the municipal court and the township judiciary is to be regretted. All it has done so far is to provide a lot of unfavorable newspaper publicity.

As we see it, the controversy has gone beyond the usual ethics of the legal profession. The village board has the opportunity to sit "as a court of last appeal." We hope the trustees will exercise the same unbiased judgment as they have done in other controversial matters — and end the "civil war."

VOTERS GIVE NOD TO STORM SEWER ISSUE

Margin of Win Is 153 Votes

Arlington Heights voters have approved by a small margin the issuance of $1.6 million in general obligation bonds to help finance a $3.3 million relief storm sewer construction project in the village.

Voters went to the polls last Saturday and passed the referendum by a vote of 1,541 to 1,388. The margin of victory was 153 votes, about 5½ per cent of the effective total of 2,929 votes cast. There were 29 spoiled ballots.

The remainder of the project, plus a $200,000 water well, will be financed through issuance of $1.9 million sewer and water bonds.

Elated village trustees and Village President John Woods, after working hard in conjunction with the citizens committee to present and sell the program to the voters, noted:

"The favorable referendum results constitute a highly progressive step. The citizens of Arlington Heights have paved the way for the early solution of one of our most critical problems."

THE PROJECT consists of constructing a main trunk sewer from the northwest part of the village to the southeast part of the village where it will empty into Weller creek.

In addition, laterals will be installed in areas now inadequately drained, whether because of too shallow or too small present installations.

"We feel the entire village is indebted to the citizens committee on the storm sewer referendum for an outstanding job," the village board said this week.

"THE WELL-written stories in The Arlington Heights Herald — outlining fully the arguments both for and against the proposal — contributed to a better understanding of a highly complex problem."

The board also said it appreciated the WNWC-FM coverage of the issue, "and the endorsement after careful study by the Chamber of Commerce."

An effort to defeat the referendum was spear-headed by Robert H. Bukowski, former village trustee and a candidate for village president in last spring's election. He distributed a four-page argument against the project at the commuter train station last Thursday morning.

HE OPPOSED the bond issue, he said, because "there are many facets to the recommended program which do not appear to represent sound thinking." He also said he was not convinced the program was justified by need.

Bukowski was a member of the village board which submitted a similar proposal to the voters two years ago. That referendum failed by a 2-1 margin with slightly less than 2,000 persons casting ballots.

The village board this week said results of the December 9 referendum are particularly significant in view of the 2-1 margin of defeat of the similar proposal two years ago.

"TO ALL WHO supported or opposed this project we pledge that we will make every effort to install a comprehensive storm sewer system in the most efficient and economical manner," the board stated Monday.

The issue was soundly defeated in precincts where there are few flooding problems. In precinct 14, encompassing Hasbrook subdivision where homes have no basements and there is a retention basin to alleviate flooding, it failed 137-58.

In precinct 19, which includes Greenview Estates, the issue was trounced 138-95. It is believed the biggest factor against it in that area was that the project would require removal of some trees.

IN GENERAL, precincts in the older parts of town either defeated the measure or passed

JOY REIGNED SUPREME at the village hall in Arlington Heights last Saturday night after the returns from the special storm sewer referendum were complete. The issue passed by 153 votes out of almost 3,000 cast in the election, which paves the way for a comprehensive storm sewer construction project. Caught by a photographer as they went over the tabulations were (from left) Dorothy Pakys, deputy village clerk; Trustee Norval Stephens; Trustee William Sauer; Village Manager L. A. Hanson; and Trustee Richard Glantz.

Egg and I... Oops, Not on Closer Look

Time: 8:25 p.m., Monday.

Place: Arlington Heights village hall.

Subject: Accounts Payable.

TRUSTEE Norval Stephens: "Is this the correct title here — a salt and egg spreader? I don't think that's what we bought (tongue in cheek)."

Village Manager L. A. Hanson: "Hmmm. No, it's a salt spreader. I don't know where they got the egg."

Unaccountably missing: Ham.

GUARANTEED TO PLEASE — that's what Frank Kams of the Arlington Heights Jaycees is using as his sales pitch to Village President John Woods (left) and Anne Heuer, Miss Arlington Heights, who just "happened" to be his first customers. The Jaycees are selling Christmas trees in the area next to Schneller's furniture store in Arlington Market, with proceeds slated for projects arising from their recent community survey.

371 Acres North of Rand Road Annexed

The Village of Arlington Heights took the big jump across Rand rd. Monday night, annexing 371 acres of land in parcels which hedge-hop on and off Rand rd. from around Thomas st. northwest along the east side of Rand to past an imaginary extension of Hintz rd.

The village board zoned the land in various classifications ranging from R-1 single family residential, the most restrictive to B-3 business, the most inclusive.

Both annexation and zoning were passed by the village board over the objections of Trustee Eugene Schlickman.

THE ZONING was a compromise arrived at after numerous meetings of the petitioners, Kenroy Realty represented by A. Howard Borde, and the plan commission and village board.

Final compromise was worked out about two weeks ago at a plan commission meeting at which village board members were present in an advisory capacity.

Before action was taken Monday night, Trustee Norval Stephens read to the board the report of a special committee appointed to study the proposed annexation and zoning.

STEPHENS, Schlickman and Trustee Richard Glantz comprised the committee, with Schlickman not concurring in the committee report.

Stephens noted that services can be efficiently provided to the area, sanitary sewers and water lines would be brought in at the developer's expense, storm water drains away from the present village area, and it appears the tax base would be broadened by the annexation.

The analysis shows, Stephens said, that the parcel as zoned in the recommendation of the plan commission would contribute a net of about $30,097 to the taxing bodies of the area, and a net of about $12,529 to the village, thus broadening the tax base.

THE REPORT also stated that the parcel, in effect, surrounds land which is in the natural path of growth of the village and provides contiguity in what is now undeveloped but potentially tax base broadening land.

The committee, with Schlickman dissenting, concluded it would be in the best interest of the village and the citizens of the various school and park districts that the parcel be annexed in order that its development be controlled.

Two stipulations, that the petioners also annex to the park district and agree to dedicate land suitable for at least one well site, were agreed to by the petitioners.

SCHLICKMAN strongly objected to the proposal, criticizing the irregular shape of the grouped parcels which, in general, run northeast of and parallel to Rand rd., and pointing out that there are no specific plans for development of the area, only tentative proposals.

He said the petitioner, Kenroy Realty, admits that it is a land

Saturday Hall Hours Announced

The business office in the Arlington Heights village hall will be open for six Saturdays from 9 a.m. to noon to facilitate issuance of vehicle, dog and business licenses.

Finance Director Tom DeRiemer said the office will be open the following Saturdays: December 16, 30, January 6, 13, 20, 27. It should be noted the offices will be closed the Christmas weekend, December 23, 24, 25.

Trustees OK Move Monday

Departments Set To Go Quickly

Wheels were set in motion Monday night to transfer the police and administrative departments of the Village of Arlington Heights to a new, temporary location — the now-vacant former St. Peter's Lutheran school.

The shift of departments, scheduled for the first or second week in February, will provide temporary quarters for village functions while the new municipal building is being constructed.

The village must vacate its present building, which has been sold to Jewel Tea company.

THE CONTRACT calls for payment of $300 a month rent for the former St. Peter's school building, located on a projection of Highland between St. James and Eastman. The building has been up for sale for some time.

Village Manager L. A. Hanson, who has been negotiating for the lease, said the contract guarantees that the village will not have to move before the 10-month lease is up in October, even though the property might be sold.

All village functions now located in the village hall will be moved to the school with the exception of the fire department. It will be housed in the public works buildings on Ridge about two blocks northwest of the village hall.

The contract for lease of the school was approved Monday night by the village board, and, when signed, has an effective date of Jan. 1, 1962. After that date, the move will begin, mainly utilizing public works employes during slack periods in their normal work.

New telephone lines also will have to be put into the school to accommodate the various village offices and the police department.

The school building is a two-story, 10-room structure. The village is not leasing the gymnasium or activities section of the vacant school complex.

THE NEW municipal building already is under construction, and probably will be ready for occupancy about September, 1962.

From about mid-February until then, all village business including village board meetings will be carried on in the school building.

Plans to utilize the old St. Peter's school were almost abandoned until Hanson succeeded in negotiating a substantially lower rental than previously proposed, and securing a guarantee that the village would not be forced to vacate the building if it was sold.

Pre-Yule Hours Are Repeated

Pre-Christmas hours for the Arlington Heights post office are as follows:

Weekdays, through Friday, Dec. 22, 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.; Saturday, Dec. 16, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Sunday, Dec. 17, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Regular post office hours will be resumed December 23.

Members Okay Church Site

Lutheran Church of the Cross, Arlington Heights, will build its future church on a four-acre site adjacent to the new Forest View high school, it was announced this week by the Rev. Bruce K. Benander, pastor.

Purchase of the site was authorized by the church's membership at a special congregational meeting held last Sunday in Pioneer park fieldhouse.

The site, purchased from Emil J. Curtis, is at the north edge of the high school site on Goebbert rd. between Golf and Algonquin rds.

"CHURCH OF the Cross originally planned to build on Golf rd. just west of Arlington Heights rd., but we have felt for some time that we could better serve the area of south Arlington Heights by moving our church farther west," the Rev. Benander said.

He cited the proximity to Forest View high school and the likelihood of residential development in the area as important advantages favoring the new site.

The church, formally organized last Palm Sunday, now has a baptized membership of about 150 persons. Services currently are held in Pioneer park fieldhouse.

THE CONGREGATION also has authorized its board of administration to create a building committee to begin preliminary planning of the building program. It will interview architects and recommend one to the congregation.

As a mission congregation of the Augustana Lutheran church, the Arlington Heights church will work closely with Augustana's board of American Missions in its building program.

New Restaurant Is Slated for Corner

A new restaurant, slated to cost in excess of $50,000, is scheduled to open in downtown Arlington Heights in mid-March.

Steve Samata, former co-owner of the One Hoss Shay in Palatine and a restauranteur all his life, will be owner of the new Arlington Heights restaurant. It will be located in the area now occupied by Sieburg drugs, 1 W. Campbell.

COMPLETE remodeling of the store will begin January 1, wi'' fixtures and furnishings to be in a colonial style.

Samata said he will specialize in businessmen's lunches, as well as complete dinners, with hours tentatively set as 6:30 a.m. to midnight.

"We hope to have one of the finest restaurants in this area," Samata said.

The restauranteur is a resident of Palatine, where he moved about five years ago from New York state. His brother is owner of the One Hoss Shay. (AF

Tickets Gone for Shows, Plan More

How many Arlington Heights area youngsters can get up early enough to see the free show Saturday at 8:30 a.m. at the Arlington theater as guests of the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce?

This was the question last week as parents picking up free tickets at the stores of the 24 cooperating merchants found the other two shows, at 11 a.m. and 1:30 p.m., almost gone.

Walt Disney's "Johnny Appleseed" will headline the cartoon variety show. Santa Claus will be on hand at both the 11 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. shows, as well as at the 24 stores during the day, passing out free candy to another 5,000 or so children.

THE FOLLOWING Saturday, Dec. 23, another trio of free shows will be given, this time in cooperation with the Arlington Heights police department, which annually stages a free Christmas show for area youngsters.

Walt Disney's "Pecos Bill" will headline that show, and tickets will be available at the 24 stores beginning Monday, Dec. 18.

Show times for both days are 8:30-10:30 a.m., 11 a.m.-1 p.m., 1:30-3:30 p.m.

Teen Debaters Kept Busy in Tourney, TV

something NEW IN 62

A mass exodus of Prospect high school debaters took place last weekend, with school debate team members and individual speech contestants appearing in Chicago on television, in DeKalb in a debate tournament and at Illinois State Normal university.

Highlight of the weekend activities was the appearance of varsity debaters Dick Jorgensen and Jim Hardt on WBBM television. The show, Rebuttal, features debate teams from Chicago area high schools. Debating the question of whether both Nationalist and Red China should hold seats in the United Nations, the Prospect two-man team on the negative lost to the New Trier debaters.

Robert Goldman, Prospect debate coach, praised the boys' appearance and pointed out the disadvantage of competing against a school with a reputation as good as that of New Trier.

SIXTEEN DEBATERS journeyed to DeKalb under the supervision of Miss Helen McGuigan, sub-varsity coach, and Harold McNabb, beginner's coach.

Included in the DeKalb group were Chris Hanks, Ginny Nail, Lynn Morehous, Ron Hottes, Larry Frankenberg, Joan Rezner, Tina Gewecke, Sally Wolfe, Sue Thurow and Gail Patterson. The freshmen debaters in the trip were Marsha Cutting, Mark Nelson, John Higgins and Tony Lenio.

Prospect debaters appearing at Illinois State Normal were Bryan King, Marty Meisenheimer, Patricia Kist and Ken Schroeder. The group was accompanied by Leroy Hollenbeck, assistant debate coach and director of speech activities.

Both the DeKalb group and the teams at Illinois State Normal discussed the affirmative and negative sides of the question of federal aid to education.

The Illinois State Normal appearance also included individual speech events with Rebecca Welch, Dale Vivirito and Michael Minkoff each receiving an excellent rating. Miss Welch represented the high school in original oratory, Minkoff in extemporaneous speaking and Vivirito in prose reading. Barbara Liston also participated in the program in radio speaking. Mrs. Wanda Rogers, individual speech coach, accompanied the group.

NEXT WEEKEND the Prospect debaters will participate for the first time in a forensic league—The Suburban Interstate league. Saturday, Dec. 16, the varsity debaters will present both the negative and affirmative sides on the federal aid to education question. Affirmative speakers will be Bill Rush and Christ Hanks, while the negative case will be presented by Dick Jorgensen and Jim Hardt. Sub-varsity and freshmen debaters will also participate. The debate will be held at Morton West.

An invitation individual speech events meet will be held at the same time at Proviso West. Under the direction of Mrs. Rogers, 19 students will compete. In addition to the students listed for last Saturday's events, the group will include Sally Johnson, Pat Hampton, Lynn Carroll, Nancy Watsa, Jenny Joern, Carolyn Schwind, Twyla Maxwell, Ceinwin Klepper, Newell Krogmann, Angela Brinkely, Mike Williams, Michael Thompson and Elaine Jarowski.

Teenage Debaters Set for TV Show

Two of Arlington high's varsity debaters will be seen on Chicago's channel 2, WBBM, Sunday afternoon, from 3:30 to 4 p.m.

Jerry, Berthold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Berthold, 1512 N. Prairie, and Linda Krueger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Krueger, 735 S. Evergreen, Arlington Heights, will appear on "Rebuttal," metropolitan high school debate program.

Opponents for the program will be Chicago's Morgan Park high school. Jerry and Linda will have the affirmative side of the question: Should there be a single government encompassing the Chicago and suburban areas?

WINNERS of Sunday's debate, which is to be taped Saturday afternoon, will advance to the 16 team finals.

Arlington's squad tuned up for the TV debut by winning all eight debates at the DeKalb invitational tournament last Saturday. The team, composed of Berthold, Miss Krueger, Dick Daschner, and Frank Renner, beat Highland Park, Proviso East, Maine East, West Rockford, Rich, Waukegan, Argo, and Lyons to receive a superior rating.

In all, Arlington debaters, including sub-varsity and beginners' divisions won 17 of 22 debates at the tournament. Coaches are Frank Whiteside, Barbara Mowder, and Marvin Tuttle. (ACM

Store Plans Night For Male Shoppers

It will be a "man's world" in Arlington Heights — at least for an evening.

A special shopper's night for men is planned for Monday, Dec. 18 from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the House of Jarvis, 524 W. Northwest hwy. in the Elms shopping center.

DURING THE three-hour "men only sale," women will be off-limits at the store.

"This service will guarantee that wives will not know what they'll get under the Christmas tree," said Jack Jarvis. "Ladies have been filling out letters to 'Santa' for several weeks, however, and their husbands may see the letters Monday night."

Jarvis added that windows will be covered to prevent peeking on the part of curious females. (ACM

HERE'S A HINT FOR HUBBY!

Let's face it — most husbands need a little coaching on gift selections — that is, if you want to say "just what I've always wanted," and really mean it.

Now is a good time to show him (nonchalantly, of course), a picture of the style and fur you'd "love to have some day." Then you might say a few words about the large quality selection, reasonable prices, and friendly service at D. W. Senne, Inc.

If hubby takes the hint and heads our way, we'll treat him right and help him select a fur that's just right for you. We think both of you will say, "There can be Nothing Finer — than a D. W. Senne fur!"

Annual Spray School Set

The 14th annual Custom Spray Operators' Training school will be held on the University of Illinois campus January 24-25.

H. B. Petty, extension entomologist, says about 700 persons associated with the agricultural chemical industry will attend. They come to hear the latest findings in the development and application of chemicals.

The U. of I. and the Illinois Natural History Survey sponsor the school. Although there is an early registration on Tuesday evening, January 23, the program officially begins at 9:55 a.m., Wednesday. (AM

Q. In what room of the home should a tea be given?

A. The table may be spread in the living room, if the group is a small one and the room is large. Preferably, however, the table should be in the dining room. Tea, coffee, fruit punch, thin sandwiches, cakes, olives, and nuts are placed on the table, and the guests help themselves, except that women friends assist in the serving of the beverages.

Suburb News of The Week

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS—Voters went to the polls Saturday and approved by a margin of 135 votes the issuance of $1.6 million in general obligation bonds to be used for partial financing of a $3.3 million comprehensive storm sewer system. Village trustees promised Monday "the most efficient job possible" and predicted the system could be completed by fall of 1962.

ROLLING MEADOWS—City Council meeting Tuesday night was a "free-swinging" session with aldermen, merchants, and residents airing their views on liquor control regulations. For three hours, the pros and cons of holiday hours for package goods stores and additional liquor licenses for restaurants were discussed. Although no conclusions were made and few minds changed, practically no other council business was transacted.

WHEELING—The village board voted unanimously this week to enter into a contract with Stanton and Rockwell of Chicago to immediately begin working on a comprehensive master development plan for the village.

BUFFALO GROVE—Village feeling ran high against a proposed 5 per cent utility tax to enable the village to provide some salary for volunteer policemen. A standing room only crowd attended a public discussion at the village board meeting December 7. As a result of the action, 11 members of the 17-man police department resigned.

MOUNT PROSPECT—A legal right to evict the owners of a 17-acre parcel of property on Rand rd. was enforced Tuesday. Sheriff's deputies piled possessions and merchandise from the Schroeder farm along the highway. The court issued a writ of possession to school district 57 board of education October 23. A condemnation jury set the price for the 17 acres of land at $267,083.33 plus 5 per cent interest, which brings the total purchase price to approximately $17,000 an acre. The Schroeder family has refused to accept a check for more than $280,00 deposited with the Cook County Treasurer.

PROSPECT HEIGHTS—A special meeting of the Prospect Heights Rural Fire Protection District board of trustees will be held at 10 p. m. Thursday (tonight) at the fire station. It was reported Wednesday that a newly-revised contract will be signed with the firemen at this meeting, thus ending the long-standing feud between the firemen and trustees over use of the fire station.

ELK GROVE VILLAGE—Officials of school district 57 have been successful in bringing about a revision to assessment figures for Elk Grove township. After objecting to published assessment figures on the basis they were too low, school officials huddled with representatives of County Assessor P. J. Cullerton. Result: assessed valuation hiked by $3.5 million.

PALATINE—Village trustees Monday approved the appointment of Benjamin Bombera as treasurer and George Dickson as director of civil defense.

PALATINE TOWNSHIP—Max R. Kolin, 33, of 2108 Flicker, Rolling Meadows, this week announced his candidacy for Republican committeeman of Palatine township. Incumbent committeeman Jackson L. Boughner will not seek re-election in the April primary. Kolin was unanimously endorsed for committeeman in a special caucus held earlier this month by the Palatine Township Republicans organization. He is the only candidate to announce for the post thus far.

Couples Take Bridge Honors In Y Tourney

Married couples took all the honors at the Northwest Suburban YMCA's bi-weekly duplicate bridge tournament Friday night, December 8.

First place awards went to Mr. and Mrs. Howard L'Hommedieu, Arlington Heights; and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Kaye, Arlington Heights.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Edwall, Mt. Prospect; and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carpenter, Mt. Prospect, were second place winners.

Next game at the "Y" is December 22 at 8 p.m. This Friday night a game is scheduled for Arlington Heights' Pioneer Park field house at 8 p.m.

All games are open to the public. (ACM

Christmas Shows Set for Schools

A program of Christmas music will be presented at separate afternoon meetings of the Feehanville and Euclid Parent-Teachers associations.

On December 19, the primary and intermediate choruses will entertain at the Euclid school. On December 20, the primary, intermediate, and junior high choruses of the Feehanville school will perform. All children in the schools will be participating.

THE CHORUSES are under the direction of Mrs. Katherine Moomey, music instructor at both schools. Both meetings will begin at 1:45 p.m., and will be preceded by brief business announcements.

The week of December 11 through 15 has been designated "Bundle Days" at Feehanville and Euclid schools. Children are to bring bundles of used, wearable clothing to the schools, for distribution to the needy Southern Appalachian mountain children and adults. The collection is sponsored by the Save the Children Federation. (ACM

The program ended with a carol sing while refreshments were being served. (B8

Council Asks Parents To Wisely Pick Toys

Christmas for a child is the long awaited day of wonder, excitement, holiday trimmings, and new toys. But unless parents wisely select and distribute those toys and trimmings, the day may be one of misery instead of gladness.

"Tragedy is too often the result of hasty, careless Christmas giving," said Phil Dykstra, director of the National Safety Council's home department.

"Many parents don't realize that most toy accidents are caused by misuse of toys, or that a safe toy for an 8-year-old may be hazardous for even the most precocious 4-year-old," he added.

MANY PROUD parents overestimate the abilities of their children or buy on impulse to satisfy an adult whim. This frequently results in an unsatisfactory gift. If the toy is too large or complicated for the child to understand, he may misuse it—turning it into a hazard.

"Toy manufacturers are making excellent progress in the quality, durability and safety of toys, but wise selection is up to the parents," Dykstra said.

"The parents' responsibility doesn't stop when the gift is presented on Christmas morning," he continued. Careful instruction in the proper use of the toy is a must for safety-minded parents.

WHILE SELECTING toys for babies and toddlers, beware of small toys which may be swallowed and those with sharp edges or small, removable parts.

When buying gifts for older children, consider your choice carefully. Remember that gifts such as target games, electrical tools, and chemistry sets require parental supervision. Electrical toys should have the Underwriters' Laboratories' label.

According to the Council, most holiday trimmings, though rarely fatal, may be at least mildly poisonous if eaten or inhaled.

IT IS IMPRACTICAL if not impossible to eliminate all the hazards, but there are a few to watch for and keep out of small hands and mouths.

Fire salts that produce varicolored flames on the yule log may produce vomiting if eaten. Mistletoe and holly berries, too, may produce severe vomiting, if mistaken for fruit and eaten.

If you're planning to flock your tree, remember to do so in a well ventilated room—or better yet, outdoors. Dangerous fumes can accumulate in a closed room. (B8

Mishap Sends 4 to Hospital

A head-on collision occurred on the Northwest highway when one driver lost control of his car on the icy pavement, sending four people to the hospital with injuries.

The accident took place at 11:40 a.m. December 9 on Colfax (the old U. S. 14) at a quarter mile east of Baldwin.

Gordon L. Thies, 23, 309 Brockway, Palatine, was headed west on Colfax. Marian Hotovy, 35, 2331 Sunset, Palatine, was headed east.

WHEN THE driver of the second car lost control of her car on a stretch of ice, her car struck the other vehicle head-on.

Injured were Thies, who was taken to Northwest Community hospital, the second driver and passengers in her car, Sharon Hotovy, 3½, and Steven Hotovy, 5, who were taken to the Sherman hospital.

Damage to the first car was $450; to the second, $200.

The second driver was charged with driving on the wrong side of the road.

IN A SECOND accident, on U. S. 12 about four miles south of Illinois 18, about 12:05 p.m. December 9, Patricia Row, 35, 32 Orchard Beach, McHenry, lost control of her car.

Traveling too fast for conditions, her car started to skid and she lost control of the wheel. The vehicle skidded into the lane in which a car was being driven by Raymond D. Berry, 69, 1019 Forest, River Forest. The two cars collided.

Injured were both drivers, who were taken to Northwest Community hospital. Damage to the first car was listed as $400; to the second as $500. The second driver was charged with driving too fast for conditions. (B8

Kerner Cancels

Scout Banquet Slates Expert

William Harrison Fetridge, an authority on scouting, will be the speaker on the annual recognition program of the Northwest Suburban Council, Boy Scouts of America.

The program will be held Sunday evening, Dec. 17 at Maine East high school, Dempster and Potter, Park Ridge.

Governor Otto Kerner was to have been the guest speaker but was forced to cancel his plans because of a conflict in his busy schedule.

CURRENTLY national vice president and member of the national executive board, Fetridge has served on personnel, camping, field operation and Boy's Life national committees, chairman region 7 executive committee and member of Chicago council executive committee of the Boy Scouts.

He was a Star scout of Troop 18 and assistant scoutmaster of Troop 14, both of Chicago. He has been awarded the Silver Beaver, Silver Antelope and Silver Buffalo in recognition of his many years of work with boys in scouting.

Formerly vice president of Popular Mechanics company, he is now executive vice president of Diamond T Motor Truck Co.

HE IS past regional president of the Navy League of the U.S., and author or editor of The Navy Reader, So You Want to be a Politician and The Republican Precinct Worker's Manual.

Active in Republican politics, Fetridge is best known as chairman of Midwest Volunteers for Nixon-Lodge and chairman of Nixon Recount Committee. (B8

Q. I have received a very fine engagement ring, and I should like to have it insured. Is my fiance supposd to pay the premium on this policy?

A. The ring's safekeeping is entirely dependent upon you, and you should pay the insurance costs. After you're married, your husband, of course, assumes this expense.

County Assessor Valuation Figures Probed by Schools

A review of Elk Grove township by the Cook county assessor's office shows an additional $3½ million in assessed valuation not mentioned in a release made public last week, and has prompted other northwest suburban area school districts to take another look at valuation figures.

County Assessor P. J. Cullerton's deputies blamed the discrepancy on a premature release of the figures before adjustments were made by the county board of tax appeals.

The assessor's release of figures set assessed valuation for the township at $76,248,391, an increase of $8,740,632 over 1960 or 12.95 per cent.

HOWEVER, following a meeting between Deputy Assessor T. R. Napier, Elk Grove school officials, and the Elk Grove township assessor Charles Hodlmair, it was disclosed that the final revised value was $79,916,248, an increase of 18.38 per cent.

Napier said these adjustments made by the board of appeals included several items representing a heavy concentration of value.

In addition, Hodlmair, who will not assume office until Jan. 1, 1962, pointed out that the increase of $12½ million in assessed valuation is subject to multiplication by the state's equalization factor estimated at 1.41 so that dalliwtid 1.41 so that it will add 40 per cent to the above figure, "creating a favorable position for the school board with reference to bonding power."

NAPIER SAID the $8 million plus figure employed in his office's news release was a "preliminary basic value prior to any adjustments made by the board of appeals." He added that Elk Grove township was the first township to be completed in the new quadrant assessment and "because of the need for strict adherence to scheduled operations, Elk Grove township books were closed very promptly before certain additions and corrections could be made."

Napier, however, said such a situation did not apply to the townships of Wheeling, Palatine and Schaumburg. He attributed the difference to Elk Grove township's rapid industrial growth in which "a few parcels mean a lot." The books were closed promptly in Elk Grove township's case, he elaborated, in order that the 1961 tax bills would be on time to save school and municipal officials from resorting to the expedient of issuing tax anticipation warrants to secure needed finance.

IT APPEARS, however, that school officials in the other northwest suburban townships may reappraise their assessed valuation. Kenneth Gill, superintendent of schools for Wheeling-Buffalo Grove School District 21, said: "We're going to look into this very carefully." Gill noted the school district had expected an increase of between $6 and $8 million in assessed valuation "rather than the $3 or $4 million we'll probably get."

Napier, though, noted that the adjustments in the cases of the other townships were minor. He produced final board of appeals figures for Wheeling, Palatine and Schaumburg townships which showed a very slight decrease over the assessor's standard of township worth.

Wheeling township's assessed valuation was set at $143,476,534 for an increase of 10.63 per cent over last year. The assessor's figures had set the increase at 10.97 per cent prior to the board of appeals adjustments, during which time property owners can protest their assessments.

PALATINE township's total stood at $66,316,052, an increase of 5.67 per cent. The assessor's office had set the valuation at $66,597,162, an increase of 6.12 per cent.

Schaumburg township's phenomenal growth was reflected by its 33.29 per cent increase in assessed valuation. Board of appeals' total valuation reached $27,988,384 over 1960's total of $20,997,618. The assessor had set the percentage of increase at 33.32 per cent.

Wheeling School Superintendent Gill said his school district has been working with Arlington High School District 214 to insure the placing of all property on the tax rolls.

He noted that two Buffalo Grove women had checked a published property tax list against property they had discovered as not being on the tax rolls, and found that it was still missing.

GILL SAID they protested to officials manning the county assessor's mobile office, and were told that the high school district probably had not reported the property. High school officials, however, maintain that all information turned over to them was forwarded to the assessor's office.

Gill said he couldn't understand how property was kept off the tax rolls since building permits are required for all construction. Napier said building permits which are now required by his office from township assessors are audited. "It's a fairly new improvement we've made," he added.

"Where permits are not taken out, visual inspection is one of the duties of the township assessor," Napier commented.

He added that the books were closed on Elk Grove township on schedule, "knowing there was a big increase. It was on the way and the school district would have gotten it anyway."

NAPIER, who is chairman of the finance committee of Des Plaines School District 62, observed that if an error is made on the IBM machines used by the assessor's office it can still be corrected by court action.

Prospect DeMolay Installs Officers

Prospect chapter, Order of DeMolay, will hold its ninth semi-annual installation of officers Saturday evening at 8 in the Arlington Heights Masonic temple. This chapter has members from all of the northwest suburbs, and their relatives and friends are being invited to attend the ceremony.

To be installed as master councilor is Robert Kelley of Palatine. Bob is a senior at Palatine high school, is active in its band and also as a saxophonist in a dance combo known as "The Jazz Men." He is treasurer of the Methodist Youth Fellowship of Palatine.

ALSO HEADING the list of new officers are John Stires of Palatine as senior councilor, Dennis Conklin of Palatine as junior councilor and Richard Dickie of Wheeling as senior deacon.

Escorting the new officers at the Saturday rites will be members of Palatine Bethel UD, Job's Daughters. The Mothers club of Prospect DeMolay chapter will serve refreshments following the ceremony.

FIVE members of the Prospect DeMolay chapter will conduct the rites. Richard Liebenow, Mount Prospect, will be installing officer; Jerry Boyd Mount Prospect, installing senior councilor; Lee Bradley, Arlington Heights, installing junior councilor; Harry Stirmell, Mount Prospect, installing marshall; John Liebenow, Mount Prospect, installing senior deacon. Jewish Congregation Celebrates Chanukah

The Jewish holidays of Chanukah ended Sunday. The Beth Tikvah Congregation serving the northwest suburbs celebrated Chanukah, "the festival of lights," with services for children and for families.

Children of the Beth Tikvah religious school celebrated at Rupley school in Elk Grove Village on Sunday. Grades from kindergarten to 10 participated in individual classrooms and later as a body.

THE PARTIES featured lighting of the candles in the menorah (a special candelabrum for eight candles), reciting the ancient blessing, and joining in songs and games.

A Chanukah family service was held for members of the congregation at Twinbrook school, Hoffman Estates, on Friday, Dec. 8. Children of the religious school and their parents attended.

The students of grades six and seven presented a special program. They told the story of Chanukah with words and songs and participated in the blessings and candle lighting ceremonies.

AFTER THE SERVICES, the children received little bags of chocolate coins which follows the tradition of giving Chanukah "gelt" (money) during this festival.

Chanukah began at sundown on December 2 and, according to the Jewish calendar, is the 25th day of the month of Kislev.

The eight day festival originated when Judah Maccabee and his followers defeated their Syrian oppressors and marched into Jerusalem.

When the temple was cleansed of all pagan objects, the Jews found only one small vial of oil that had not been profaned. However, the vial contained only enough oil to burn for one day and it would take eight days to prepare new oil.

MINDFUL OF THIS, the oil was placed in a menorah and set in its place near the Holy Ark.

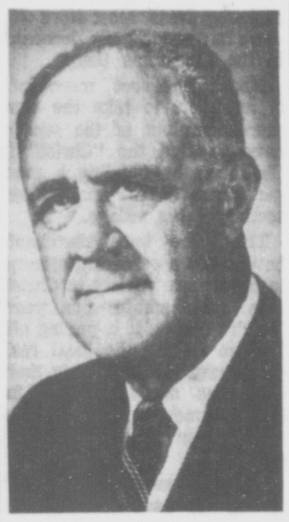
Miraculously, the oil burned for eight days and nights.

On the first night of Chanukah, a candle is placed in a menorah. On each night following another candle is added until there are eight candles lit on the last night of Chanukah.

It is traditional for Jews to serve latkes, a potato pancake, and also play games with the dreidel, a small top-like toy that spins. Songs are sung, including the traditional festival hymn "Rock of Ages."

Teenagers Require Spiritual Training

Gov. Frank B. Morrison of Nebraska stressed the necessity for teenage training in a speech given last Saturday night at the Young Life banquet held at the Park Ridge country club.



GOV. MORRISON

An estimated 300 persons attended the dinner, held to introduce parents to the purposes of the Young Life campaign.

In his remarks, Gov. Morrison pointed out Young Life's contributions during this important time in history, and stressed the importance of Christian training in developing future citizens and leaders for our nation.

SLIDES AND movies were used to describe the Young Life campaign, which is a non-denominational Christian program for high school youths. Trained staff leaders now conduct 21 clubs in the Chicago area, and new clubs are planned for several more communities.

Persons interested in learning more about the Young Life campaign should contact William Starr, Midwest regional director, 9 S. Fairview, Park Ridge. (B8

Q. Is it considered in good taste to mix jewelry — for instance, to wear gold earrings and a pearl necklace?

A. This is quite all right. Not every one can hope to have all her jewlry matching,

Suburban Facilities Offer Good Selection

THURS., DEC. 14, 1961

by MELDA LYNN

Christmas — back in our own home town — seems to be the chant of northwest suburban shoppers.

Residents in many years past have felt it necessary to join the crushing mobs of Christmas shoppers many miles away from home in order to get just the right gift for Jannie — or Bobbie — or Grandma.

Today they are finding they can do better, see more, and retain the true spirit of Christmas, by staying right in their own back yards, so to speak — doing their Christmas shopping in the stores of their own village merchants.

The suburbs are glowing with Christmas. Merchants, either individually or jointly through their Chambers of Commerce, have made special preparations for their home town folks—so they can enjoy the Christmas season.

THEY HAVE put up Christmas decorations and are having Christmas Carols played in the shopping areas.

They have gone farther than that, however. They are seeing to it that the children can have happy visits with Santa Claus, at home, and not have to spend hours getting to Santa, through travel and hours standing in line.

As an example, in Arlington Heights, Santa spends his alotted time by going through the streets of the shopping area, in and out of the stores, in an effort to see that all children can find him, and whisper their most secret wishes in his ear.

HE'S GOING to make the window at Hagenbrings one of his stopping places.

This is true in other suburbs as well. Santa arrived in Wheeling this past weekend. He's going to be seeking out the youngsters in the shopping center there.

He'll stop in Mount Prospect, Palatine, Rolling Meadows, Elk Grove Village and all the other villages where he knows the kids will be wanting to see him.

SOMETIMES his appearances have been sponsored by merchants' associations or Chambers of Commerce. Where there are no organizations of that type, the individual merchants are making sure he is around to see the children.

In Rolling Meadows he has a special castle where he holds Christmas wish court.

The suburban merchants, most of them being suburban residents themselves, know what it's like to have little ones at home and how hard it is for mom to get a sitter while she goes to see Santa.

THE ROLLING Meadows shopping center merchants have told mom, "come on down, do your shopping here, and we'll see that the children are taken care of."

The Rolling Meadows shopping center merchants are providing free baby sitting services. A special room in the lower level of the Bank of Rolling Meadows has been fixed up as a playroom for the youngsters. A registered nurse is on duty during the hours the room is open.

Mothers can leave the kiddies there every day, Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. until noon and from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m.

THE ARLINGTON Heights Chamber of commerce is providing a sitter service of another kind. The Chamber is sponsoring free movies for the children at Arlington Theatre next Saturday, Dec. 16.

Santa is going to be on hand to greet the kids as they go into the movies and will assure mom and dad that they can go about their Santa business, free from worry about what the kids will be "up to" while they are shopping in Arlington Heights.

There will be three shows—one from 8:30 until 10:30 a.m.; another from 11 a.m. until 1 p.m. and one from 1:30 p.m. until 3:30 p.m.

WALTER KIRCHHOFF, insurance agent in Mount Prospect, although he doesn't expect mom and dad to do their Christmas shopping by buying insurance policies, does have the Christmas spirit.

He provides free movies at the Prospect Theatre for the children so that their parents can have free time to shop in the stores of his friends and neighbors in Mount Prospect.

Tickets must be obtained at his office, 25 S. Main st. Show times are at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m., Saturday, Dec. 23. "The Seventh Voyage of Sinbad" will be the featured film.

CHRISTMAS decorations in the village show that the merchants are willing and anxious to bring Christmas to the sub urban shoppers, without them having to trek to Chicago or miles away. Most villages have decorations throughout the shopping areas. Most store windows have been gaily decorated in the Christmas theme.

Mount Prospect merchants, in an effort to take the commercialism out of the season, have stressed the "Christ" in Christmas by building a manger scene at the main intersection of the village.

The home town merchants have made a concerted attempt to have more variety in Christmas merchandise this year. They're finding it is paying off. They're finding the local residents have the answer to their Christmas needs, through increased merchandise, decorations, lower prices and added services.

IT GIVES everybody a "good feeling" to have Christmas at home.

Tax dollars are kept home, merchants are prospering and a good deal of the exhausting hustle and bustle of a Christmas "too commercialized" is being taken out of the season, right in our own home towns.

JACK KEEFER, Mount Prospect pharmacist and chairman of the Christmas decoration committee of the Chamber of Commerce made the above manger scene which is at the corner of Northwest hwy. and Main st. Keefer, like most other suburban merchants, is trying to put Christ back into Christmas through appropriate decorations and by trying to make Christmas shopping a pleasure in village shopping areas. Keefer is shown as he placed the manger figures in the authentic Christmas story scene. (B8

Delinquent Tax Collection Progress Cited for County

The Cook county board's committee on delinquent taxes reported to Board President John J. Duffy this week that it has collected $2,813,069 in delinquent real estate taxes during the past year.

This brought to $162,131,061 the amount of delinquent taxes collected by the committee since its formation on May 1, 1942, according to Commissioner Frank Bobrytzke, committee chairman.

By its actions, the committee, with the cooperation of the state's attorney and the judges of the Circuit and Superior courts, has restored to the active tax-paying rolls 314,895 parcels of delinquent property during this span of nearly 20 years, the Bobrytzke report showed.

AFTER RECEIVING the report, President Duffy said:

"The committee is to be congratulated for its outstanding achievement. In fact, it has worked so diligently and so successfully that it soon will have cleared up most of the delinquencies."

William G. Donne, county board secretary who prepares the tax cases for consideration by the committee, said this week that only 40,000 parcels remain upon which collectible taxes are delinquent.

This does not include an estimated 20,000 tiny, odd-shaped properties, known as "slivers," ownership claims for which have been abandoned because few have commercial value.

Many of these "slivers," Donne explained, were created when rights-of-way were acquired for railroads and highways which run at angles. Some are a foot or two wide at one end and pointed at the other. Under the law, such parcels must be taxed from year to year, a process that costs an estimated $15 yearly per parcel.

"The taxing of these abandoned and seemingly worthless scraps of land is a costly process that should be eliminated," Commissioner Bobrytzke said this week. "There is nothing our tax committee can do about these 'slivers,' but I understand that under a 1955 amendment to the state revenue act, the state's attorney can ask for a public sale of such properties.

"If there should be no bidder in such cases, the county, itself, can bid in these properties at next to nothing, thereby acquiring ownership; and since county-owned property is not taxable, the cost of taxing these properties could be eliminated.

"If at some future date a buyer could be found, such as an adjoining property owner, the county could sell the parcel, thereby increasing the size of the buyer's original holding. There then would be but one tax bill for the combined properties."

THE COMMITTEE'S tax procedure is to institute a friendly tax foreclosure suit against a property upon which unpaid taxes and penalties far exceed the worth of the property.

When the property is put up for sale, the equity holder bids an amount previously agreed upon by the committee. The bid on vacant properties must be not less than 40 per cent of the principal tax for 1946 and prior years, plus all taxes and penalties for 1947 and succeeding years. The bids now average 43.4 per cent.

Owners of improved properties must pay all of the taxes for 1946 and prior years, with penalties waived, and in addition must pay the full amount of both taxes and penalties since 1946. Of the 3,164 properties sold through such proceedings during the past year, only 90 had buildings upon them.

Most of the delinquencies extended back to 1928, the year of the general reassessment which delayed payments more than two and one-half years. In 15 per cent of the cases, however, the delinquencies extended even beyond that date, some going back as far as 1878, the report showed.

AT THE TIME of the committee's formation, real estate taxes in Cook county were approximately 30 per cent delinquent. The delinquency for 1958 and prior years now is only approximately one-half of one per cent. Collections as of December 1 on 1959 taxes amounted to 98.6480 per cent, and on 1960 taxes, 97.6431 per cent.

In addition to Chairman Bobrytzke, the tax committee consists of Commissioners Seymour F. Simon, Edward M. Sneed, Jerry Dolezal and John Mackler Jr. (B8

After Six Terms in Congress

Marguerite Stitt Church Not to Run Again

Reached by Phone At United Nations

by BRUCE LADD

"I thought the whole situation over very carefully and simply determined now was the time to step aside," Rep. Marguerite Stitt Church (R., Evanston) told Paddock Publications this week.

Mrs. Church, who has represented the 13th congressional district in Washington for the past 11 years, took her constituents by surprise last Thursday when she announced she would not seek re-election in 1962.

Reached by telephone Tuesday in New York City where she is serving by appointment of President Kennedy as a member of the U.S. delegation to the United Nations General Assembly, Mrs. Church said her decision to retire is final.

She made up her mind not to run again early this month, just prior to her public announcement of December 7, she said.

"A new district has now been formed," the 69-year-old legislator explained. "It is appropriate that voters of the district elect a new congressman who can begin at once to build a long period of service and seniority in the Congress."

MRS. CHURCH

A BIT of nostalgia crept into the GOP leader's voice when she spoke of the quarter century that she and her late husband, Ralph W., represented the 13th district.

Her husband was first elected to Congress in 1935 and served with only a two-year break until his death in 1950. Mrs. Church handily won the Republican district committee's support to succeed him. Her election has been routine ever since.

When asked to cite her most significant legislative achievements, Mrs. Church mentioned her nine-year membership on the House Foreign Affairs committee and her continued stand on behalf of economy and efficiency in government.

She also pointed to legislation she introduced which implemented recommendations of the Hoover Commission, a body appointed by former President Harry S. Truman to examine government efficiency.

"I have never found that being a woman hampered my ability to be effective," Mrs. Church responded in answer to a question. "I have sought to act as a 'congressman,' not as a woman."

She indicated she will play no role in choosing her successor, but volunteered her eventual spport to the Republican winner of next year's April 10 primary election.

"THE FACT that I shall not be campaigning will additionally mean that I can and will devote all my time and strength for the next 12 months to the needs of the present 13th district and to the tremendous problems and decisions that will confront the Congress in the coming session," Mrs. Church said.

As a result of last month's reapportionment of Illinois' congressional districts from 25 to 24, the complexion of the 13th district was changed considerably.

The newly aligned district no longer includes Lake, McHenry and Boone counties or Maine township. It now consists of Chicago's 50th ward and the Cook county townships of Barrington, Hanover, Palatine, Schaumburg, Wheeling, Elk Grove, Northfield, New Trier, Niles and Evanston.

The vivacious Mrs. Church, considered "unbeatable" in her district, is a Wellesley college graduate and holder of a master's degree in political science from Columbia university. For many years she served as an active assistant to her husband when he was in Congress.

AT A luncheon held recently in her honor by northwest suburban Young Republican leaders, Mrs. Church observed the 13th district "has been and will continue to be a 'treasure chest' of Republicanism."

She said Tuesday that she will retain an active interest in the GOP after her current term is concluded. (B8

Potential Successors Jockey for Position

Graham, Burks Rated Leading Candidates Now

Congresswoman Marguerite Stitt Church' announced intention not to run for renomination to Congress has prompted a flurry of activity among 13th congressional district Republicans seeking to succeed her.

Frontrunners this week were acknowledged to be State Sen. John A. Graham (R., Barrington) and State Rep. Marion E. Burks (R., Evanston). Both have indicated a willingness to be "drafted" for the office.

Township committeemen of the 13th district are expected to huddle next week in an attempt to determine which of several prospective candidates their regular GOP organizations will support.

IT IS A foregone conclusion that the "organization" candidate will go into the April 10 primary election with a decided advantage.

Other names drawing early speculation as possible candidates are:

—Robert Galvin of Skokie, president of Motorola, Inc.;

—State Sen. W. Russell Arrington of Evanston, an attorney;

—State Rep. Frances L. Dawson of Evanston, and

—Edward L. Gordy of Evanston, communications coordinator in the research and development department of the American Oil Co., who reportedly announced his candidacy Monday.

ACTIVELY seeking support for his candidacy for the Republican state central committee is Ralph Church of Evanston, son of the incumbent member of the House of Representatives.

Another highly touted name tossed into the central committee ring with increasing frequency is that of Alex MacArthur of Barrington, a real estate and insurance broker, who has served in advisory capacities to former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Sen. Graham, and William H. Rentschler, candidate for U.S. Senate in 1960.

In a statement to Paddock Publications Tuesday, Sen. Graham said, "I appreciate the enthusiasm expressed on my behalf, but I have not yet made a decision as to becoming a candidate for Congress.

"Right now I am intending to follow through on my announced desire to seek re-election to the state senate as a representatiev of the 3rd senatorial district." (B8

Observe Care in Christmas Trees

The Christmas tree tradition is a wonderful part of the holiday season, but, Dr. John B. Hall, director, Cook County department of public health, said, "some precautions must be observed."

The Christmas holiday season is traditionally a time of peace on earth, good will toward men. "Let this thought guide you throughout the preparations for the holidays," Dr. Hall continued.

Buy a tree no bigger than you need. The larger the tree, the larger the fire hazard. Use nonflammable decorations. Decorations are a potential hazard to small children. Young children often want to touch, smell and taste colorful decorations.

USE ELECTRIC lights only and be sure to check for frayed cords, faulty sockets or loose connections. If you choose a metal tree use off-the-tree lighting for a safer and more beautiful illumination.

"Remember too," Dr. Hall warned, "less obvious but equally hazardous are some of the common holiday decorations such as bubbling lights, holly, mistletoe, 'snow' sprays and fireplace color crystals. Each of these decorations is mildly to violently poisonous. Flameproof all combustible decorations."

Toys of all shapes and forms will be peeking from beneath Christmas trees on Christmas Day, but, Dr. Hall asks, "how much thought will be given to how safe they are. A toy perfectly safe for an 8 year old may be quite unsuitable for a toddlers. Buy toys that suit the child's age." .B8

Cockrell Coffee service owns and operates the Red Rooster Automatic cafeterias and a full line of vending machines in eight communities in the Arlington Heights area. (B8

Annual Meet Attended by 6 Teachers

The chairman of the social study department at Prospect high school described the recent annual meeting of the National Council for Social Studies as "stimulating."

So stimulating did Miss Florence Elfeld find the meeting that she said, "I felt as though I were back in college—the speakers were excellent and the panels thought-provoking."

FIVE MEMBERS of the Prospect social science department attended meetings at the council in addition to Miss Elfeld. The teachers were Thomas Rife, Carl Rose, Garlin Berrier, Terry Bullock and Allan Otto.

Among the major presentations of the council were "Educational Implication of Automation" and "New Viewpoints in Teaching History." A question-and-answer period on Russia was another conference highlight.

Language Club Parties Set

Christmas parties, in the foreign tradition, will be a feature of the language clubs at Prospect high school this week.

Another party, by the Future Nurses club, will hold to an even more traditional Christmas custom — that of creating gifts for others in adverse circumstances.

The high school Spanish club will hold a Spanish Christmas party December 18 after regular school hours. Highlight of the party will be the breaking of the pinata, a decorated container filled with sweets.

BLINDFOLDED party guests will attempt to break the pinata with a wood bat, while the container, on a sliding rope, is moved to keep it out of the "target area." The successful breaking will mean a scramble for goodies on the floor.

Singing, games and Christmas music are included in the entertainment for the party open to all Spanish club members and others who "Habla el Espanol."

The French club will hold a typical French party under the supervision of sponsors Robert Rouseey and Mrs. Gayle Coonen. Seniors of the club also will attend a French movie and dine in a French restaurant in Chicago during the Christmas holidays.

THE FRENCH CLUB Christmas observance will continue until January with the traditional French celebration "La Fete Du Roi," the return of the King. This celebration signifies the return of the wise men and is held at the close of the Christmas season.

The Future Nurses club will hold its Christmas party today, Dec. 14, with a "grab bag" for members and a project of decorating cups and saucers for patients at Magnus Farm.

Magnus Farm has been the club's main project for several years. Club members visit the old-people's home each Monday after school accompanied by a member of the Mount Prospect Nurses club. At the home the girls read, visit and entertain the patients.

Other trips for the Nurses club include a visit to Elgin State hospital and the Hinsdale Health museum.

For Servicemen

Red Cross Offers Free Recordings

"There is less than one week left to get your serviceman the perfect Christmas gift — a free Red Cross recording of your own voice," says Mrs. George Bochum, 202 S. Edward, Mount Prospect, local public information representative.

The Red Cross' annual "Voice from Home" program will conclude on December 20.

EACH CHRISTMAS the organization makes it possible for local relatives and friends of servicemen to make free recordings at the north Cook county regional Red Cross office, 615 Davis st., Evanston. This year's program has been in progress since December 7.

The records, mailing envelopes and service of "cutting" the record are provided free of charge. Mailing of the record is completed by the individual sending it.

Trained Red Cross volunteers are on duty at the office each week day to operate the recording equipment.

THERE IS enough room on each of the 33 1/3 records to have each member of the family say a few words in greeting. The three-minute message may include personal greetings, Christmas carols or anything else that will remind the serviceman of home during the holidays.

Appointments for recordings can be made by calling Red Cross at UNiversity 4-9000. (B8

MAYOR JOHN WOODS, (right) Arlington Heights, drew the winning name in Roto Mercury's "Week of Fun for 2" contest. Richard Roto (left), owner of Roto Mercury-Comet Sales, 1410 E. Northwest hwy., Arlington Heights, announced the winners as Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Schalk, 15 Leon Ln., Prospect Heights. When called to be notified of their good fortune, Mr. and Mrs. Schalk were away from home, on their way to Roto's to pick up their new automobile. Besides the trip to Florida and a week's stay at the Aztec Resort Motel, the Schalks received a $200 cash bonus that was awarded if the winner were a new car buyer. No purchase was necessary to enter this contest. (ACM

'Y' Inducts Girls As Junior Leaders

Twelve girls from the northwest suburbs have the distinction of being charter members of the Junior Leaders and Junior Instructors clubs of Northwest Suburban YMCA. They are the first group of this type to be inducted at the new 'Y'.

In the group are Nancy Turcotte, Janet Hughes, Jessie Haynes and Susan Courtney, all of Mount Prospect, and Jayne Wittenburg of Palatine. The others in the clubs are from Des Plaines.

THE PURPOSE of these two girls' clubs is to study and receive training in the field of physical education, to render volunteer service to the YMCA by assisting with activity groups and to interpret the purpose and philosophy of the YMCA to other members by personal example.

Miss Helen M. Coryell, women and and girls program director at the local 'Y' is in charge of the two groups. The Junior Leaders club is for girls 12 and 13 years of age, and the Junior Instructors for high school girls.

Any girls in this area who are interested in this type of activity and service may call Miss Coryell at the YMCA, CY 6-3376, for more information (AMP

'Y' Women Selling Yule Fruit Cakes

The Women's auxiliary of Northwest Suburban YMCA still has fruit cakes on sale for holiday gift giving. The 2-pound festively decorated fruit cakes come in attractive tins to preserve their freshness. The price is $3.70 plus tax.

The fruit cakes may be purchased at the front desk of the YMCA or by calling Mrs. Earl Ogier, CL 3-5791.

Proceeds from the sale will go toward the pledge of $5,000 which the Women's auxiliary has made to the YMCA for its snack bar equipment. (AMP

VIRGINIA TERRACE

A welcome is extended to new Terrace residents, John and Arlene Lagershausen, who, with their year old daughter, Suzanne, moved into 1244 N. Chicago last week. The Lagershausens are former Evanston residents. John, who is in charge of public relations for the National Retail Furniture association in Chicago, enjoys golf and bowling in addition to sharing an interest in bridge with Arlene, who, in turn, finds sewing fun as a hobby. They are members of St. James parish.

The second set of newcomers to the Terrace are also formerly of Evanston, Barbara and Roy Henning, who are now making their home at 1232 N. Chicago. Roy is production supervisor at the Leo Burnett advertising agency in Chicago. Barbara reports that she enjoys bridge as a pastime.

Suzanne, daughter of Mary Louise and Dieter Burkhardt, 1507 Clarendon, celebrated her seventh birthday last Saturday with a trip to Rapps for a special treat with two friends, Patricia Coleman and Coleen Coleman. The snow prevented them from making a proposed trip to Chicago's loop. Suzanne's grandmother, Mrs. Mae Mammoser, of Chicago, joined the family for a birthday dinner held Saturday night.

THE BABYSITTING club met recently at the home of Grace Rogers, 1313 N. Chicago. Members present to catch up on their bookkeeping and neighborhood news, plus enjoying the refreshments, were Betty Gumz, Jo Rozdalovsky, Marion Nielsen, Adele Yore and Marcy Micek.

Sunday afternoon a birthday dinner was held in honor of Kathleen, daughter of Fred and Mary Maybee, 1251 N. Wilke. Present to help extinguish her four candles were sister Debra, brothers, Michael and Timmy, and guests from Kenosha, Wis., grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Kreuscher, and uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Kreuscher.

Another "birthday girl" honored Sunday was Susan, daughter of Bob and Ellen Wiley, 1329 N. Race, who was 10. Present at the family dinner, in addition to sisters Mary Anne, Patricia and Debbie, and brother, Michael, was her grandmother, Mrs. A. Wiley of Elmhurst.

Present at that exciting Chicago Bears-Cleveland Browns game in Chicago Sunday were Jack and Dianne Trees, 1226 N. Race, along with friends, Mr. and Mrs. George Snelgrove of Glencoe. Following the game they all returned to the Trees for a late dinner.

FRIENDS AND neighbors of Don and Pat Kieffer, formerly of 1232 N. Chicago, are happy to hear the Kieffers' recent move has taken them only as far as Palatine.

A 3-part birthday celebration was held for Cathy, daughter of Vivian and Robert Weber, 1508 W. Oakton, last week. A week ago Sunday Cathy was honored at a family celebration attended by brothers Bob, Bruce and Mark and her grandmothers, Mrs. Yvonne McAvoy and Mrs. Rose Weber, and her aunts Mrs. Vivian Jones and Miss June Weber, all of Chicago. On Wednesday a luncheon party was held for Cathy, who was 4, and guests Peggy and Raymond Brown, Lisa and David Yates and Mike Stein. Last Sunday Cathy was again honored at a family dinner attended by her godfather, Mr. John Torretto and wife, of Arlington Heights.

Darrell and Francine Elder, 1334 N. Chicago, enjoyed entertaining as houseguests this week Francine's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Pool of Springfield.

A combination luncheon and bowling party was held recently to celebrate the ninth birthday of Kathleen, daughter of Eileen and Raymond Brown, 1504 W. Oakton. Present, in addition to her sister Marianne, were friends Leslie Yates, Ann Frisbie and Eileen Dunne.

Susan, daughter of Chuck and Dorothy Catlin, 1609 W. Olive, celebrated her seventh birthday last Sunday. Party guests included sister, Virginia, and friends Mary Jo Rozdalovsky, Jill Rix, Karen Cokash, Kristine Schuman, Lynn Sanberg and Margaret Manos.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON a family birthday dinner was held in honor of Robert, son of Raymond and Jeanne Parks, 1259 N. Wilke, who was 8. Present were his grandmother, Mrs. George Liepitz, aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. John Heidemann, and cousins Sally, Billy and Linda, all of Elgin. Sisters Nancy, Susan and Judith also helped Robert celebrate.

Monday afternoon a surprise birthday coffee was held for Alice Eisenhuth at her home, 1321 N. Chicago. Hosted by Barbara Wiederhold, guests included Marcy Micek, Donna Garland, Mag Corley and Shirle Husted.

Saturday afternoon a birthday party was held for Roxanne, daughter of Bill and Elaine Petrucci, 1115 N. Wilke, who was 7. Guests included playmates Susan Shields, Adele Thompson, Cindy Ross, Loni Larson, Dawn Dolejs, Kim Vogtritter and former Terrace resident, Robin Mells.

Last Wednesday night Alison, daughter of Joan and Warren Blackburn, 1326 N. Race, was honored on her eighth birthday at a family party. Guests included her brother, Briggs, sister, Kris, and cousins, Robin, Holly, Keith and Dale Anderson of Palatine. The following Friday Alison had as her dinner and overnight guests, Valerie Krieman and Nancy Mayer.

ALICE AND Richard Brown, 1413 N. Chicago, recently attended the wedding of Richard's brother, Jim Brown, to Miss Margaret Rieger at the First Methodist Church of Arlington Heights. The wedding reception was held at Elliott's Pine lodge in Skokie.

A 2-part birthday celebration was held last week for Rosemary, daughter of George and Myrtle Lilly, 1426 N. Race, who was 5. A family dinner party was held last Thursday and attended by brothers George, Francis and John, sisters Susan and Mary Elizabeth, and godfather Mr. James Sheber of Chicago. The second phase was held Saturday noon with a luncheon party attended by playmates Cindy and Bernie Brouchard, Mike McCarns, April Kearney, Laurie Mandarino and Dawn Amann.

Last Saturday night a birthday celebration was held for Jean, daughter of William and Jean Guderley, 1228 N. Yale, who was 16. The theme Jean and a dozen of her girl friends followed was to deduct a decade from their ages and dress and play party games usual for "little" girls. Her mother reports a hilarious time was had by all. (A

Fifteen Pass Sergeant Test

About 50 per cent of the applicants who took tests early this month for patrolman and radio dispatcher on the Arlington Heights police department passed the written test.

Fifteen patrolmen took the test for sergeant and all passed, but Police Chief L. W. Calderwood said complete results are not yet tabulated. (A

Arlington Greens

House guest of Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Polvere, 1115 N. Beverly lane, since the latter part of November has been grandmother, Mrs. William O'Brien of Hyde Park, Mass. Her return home this weekend will end the 3-week visit, which included getting acquainted with her newest granddaughter, Linda Jane, born December 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Lundell, 1163 N. Hickory, have announced the birth of their first child, a son, Eric Scott, born December 5 in Belmont Community hospital, Chicago, weighing 8 pounds. Grandparents are Mrs. Lemma Schick of Evanston, Dr. Andrew Schick, Holger Lundell and Mrs. Francis Guill, all of Chicago.

Moving from the Greens last Thursday were Mr. and Mrs. Otto Weltin who lived at 1164 N. Hickory for the past seven years. Los Angeles is where they plan to reside.

ALSO MOVING from the Greens on Friday of this week are Mr. and Mrs. Whitney Jansen who lived at 1201 N. Hickory for the past eight years. Washington, D.C., is their destination.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Haldeman, 716 E. Oakton, were among the 30 couples, fellow supervisory employees of Krafts, who attended the dinner dance at the Sherman hotel last Saturday evening.

Ten-year-old Joyce Gran, 1146 N. Hickory, celebrated her birthday last Saturday with an afternoon party. Guests to enjoy the ballerina decorated cake and decor were Bonnie and Heather Gerrard, Kathy Josetti, Laura Reed and Joann Lalish.

Mark Puccetti, 1105 N. Douglas, celebrated his fourth birthday last Saturday with a luncheon party. Guests besides his brother, Alan, included Jamie Kushner, Lynne Olson, David Leverick and cousin, Joshua Kutchin of Evanston.

Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Bailey of 627 E. Clarendon, hosted an employees' Christmas party last Saturday evening. After dinner at Gunnells the 40 guests gathered at the Bailey household for games, singing and refreshments.

To observe their birthdays, Mrs. Stew Sage, 700 E. Oakton, and neighbor, Fred Mensch, and their spouses "dinnered out" last Saturday evening

New residents in the Greens are John and Catherine Freismuth who moved to 620 E. Clarendon on December 1 from St. Clair Shores in Michigan. Their children are John, 12. Cathy, 9, Karen, 6, and Susan, 3. Mr. Freismuth is a product engineer with Sterling Automotive in Elk Grove. (A

It's got the "go" Chicago goes for...Buick!

New shape on the skyline... The face of Chicago is changing these days. And among the most pleasing new sights on Chicago streets is the 1962 Buick Special. Even though its exterior dimensions are trimmed to today's traffic conditions, it still enjoys the long, easy lines of a big car. And the big-car look is only part of it. There's big-car performance in either the Special's Fireball Aluminum V8 engine or the amazing Fireball V6 (the only V6 in today's U. S. cars). You get big-car ride and big-car luxury, too, all at far less than big-car prices. Look into it. Buick Special '62

something NEW IN 62

This Christmas give her a 32-minute vacation from dishes every day . . .

Give her an electric dishwasher

Let's face it—most wives don't like doing dishes any better than you do. That's why the gift that saves your wife more than one-half hour of dishwashing drudgery every day is a gift she'll appreciate every day for years to come.

NEW PORTABLES GET DISHES CLEANER THAN YOU CAN WASH THEM BY HAND

Today's dishwashers (portables, too) preheat wash and rinse water to grease-cutting temperatures hotter than even gloved hands can stand. Automatically the dishes, glassware and silver come out sparkling, hygienically clean. Roll-around portables are ideal for apartments because they need no permanent plumbing connections, roll out of the way when not in use.

BEAUTIFUL BUILT-INS AUTOMATICALLY DO ALL THE DAY'S DISHES AT ONE TIME

Big capacity built-ins even get pots and pans shining with a gentle scraping beforehand. And you'll never again see dust, lint or dish towel streaks because drying is done only in pure-clean electrically heated air. More than a great gift, a built-in dishwasher is a good way to begin if you've been planning to modernize your kitchen.

You'll have more electric dishwasher models to choose from if you see your appliance dealer soon.

Install Charter Members of Lodge

Enrollment ceremonies for 82 charter members of the Prospect Heights Lodge 604, Loyal Order of the Moose, took place November 26 at the Prospect Heights Community church.

Installation of the following officers also took place: governor, Joseph Gorski, junior governor, Ralph Garafolo, prelate, Erwin Steuber, secretary, Gerald Steilen, treasurer, John V. Clark, junior past governor, William McGrath, sergeant at arms, Edward Mauter, and trustees, Robert Gillespie, Arthur Biringer and Joseph Haugh.

The Prospect Heights lodge will serve members from Mt. Prospect, Arlington Heights, Palatine, Wheeling, Rolling Meadows and other neighboring areas.

THE LODGE plans to meet the first and third Tuesday of each month at 1 N. Elmhurst rd., Prospect Heights.

A children's Christmas party has been planned for Saturday, Dec. 16, for all children of members of the lodge.

Several dances are currently being planned although the locations have not as yet been named.

The lodge is still interested in obtaining more memberships and interested parties may phone Gerald Steilen at FL 8-2402 or the lodge hall, 259-4279.

Q. When eating olives at the table, is it proper to put the entire olive into the mouth and, after the meat has been eaten off, remove the olive from the mouth?

A. No. The olive should be held in the fingers and nibbled off the stone.

Churchwomen Plan Luncheon Meeting

The monthly meeting of the Women's association of the First Presbyterian church in Arlington Heights will be held December 20 in Fellowship hall. Luncheon will be served at 12:30 by members of circle 8 with Mrs. W. D. Musser and Mrs. Gene Baughman in charge.

Reservations for the luncheon and meeting can be made through the church circles.

During the luncheon hour, an instrumental group from Prospect high school will furnish musical selections.

FOLLOWING the luncheon and business meeting of the association, Mrs. Herman Berthold will install new officers of the association, who will be taking office in January for a period of two years.

The Christmas worship program, arranged by Mrs. W. Lorne Box Sr., will be an exposition of scripture, poetry and music, with the theme entitled "He is Set for a Sign." Women of the church portraying this theme will be voice of scripture, Mrs. John McComb; voice of poetry, Mrs. Robert Tindall; and Mary, Mrs. R. E. Reininga.

The musical portion of this program has been arranged by Mrs. Donald Hartung, musical secretary, with Mrs. Earl Auge, organist, Mrs. Richard Dunlop, violinist, Mrs. Raymond H. Hohman, soprano, and Earl Auge soloist as participants.

Democrats Give Toys To Children

Wheeling township Democratic precinct captains have willingly dug deep into their pockets to purchase Christmas toys for youngsters at the Dixon, Ill., State School for Retarded Children.

Jack E. Delinsky, 73 W. Manchester, Wheeling, proposed the donations at a meeting of the Wheeling Township Regular Democratic Organization held December at the group's headquarters, 111 E. Davis st., Arlington Heights.

All precinct captains were present at the meeting presided over by James Stavros, township committeeman. The group voted unanimously in favor of the project. (ACM

Q. Would it be proper for us to send a wedding gift of money to some newlyweds who live in distant city?

A. This would be quite all right.

THE MIRROR TEST
by ED LANDWEHR

Because we service nine out of ten TV sets right in the living room, we can't help but notice the poor setting of some of the television sets.

Holding a mirror in front of your TV screen is a simple test that will give you answers to light reflections. If light from lamps or windows is seen in your mirror, then these reflections will hit your screen and cause undue eye strain and spoil your TV picture. However, your TV room shouldn't be dark; better to have an even illumination with no sharp contrasts.

We're glad to assist you with your TV arranging when you phone LANDWEHR TV, 218 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights. You'll also find that by phoning CLearbrook 5-0700 for electronic services that you'll be money ahead. We do the job right the first time at a reasonable cost.

After a year of being at the helm of the Arlington Heights Elks auxiliary, Nina Hoym will retire as president, today, at the Elks Christmas party and installation of officers. The annual affair to be held this year at Henrici's O'Hare Inn will be attended by Nina's neighbors, Helen Kasper, Vera Mell and Eunice Behm. Luncheon and cards will be enjoyed after the serious business of installing the new officers is completed.

Nina and Norm Hoym were also present at another Elks affair this past week, when they were among the Elk members at a cocktail buffet supper dance Sunday evening at the Salt Creek Country club.

Christmas vacation has already started for one college student. Bill Richter, junior at Denver university, came home Saturday and isn't due back at classes till after New Year's. He is studying Real Estate in Denver's school of business administration.

BILL'S ARRIVAL home coincided perfectly to bid his Dad, Bill Sr., happy birthday on Saturday. Ten friends from Des Plaines and Park Ridge gathered at the Richter's N. Dryden home that evening for dinner and cards along with birthday greetings for Mr. Richter.

Ice storms in New York, that grounded air transportation, made Mrs. Eldon Glover's brother-in-law, John Stubb's, arrival on Monday slightly uncertain. Mr. Stubbe, who is a math professor at Clark university, Worcester, Mass., flew in to attend a National Science convention in Chicago, and dined with the Glovers Monday evening before the convention actually convened.

Dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Glover in their N. Hickory ave. home last week Monday were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Theis, long-time Douglas ave. residents who recently moved to San Francisco.

THE WEATHER a week ago Saturday prevented Marie and Ed Murphy from attending the cast and crew party given by the Des Plaines Theatre Guild after their final performance of Mary Stuart, in which Mr. Murphy played a lead part. They brought their daughter home after the show in the almost inpenetrable fog and decided it was too great a risk to start out again for the Highland House where the party was being given.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cassidy of N. Hickory, along with friends Mr. and Mrs. Guyer from Franklin Park, braved Sunday's biting cold to attend the Bear-Cleveland football game. The Bears' late-in-the-game victory made them forget the cold somewhat. The two couples enjoyed dinner out after the game.

At the Arlington high school Christmas concert Sunday afternoon, Suzanne Anderson was accompanist to the freshman girls' chorus when they sang "There's a Song in the Air" and "Bring a Torch, Jeannette Isabella."

BEFORE ARRIVING home for the Christmas holidays, the Jack Andersons' daughter Dawne, will sing with a small ensemble at Oklahoma college for Women. They will present "Christmas Nightingale" as a feature of nativity carols to be presented by the Glee club as a part of the 38th annual Christmas Candlelight Service. The glee club will give three performances, one on Friday and two next Sunday. (A broker, not developer, and that the land eventually will be developed by someone else who may have completely different ideas about its use than those presented by the petitioners.

Schlickman said this would be the first time the village ever annexed and zoned without having a planned developmet to consider, and the annexation should be delayed until more concrete plans were layed before the board to consider, or else all the land should come into the village with an R-1 designation.

ANOTHER point of controversy was the jump across Rand rd. There was a suggestion by Schlickman that Rand rd. now is a natural boundary on the north, and that there are many matters within the present village limits, and to the south which should be taken care of before annexing farther to the north.

Trustee William Moore said he did not agree on arbitrary establishment of Rand rd. as a boundary of the village, and Schlickman replied he did not intend Rand to be a permanent and unflexible boundary, only that areas to the south were more natural for expansion and should be taken care of before taking the jump north.

TRUSTEE William Sauer said one of the areas most highly advantageous to the village is the strip along both sides of Rand rd., which this annexation would either bring into the village or facilitate entry.

Trustee Richard Blantz made the motion that the committee report be approved, along with the stipulations, and a second motion for adoption of the annexation ordinance. The first motion passed 5-1; the second passed 6-1 with Village President John Woods also voting, as required by law. The motion to pass the zoning ordinance passed 5-1.

As recommended, the land was zoned as follows:

THE FOUR 20-acre parcels at the extreme northwest of the strip were designated R-2 single family residential.

The 20.5 and 24-acre parcels east and south of the above and abutting on Arlington Heights rd. were designated R-3 single family residential.

The 56 acres south of the above and across from Pinegate subdivision were zoned R-1 single family residential.

The 16-acre parcel along the utility high line and the 80-acre parcel east and south of there were designated R-3 single family residential.

THE 4-ACRE parcel along the southeast corner of Palatine rd. and Buffalo Grove rd. was designated B-2 business.

The 16-acre parcel south of there along Buffalo Grove rd. was designated R-5 multiple multiple family residential.

The 18-acre tract at the south and reaching to Thomas st. was designated B-3, subject to a restrictive covenant being recorded stipulating that a planned development pursuant to village ordinances be submitted and approved prior to erection of any buildings.

Land not otherwise designated comes into the village as R-1.

AT PLAN commission and village board meetings, residents of Pinegate Highlands had strongly opposed creation of a business classification across State rd. from the subdivision, as petitioners had requested.

This land, in the compromise, was zoned R-1, but there were indications the board would view favorably at a later date proposals for changes to accommodate such uses as office buildings and scientific research laboratories.

This was noted in the report of the special board committee which said: "If the land now zoned R-1 (across from Pinegate) can be rezoned to "O and R" (Office and Research, at present a non-existent classification), a substantial benefit, up to $200,000 in additional tax revenue, will be realized."

The committee recommended that the village attorney proceed with all due haste to complete drafts for two new zoning classifications, the office and research designation and a provisional designation, which would indicate that the zoning for a particular tract is granted subject to approval of a planned development or a plan for the entire tract.

PTA News

NORTH SCHOOL

A program of Christmas music will be presented by fourth and fifth grade students of North school December 19 at 8:15 p.m. in the school auditorium. All parents are urged to attend and participate in group singing with the children. No refreshments will be served.

WINDSOR

The PTA of Windsor school announces the presentation of its annual Christmas program Tuesday, Dec. 19, in the multi-purpose room. The program will begin at 7:30 instead of the usual 8:15 p.m. A group of carols will be sung before and after the performance of two seasonal plays entitled "Holiday for Santa" and "Christmas Snowman."

Cast for the entire presentation is composed of all fifth grade students, and is under the direction of their teachers, Mrs. Annette Minnich, George Jackson and Ronald Gasser. Musical accompaniment for the evening will be provided by Mrs. Avesta Mae White.

RIDGE

New time for Ridge school PTA to begin its December 19 "Buzz Session" is 7:30 p.m. At this meeting, parents join one of six sessions, each with its own group leader, subject and room, to exchange ideas on a wide range of areas.

Subjects submitted by members through questionnaires will be: curriculum, home-school relationships, reports to parents, gifted children, extra-school life and physical fitness. Each group leader will organize the discussion within his group and later report its conclusions to the entire assemblage for reaction. Mr. Hetke will moderate during this part of the meeting, to be held in the multi-purpose room.

THE SIX group leaders will be Bruno Waara, James Randell, David Bone, Clifford Harris, Gerald Chapman and John Molitor. Students of Mr. Paluch's fifth grade will sing Christmas selections to conclude the meeting and Miss Papineau, fourth grade teacher, will accompany them on the piano. Refreshments will be served following the program.

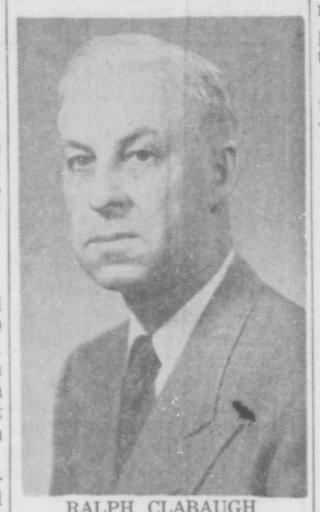
PARK SCHOOL

"Your Child's Intelligence" will be the topic for the program Tuesday night at Park school. A short film strip will answer such questions as "Can the IQ change?" and "What is intelligence?"

Following the film strip, Robert Bright, testing consultant for Arlington Heights public schools, will discuss the testing program here. He will answer questions about both intelligence and achievement tests.

Mrs. Elmer Kirchhoff, program chairman, has planned this evening to offer a change of pace during the holiday season, and hopes that many parents will take time-out for this presentation.

WESTGATE K-5



RALPH CLABAUGH

December 19 at 8:15 p.m, Westgate school will have Ralph E. Clabaugh as guest speaker. Topic of his speech will be "Our Schools Today."

Mr. Clabaugh is school education chairman of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers association. He has been teacher, principal and superintendent of Illinois during entire career, and now superintendent of schools in Arlington Heights.

After the business meeting fifth grade students will sing Christmas carols assisted by Miss Halquist, music teacher.

DRYDEN

The three sections of the fifth grade will present Dryden's December PTA meeting. The program will start at 7:30 p.m. December 19. There will be no refreshments or business meeting. (A it by small margins.

In precincts where there is a good deal of flooding, notably precincts 3, 8, 12, and 20, the issue passed strongly.

In precinct 8, including Arlington Park Manor, which is faced with a major improvement problem in any case, the issue passed 127-53. In precinct 11, which includes part of Ridge Park, and precinct 12, which includes the heart of Ridge Park and Sherwood, the issue passed resoundingly by votes of 114-80 and 180-33, respectively.

OF NOTE WAS the fact that residents of Virginia Terrace, who had appeared cool to the project, did not make their sentiments felt and the issue passed in their precinct, number 13, by a vote of 69-22.

Next step in realizing the improvements contemplated is to secure detailed engineering drawings on the project. The village board Monday night, after canvassing the election, authorized Village Attorney Jack M. Siegel to draw up a tentative contract for engineering services with the firm of Suhr, Peterson, Peterson and Suhr.

Baughman Firm

Board Studies Plan Contract

Renewal of a contract between the Village of Arlington Heights and the city planning firm of Baughman and Associates was delayed Monday night by the village board, with an indication that certain points in relation to the services to be provided should be clarified.

Trustee Richard Glantz moved that the proposed contract be tabled, and his motion was approved with a minimum of discussion, indicating Glantz's desire acceded to by other board members, that the matter be discussed in private.

TRUSTEE Eugene Schlickman, evidently caught by surprise by Glantz's motion, asked the reason for it.

"Personally," Glantz said, "I think there should be a conference with Baughman to see what should be furnished by the consultants and what cooperation should be extended to the board."

He added that he felt it would be better if the matter were discussed privately, rather than from the board floor.

The contract calls for a retainer of $1,200 a year, with the firm advising the village on zoning, land development, annexation, and various related subjects.

THERE HAD been some dissatisfaction expressed recently by board members, although it was not brought up Monday night, when Eugene Baughman did not advise the board concerning a petition for annexation of 371 acres north of the village.

Baughman said at the time he had not been authorized by the board to prepare a study of the area and would not give an offhand opinion, but would, for a consideration, make a study of the area.

Some trustees indicated that since they were required to make a decision on annexation and zoning of the area, Baughman should have given them the benefit of his expert knowledge. (A

Cadillac

Craftsmanship a creed...accuracy a law!

The headline of this advertisement was written almost sixty years ago.

It is the motto of the men who build Cadillac cars—and it has served as proud legend and stern taskmaster for three generations of Cadillac craftsmen.

We selected it to help tell our story today, because we think it still summarizes perfectly the quality and the care—the pride and the precision—that go into the making of every Cadillac motor car.

There is no really adequate way to describe the crafting of a Cadillac. But perhaps this brief recitation of facts might be helpful.

1. The average Cadillac craftsman has more than ten years of experience on the job.

2. One out of every seven people involved in the building of the car is an inspector.

3. Cadillacs are built in only one place—and they are built by men who build nothing else.

4. The car is crafted to unbelievably fine tolerances. Some engine parts, for example, must be accurate to within one ten-thousandth of an inch.

5. Every model undergoes more than 1400 different checks in the course of its assembly.

The list is longer, of course. But however lengthy, it could never be more impressive than the result.

See and drive the 1962 Cadillac soon. We know you'll understand why it has been so widely acclaimed as the Standard of the World.

Stress Need For Program

by HELENE BRISTOL

Leaders of the community junior college survey, now under way in the north-northwest suburban Cook county area, this week admitted to their feeling of "pressing need" for such an institution.

"While the need is obvious, the feasibility of such a public junior college is a real question" stressed Dr. John Spears. Dr. Spears heads the curriculum subcommittee of the survey, is a member of the Niles high school board, is chief control chemist for G. D. Searle and was a former member of the Morton Grove zoning and plan commission.

Dr. Spears' comment came at a press conference for newspapers serving the survey area.

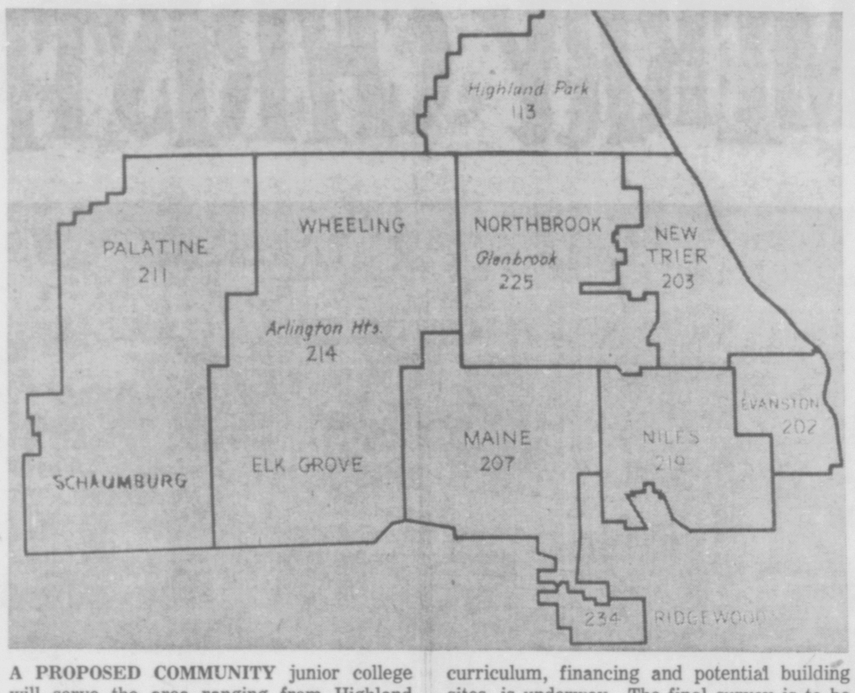
Survey chairman Erie Jones of Palatine, stressed the need for press coverage in keeping the public informed of the progress of the survey, the need for the community junior college and the work being done by the 95 member survey committee.

DR. SPEARS pinpointed the object of the survey, stating that most committee members felt the "need is obvious or we would not be wasting our time working on this matter" but that "we must keep our feet on the ground." "If establishment of a community junior college is not feasible in any way, then we must overlook the need," he emphasized.

A former school administrator, educational consultant and executive vice-president of the Chicago Home Builders association, Erie Jones pointed out that the nine high school districts involved in the survey had never worked individually for a junior college, not because the need was not present but because such a school was not feasible from many standpoints—financial support, sufficient enrollment for broad curriculum, tax burden on the individual community.

Jones stated that by including all nine high school districts in the proposed community junior college area the cost to individual taxpayers would be minimal and could provide an excellent college with "abundant economy."

THE NINE districts included in the survey are Highland Park, Palatine-Schaumburg, Arlington-Prospect, Maine, New Trier, Ridgewood, Evanston, Niles and Glenbrook. The nine high school districts have each named 10 members to the survery committee, two for each subcommittee with a university consultant assigned to each of the five subcommittees.



A PROPOSED COMMUNITY junior college will serve the area ranging from Highland Park in Lake County to Schaumburg on the DuPage county line. A survey of the area, to determine need, population pressures, type of curriculum, financing and potential building sites, is underway. The final survey is to be placed before voters of the area on the question of establishing a public community junior college.

Howard Olson, former village president of Palatine and chairman of the population subcommittee, reported there were presently 32,746 students enrolled in the nine high schools of the survey area. Of this total, there are about 10,000 freshmen compared to 6,000 seniors.

By 1965, Olson said, there will be 13,000 freshmen and 10,000 seniors, with a total 46,000 enrollment. In 1968 the projection shows 58,000 students, with 16,000 freshmen and 13,000 seniors. A further projection for 1971 shows an estimated 15,500 seniors, Olson stated.

HE EMPHASIZED the "fairly high social-economic standard of the area, as compared to the national norm, indicates a higher percentage of students go on to college." In the area this amounts to about 60 per cent — higher in some high school districts and lower in some of the others. Olson said the committee estimated from 5,500 to 9,500 students from the nine high school districts would be enrolled in colleges in September, 1962.

Preliminary projections for enrollment at the community junior college range from about 5,000 in the near future to 7,500 students in 1965 and 10,500 students in 1970.

Students at a community junior college would include a large percentage of "transfer students" who would take their first two years of regular college work and transfer to a four-year school. Many of these would go to a local junior college, Dr. Spears said, because of economic reasons, because they could not be admitted at other colleges due to overcrowding and because they might realize too late in high school the need for good grades but could be "salvaged" for college training.

DR. SPEARS indicated the committee felt there would be a demand for semi-professional training for legal, engineering, science and accounting assistants. The need of industry for technically-trained personnel was growing, he stressed.

Part-time students in late afternoon or evening would be another major factor in enrollment, Dr. Spears said. The school should be a "community school" serving the residents of the community to the greatest extent possible, he continued. This might include new college students working full time or part time for economic reasons while attending school, or adults of the area who want further training in general college work or specific subjects.

The ultimate goal of the survey, to be completed and released sometime early next year, is to present all the facts to the public, Jones emphasized. The voters will have to make the final decision — we are only investigating all possible facets to determine what the true situation might be, he said.

One of the most important jobs of the survey is to keep the public informed and to keep each committee informed fully of the work of the other committees, Jones indicated. This work is headed by David Mann of Hoffman Estates, chairman of the public relations subcommittee. Mann arranged the press conference and asked full newspaper cooperation in presenting the story of the survey to the public.

OTHER LEADERS of the survey not present at the conference include Charles R. Bauer, general vice chairman and a representative from Ridgewood high school district; Norman Olson, chairman of the finance subcommittee and a leading expert on county finance problems; and Morgan Yost, chairman of the sites and buildings subcommittee and a member of the FHA Industry Advisory committee. GEORGE HARRIS KNOWS HOW TO MAKE YOUR CHRISTMAS SHOPPING EASY

For more than 10 years, George Harris has helped Arlington Heights residents with their Christmas shopping.

Whether it's something new and different they're looking for or an old tried-and-true gift idea, folks know they'll find it at HARRIS PHARMACY.

But what else is there about this "Miracle of Dunton Court" that has developed such a loyal Christmas gift shopping tradition? Service, of course. The friendly helpful kind that greets you with a smile and a few good-natured words of recognition . . . then guides you to the section you're looking for.

Advice? Lots of it . . . the experienced kind—but only when and if you want it. Quality, sure. The top national brands you'd expect to find in a quality store.

No, it's something more than that. It's the people who serve you here day and night, month-in and month-out.

Harris Pharmacy people, you might say, are a breed apart. They not only like what they're doing, they genuinely like to help customers of the store with their shopping or browsing. No pushing around. No merchandise switching. No discourtesy.

Why are they like that? Well, it's good business, pure and simple. There's another reason . . . the store's "secret weapon." George Harris is that kind of a guy.*

*To keep it objective, the above was written by a friend.

P.S. If we don't see you during the next few busy hectic days, we'd like to wish you a Very Merry Christmas right now.

Snow Brings Christmas Closer to Busy Suburbanites

The appearance of snow coupled with the disappearance of social news last week would seem to indicate a tendency among Arlington Heighters to hibernate until spring. Actually, it's just that the white stuff made Christmas seem closer and now everyone's busier than ever getting ready for the hospitable season.

Jim Letzel, 1237 N. Chestnut, was 6 years old Friday and celebrated twice. He had a "small peoples" party in the afternoon, and evening excitement at a family party that included his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Andrews and a brand new bike. The bike came with Grandpa and Grandma, and the afternoon whoop-de-do came with six neighborhood buddies. Games and refreshments in large equal parts delighted Jim, his friends and small brother, Scott.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Incaprero and Shirlee, 114 W. Fremont, are enjoying their post-Thanksgiving stay in Florida more than ever since hearing about our snow. They're warming spending a 3-week vacation in Miami Beach at the Fontainebleau hotel, and will return soon.

MR. AND MRS. William Kopplin Sr., 515 W. Euclid, were guests of honor at a dinner for 200 given by the president of the Crane Packing company a week ago Tuesday, two days after Mr. Kopplin's 80th birthday. The Friday before marked his last day of over 21 years with the Chicago company, and his retirement was observed that day, too, by the shop personnel with a luncheon and gift presentation.

The dinner was attended by all Crane employees who have been with the company 15 years or more and the guest list included many district managers of branch offices all over the country. Many more sent telegrams of congratulation, most with the invitation, "Now that you're loafing, come see us." Mr. Kopplin reports that in the new year he and his wife do plan leisurely travel which may include a lecture tour in response to several requests.

MRS. KOPPLIN was given a white orchid corsage and, her husband says, "the red carpet treatment." The honor couple received many gifts of value as well as those whose worth is measured in laughs. Each "gag" gift had a story to go with it, and many were inscribed with the names of coworkers involved in specific incidents.

A book of the evening's tribute is being made up for Mr. and Mrs. Kopplin and will contain all the telegrams, affectionate "ribs" and phony news headlines that were part of the gala occasion.

At a small family dinner party December 3 Mr. and Mrs. Kopplin celebrated the 80th birthday anniversary in the home of their son, William Jr., and his family, 410 W. Wing.

Forty neighborhood friends were guests early Sunday afternoon at a pre-Christmas brunch in the Edward Condon home, 515 W. Fairview. The fact that time flies too fast made the brunch, tentatively planned for an earlier date, a particularly festive occasion and welcome interlude of relaxation for the Condons' guests.

ROSS PATERSON of Palatine was the co-guest of honor with his parents Saturday evening at a bon voyage party given by Marilyn Smith and her parents in their home at 909 S. Dunton. The Patersons, away from their native England for the past 4½ years, will leave Sunday to spend the holiday season with relatives and friends in the suburban London area.

Seven high schoolers, Mrs. Myrle Retzke, the Smiths and their weekend visitor, Marilyn's Grandmother Coumbe of Evanston, farewelled the Paterson family at the gala almost-Christmas party. The young people showered Ross with the kind of gifts that have a sky-high laugh value.

The International Hospitality Center of Chicago, via several local members, is sounding a Christmas call for hosts to share the holiday with foreign students who will be passing through Chicago. African, Asian, South American and European young people who are studying in colleges elsewhere in the country will be touring in the Chicago area and the center hopes to place them in private homes for our Christian holiday.

All are English - speaking and have had at least one semester of college in an American community. Mr. and Mrs. David Bone, Cl 3-0290, one of the center's local member couples, will assist any families wishing to host one or more of the students Christmas eve and or Christmas day.

CATHY PLOETZ was 10 years old Friday and celebrated with an all-girl dinner party for 12 in her home, 1004 N. Mitchell. The inevitable girls-and giggles combination added to all the 5-to-8 o'clock fun.

Carole Aronson recently celebrated her December 4 birthday at a Sunday family party in the Aronson home, 15 S. Salem. Among the 19 Chicago area relatives bringing birthday greetings were her grandparents, the A. J. Meisners and Mrs. Matilda Aronson. Carole was 8.

The Robert Pagliais, 905 S. Evergreen, hosted five local couples at a pre-dance cocktail party in their home Saturday evening, then left with their guests for the Cotillion club dinner dance in Itasca country club.

TUESDAY afternoon marked the annual Christmas party of a group of long-time Arlington Heights friends who meet regularly for an afternoon of cards. Tuesday's festive get-together was in the home of Mrs. Alma Ihle, 418 S. Evergreen, where a gift exchange and luncheon with the Christmasy look was a happy holiday forecast. Guests were Mrs. Alma Taege, Mrs. Joseph Wichtner, Mrs. Elmer Crane, Mrs. Harry Topping, Mrs. Christine Mors, and, visiting here from her current home in California, Mrs. Alma Mors.

The California visitor, a lifelong Arlington Heights resident until recent years, will return to the west coast after the holidays, concluding a 4-month stay here that permitted many reunions with old friends.

Weekend visitors in the home of the junior John L. Frieburgs, 1303 E. Eastman, were the hosts' parents here from Leroy to finish the too-short holiday get-together that took place in their home Thanksgiving.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Ostermick, 126 N. Forrest, hosted 13 couples at a pre-dance cocktail party Sunday evening, Mr. Ostermick barely returning from a business trip in time to assume the role of host.

FRIENDS AND neighbors of Mrs. Sophie Boi, N. State rd., will be sorry to learn of the death of her brother, Edward C. VonBergen of Chicago. He died November 24 in Northwest hospital in Chicago. Sympathies are extended to the family.

MRS. CHARLES P. O'Hagan, 600 E. Fairview, received word last Friday of the birth of a granddaughter. The baby Deirdre Maureen, was born December 8 and is the ninth daughter and 15th child of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. O'Hagan of Waterloo, Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Johnson, 624 Banbury, were hosts at a potluck supper Saturday for a group of friends with whom they spend an annual weekend at the Wagon Wheel in Rockton. Among their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Faner, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dunham, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Schulze, Mr. and Mrs. John Bowen and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Oestmann.

Mrs. Richard Lilleberg, 314 E. Rockwell, and her daughter, Vicki, returned Sunday from a 3-week visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Christ Nygaard in Kristiansund, Norway. Mrs. Lilleberg was accompanied by her uncle, Arne, Odegaard of Chicago.

Highlights of her visit were the reunion with her parents, who recently left here to make their permanent home in Norway, and getting acquainted with a host of relatives who gathered for the 50th wedding anniversary of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Sievert Sogge.

Before returning home, Mrs. Lilleberg spent several days sight seeing in Copenhagen.

MR. AND MRS. J. Brown Hardison and Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Seetch were hosts at a dinner party Saturday in the Hardison home, 347 Burton, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Brunner on their 25th wedding anniversary. Guests included 20 friends and neighbors who presented the Brunners with a gift of silver and flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Johnson, 311 S. Belmont, and their son, Jimmy, recently spent a week in Durham, N.C., visiting their daughter, Donna, a freshman at the University of North Carolina. During their stay, they attended the Duke-North Carolina football game.

Leaving Durham, the Johnsons went on to South Carolina for a visit with both their mothers, Mrs. E. B. Johnson and Mrs. J. F. Thomasson of Rock Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Mann, 304 E. Fairview, went to Milwaukee Sunday to attend a cocktail party and dinner given for parents by Phi Beta Gamma sorority at the Michael Angelo restaurant. They were joined at dinner by their son, Bill, and daughters, Ginny and Linda. Bill and Ginny are students at Marquette university, and Linda, a recent graduate of Marquette is currently living in Milwaukee and is employed by a publishing firm.

MRS. MARGARET Herliky of Washington D. C., arrived in Arlington Heights Sunday to stay through the Christmas holidays with her daughter and family, the Willis Jensens, 418 S. Lincoln.

Recent out-of-town houseguest of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kennedy, 511 S. Pine, was the former's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Kennedy of Hyannis, Mass.

Mrs. Robert Sheftie, 122 S. Brighton, gave a farewell luncheon and bridge December 7 for Mrs. Donald Bohlken, who will move to Columbus, Ohio later this month.

Mr. and Mrs. Gale Oberlin, 201 S. Dryden, joined friends in Franklin Park Saturday for a cocktail and dinner party.

Janet Kramer arrives home today from Coe college for a 3-week Christmas vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kramer, 1717 Kensington.

MRS. STEPHEN Jurco, 217 S. Windsor, will give a dinner party Wednesday to celebrate two birthdays, that of her husband and the birthday of Miss Wilma Dubs of Arlington Heights.

Miss Laurie Maitland recently participated in the International Livestock Exposition horse show held in the Amphitheater in Chicago, riding in the working hunters class. Laurie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Maitland, 335 S. Carlyle.

Friends and neighbors of Mr. Wilbert Koch of 1209 Drury ln., Arlington Heights, will be sorry to learn of the death of his father, Henry Koch Sr., of Des Plaines, who died November 28 in Rest Haven rest home, Elgin. He was a member of Cook County Truck Gardeners association local 3 and had served on the board of directors since 1937. Sympathies are extended to the families. (A

FROM RIDGE PARK

The house at 928 N. Kaspar, where the Thad Ostrowskis live, has been buzzing with activity lately. Because 7-month-old Steven Henry has just joined the Ostrowski family and Diane celebrated her seventh birthday early this month. Her great grandmother, aunt, uncle and cousins from Hoffman Estates came out to see the Village Theater's production of "Grandma Slyboots" with the Ostrowskis. When the curtain rang down on the last act, the whole family piled in their cars and headed for the Ostrowskis' and a birthday dinner for Diane. Her cake was one to delight any 7-year-old. It was shaped like a ball gown for the perky doll that was perched on top.

Marilyn's baby shower December 4 was really no surprise. When word got around that Steven would be arriving on the scene soon, Marge McNamara, 924 N. Kaspar, invited 16 of Marilyn's friends and neighbors to a miscellaneous shower. Quite appropriately the cake was shaped in the form of a bootee and decorated with "it's a boy." Thad's brother, Father Joe Ostrowski, made a quick trip in from Scranton, Pa., to christen his nephew at St. James on Sunday. Godparents were Ralph Feld and Rose Heffernan of Chicago. Another uncle, Ronald Cadden, came in from St. Louis for the christening. Open house was held afterward.

RIDGE Park was well represented when the Hundred Couples club had their dance at Glendale Country club Saturday night. Dancing amid Christmas decorations were the Joe Heinzes, Bob Cummings and the Ed Ojas. Several of the Princeton ave. folks gathered at a cocktail party before heading for the dance.

Sunday was the day the Al Kleins 1003 N. Kennicott, chose for the christening of their fifth child, David Francis, at St. James church. Father Roth officiated. Fortunately, Jane's cousin, Lt. David Tulp was home on furlough from Germany where he is stationed with the army and so was able to be godfather to baby David. Mary Beth Tulp was godmother. Besides the godparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tulp and the Albert Kleins joined the family for a buffet supper afterward.

Vivian Carson was completely surprised when she walked in Carol Wille's home, 705 N. Kaspar, December 6 and found a baby shower waiting for her. Margaret Busse, Shirley Garrison, Gloria Vogel, Jerry Grandt Mrs. Mina Clevenger, Joyce Black and Carol's mother, Mrs. Ada Ekstrom, showered her with miscellaneous gifts for her second baby-to-be.

CAROL was hostess at another shower Monday morning, this one for Ruth Griffith who is looking for the stork around the first of the year. Ruth walked down to Carol's house supposedly for coffee that morning and found Margaret Busse, Esther Hill, Shirley Garrison, Jerry Grandt, Vivian Carson and Mrs. Mina Clevenger waiting for her with gifts for the fourth little Griffith. Needless to say, "coffee and" had a little extra spark that morning with conversation centering around "babies."

Ruth and Bill Griffith, 625 N. Kaspar, got in another trip to Burlington, Iowa, weekend before last, beating the snow by only five days. They had their three children with them when they visited the Fred Dufelmeiers of that city.

Saturday the John F. Millers John Torretos and the Richard Balkin family attended the wedding of David Crosby and Judy Kruse at Emmanuel Lutheran Church in E. Dundee. The reception was held immediately afterward at the E. Dundee Firemen's hall. David and his family formerly lived at 606 W. Elm before moving to S. Mitchell. His brother, Pat Burns, flew in from San Diego, where he is stationed with the navy, to be best man. Sally Crosby served as junior bridesmaid, and her brother, Chick, ushered.

Roberta, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Schuldt, 912 N. Fernandez, was installed as honored queen of bethel 103 of the International Order of Job's Daughters of Arlington Heights December 9 at the Arlington Heights Masonic temple. Roberta's special guests for the evening were her aunt, Mrs. Lois Wilhusen, Miss Trudy Brex and Lester Baker of Elmhurst. She was especially pleased to have her grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. P. Geisel of Arlington Heights, and Mrs. Otto Schuldt of Crystal Lake witness the installation.

Unusually young for such an honor, she is a 15-year - old sophomore, Roberta seems to be following in her mother's footsteps—Mrs. Schuldt was installed as honored queen in her senior year of high school.

Sherwood is quite proud of its Nick Shuman, 1001 W. Clarendon, who had just been promoted to business and financial editor of the Chicago Daily News. (A YOU'RE INVITED to be a part of the excitement and camaraderie that is an essential and pleasant aspect of community theater work by attending the meeting tonight (Thursday) of Village Theatre at 8:15 p.m. in Park school auditorium, Arlington Heights. Coffee and conversation (above) wind up Village Theatre's monthly meetings. (A

Expert to Answer Question

Does Community Theatre Have Future in Suburbs?

Anyone looking for a relaxing and stimulating hobby or an outlet for creative impulses is invited to attend Village Theatre's regular monthly meeting tonight (Thursday). It will be held in Park school auditorium, Arlington Heights, beginning at 8:15 p.m.

"If you have ever wondered whether you have anything to contribute to community theatre, or if community theatre has anything to offer you, come to the meeting tonight," Village Theatre members invite.

NEW VISITORS will be greeted by the social chairman and introduced to other members, then various committees will report on the recent children's play, "Grandmother Slyboots."

Preliminary discussion of Village Theatre's upcoming production, "We Must Kill Toni," will follow, ending the business session.

GUEST SPEAKER of the evening will be Mrs. Mary Cattell, founder and director of Western Springs Community Theatre, one of the outstanding people in this field, who will outline her adventures with the theatre and preside over a question and answer session.

Coffee and conversation will wind up the evening. (A

St. John's Tinsel Day Is Sunday

Tinsel Day, Dec. 17, at St. John United Church of Christ, Arlington Heights, will begin with a potluck luncheon for the entire congregation at noon. After lunch, they will trim the Christmas tree in the sanctuary.

The closing program for the day will be the Christmas program presented by the Sunday school children.

At 6:30 p.m. all families wishing to do so will meet at the church and leave by bus to go Christmas caroling.

CHRISTMAS EVE, Dec. 24, church services will be held at 9:15 and 10:45 a.m. At 7 p.m. the Candlelighting Family service special music will be held.

Christmas Day, Dec. 25, church service will be at 10 a.m., with Holy Communion and dedication of the Poinsettia Altar. (A

An Ordinance

PROVIDING FOR BORROWING MONEY AND ISSUING BONDS OF THE VILLAGE OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS, COOK COUNTY, ILLINOIS, TO THE AMOUNT OF $350,000 FOR THE PURPOSE OF PAYING THE COST OF CONSTRUCTING A NEW MUNICIPAL BUILDING IN AND FOR SAID VILLAGE AND PROVIDING FOR THE LEVY AND COLLECTION OF A DIRECT ANNUAL TAX FOR THE PAYMENT OF THE PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST OF SAID BONDS.

WHEREAS the President and Board of Trustees of the Village of Arlington Heights, Cook County, Illinois, did by an ordinance adopted on November 14, 1960, call a special election to be held in and for said Village of Arlington Heights on December 10, 1960, for the purpose of submitting to the electors of said Village for their approval the following question:

Shall bonds in the amount of $350,000 be issued by the Village of Arlington Heights, Cook County, Illinois, for the purpose of paying the cost of constructing a new municipal building in and for said Village in order to provide proper facilities and offices for the Administrative, Police and Fire Departments of said Village, maturing $5,000 on December 1, 1962, $15,000 on December 1 of each of the years 1963 to 1969, inclusive, $20,000 on December 1 of each of the years 1970 to 1976, inclusive, and $25,000 on December 1 of each of the years 1977 to 1980, inclusive, bearing interest at the rate of not to exceed five per cent (5%) per annum?

WHEREAS the President and Board of Trustees of said Village did cause to be given proper notice of said election by publishing notice thereof once in the Arlington Heights Herald, the same being a newspaper published in and having a general circulation in said Village, said publication of said notice being made not more than thirty (30) days nor less than fifteen (15) days prior to the date of said election, which said notice as so published did specify the places where such election was to be held, the time of opening and closing the polls and the question to be voted upon; and

WHEREAS the President and Board of Trustees of said Village, by proper proceedings adopted and spread upon its records, found that all legal requirements in connection with said election were duly complied with and that a majority of the electors of said Village voting at said election on said question above referred to voted in favor thereof:

NOW, THEREFORE, Be It Ordained by the President and Board of Trustees of the Village of Arlington Heights, Cook County, Illinois, as follows:

Section 1. That it be and it is hereby found and determined that the President and Board of Trustees of the Village of Arlington Heights have been authorized by a majority of the electors of said Village voting on the question at a special election duly called, noticed, held and canvassed for that purpose to issue bonds of said Village in the amount of $350,000 for the purpose of paying the cost of constructing a new municipal building in and for said Village in order to provide proper facilities and offices for the Administrative, Police and Fire Departments of said Village.

Section 2. That in order to raise the sum of $350,000 needed for the purpose of paying the cost of constructing a new municipal building in and for said Village, there be borrowed by, for and on behalf of the Village of Arlington Heights, Cook County, Illinois, the sum of $350,000 and to evidence said loan negotiable coupon bonds of said Village be issued. Said bond shall be designated "Municipal Building Bonds," be dated December 1, 1961, be three hundred and fifty (350) in number, numbered from 1 to 350, inclusive, be of the denomination of $1,000 each, and mature serially $5,000 on December 1, 1962, $15,000 on December 1 of each of the years 1963 to 1969, inclusive, $20,000 on December 1 of each of the years 1970 to 1976, inclusive, and $25,000 on December 1 of each of the years 1977 to 1980, inclusive, and that said bonds shall bear interest from date until paid at the rate of three and three-quarters per cent (3¾%) per annum, payable on December 1, 1962, and semi-annually thereafter on the first days of June and December in each year, which said interest payments to date of maturity of principal shall be evidenced by proper interest coupons attached to each bond and maturing on the dates herein provided, and both principal and interest shall be payable in lawful money of the United States of America at The First National Bank of Chicago, in the City of Chicago, Illinois. The seal of said Village shall be affixed to each of said bonds and said bonds shall be signed by the President and attested by the Clerk of said Village, and said coupons shall be signed and attested by said officials, respectively, by their respective facsimile signatures, and said officials, by the execution of said bonds, shall adopt as and for their own proper signatures their respective facsimile signatures appearing on said coupons.

Section 3. That the bonds hereby authorized shall be payable to bearer, provided, however, that such bonds may be subject to registration as to principal in the name of the holder on the books of the Treasurer of said Village, such registration to be evidenced by notation of said Treasurer upon the back of such bonds so registered. No bond so registered shall be subject to transfer except upon such books and similarly noted on the back thereof unless the last registration shall have been to bearer. Such registration of any of said bonds shall not, however, affect the negotiability of the coupons attached to said bonds, but such coupons shall continue transferable by delivery merely.

Section 4. That each of said bonds and the interest coupons to be thereto attached shall be in substantially the following form:

(Form of Bond)

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA
STATE OF ILLINOIS COUNTY OF COOK
VILLAGE OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS
MUNICIPAL BUILDING BOND

Number $1,000

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS that the Village of Arlington Heights, Cook County, Illinois, hereby acknowledges itself to owe, and for value received promises to pay to bearer, or if this bond be registered, then to the registered holder hereof, the sum of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000) on the first day of December, 19....., together with interest on said sum from the date hereof until paid at the rate of three and three-quarters per cent (3¾%) per annum, payable on December 1, 1962 and semi-annually thereafter on the first days of June and December in each year, upon presentation and surrender of the respective interest coupons hereto attached as they severally become due and payable.

Both principal hereof and interest hereon are hereby made payable in lawful money of the United States of America at The First National Bank of Chicago, in the City of Chicago, Illinois.

For the prompt payment of this bond, both principal and interest, as aforesaid, at maturity, and the levy of taxes sufficient for that purpose, the full faith, credit and resources of said Village are hereby irrevocably pledged.

This bond is issued by said Village for the purpose of paying the cost of constructing a new municipal building in and for said Village in order to provide proper facilities and offices for the Administrative, Police and Fire Departments of said Village, pursuant to and in all respects in compliance with the Illinois Municipal Code, Approved May 29, 1961, and all acts amendatory thereof and supplementary thereto and is authorized by a majority of the electors of said Village voting upon the question at an election duly called, noticed, held and canvassed for that purpose in said Village, and in compliance with an ordinance duly passed by the President and Board of Trustees of said Village, approved by the President thereof and published, in all respects as by law required.

It is hereby certified and recited that all acts, conditions and things required by the Constitution and Laws of the State of Illinois, to exist or to be done precedent to and in the issuance of this bond, have existed and have been properly done, happened and been performed in regular and due form and time as required by law; that the indebtedness of said Village of Arlington Heights, represented by this bond and the issue of which it forms a part, and including all other indebtedness of said Village, howsoever evidenced and incurred, does not exceed any constitutional or statutory limitation, and that provision has been made for the collection of a direct annual tax, in addition to all other taxes, on all of the taxable property in said Village sufficient to pay the interest hereon as the same falls due and also to pay and discharge the principal hereof at maturity.

This bond is subject to registration as to principal in the name of the holder on the books of the Village Treasurer, such registration to be evidenced by notation of such Treasurer on the back hereof, and after such registration no transfer hereof, except upon such books and similarly noted hereon, shall be valid unless the last registration shall have been to bearer. Registration hereof shall not affect the negotiability of the coupons hereto attached which shall continue negotiable by delivery merely, notwithstanding registration hereof.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, said Village of Arlington Heights, Cook County, Illinois, by its President and Board of Trustees, has caused its corporate seal to be hereunto affixed and this bond to be signed by the President of said Village and attested by its Village Clerk and the coupons hereto attached to be signed and attested by said officials, respectively, by their facsimile signatures, and said officials do, by the execution hereof, adopt as and for their own proper signatures their respective facsimile signatures appearing on said coupons, all as of the first day of December, 1961.

LOCAL IMPROVEMENTS VILLAGE OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS, ILLINOIS

Advertisement for Bids

The board of Local Improvements, Arlington Heights, Illinois, will receive sealed proposals for the construction of paving improvements in Miner Street from Douglas Avenue to Derbyshire Lane as provided in Special Assessment No. 149 (also known as Motor Fuel Tax Section 20-CS) until 8:00 P.M. on the 4th day of January 1962 at the office of the Village Clerk at the Village Hall, Arlington Heights, Illinois.

All Proposals received will be publicly opened and read aloud in the Village Hall at Arlington Heights, Illinois, at 8:00 P.M. on January 4, 1962.

The Contract Documents, including plans and specifications are on file and available for inspection at the office of the Village Clerk of the Village of Arlington Heights, at the Village Hall.

Copies of documents, including plans and specifications required for review for bidding purposes, may be obtained only from the Village Clerk by depositing $5.00 with the Village Clerk for each set of documents so obtained.

The full amount of the deposit for one set of documents and one-half of the deposit for any additional sets of documents will be refunded to each Bidder who submits a formal proposal to the Board of Local Improvements and who also returns the plans (and specifications on additional sets) in good condition to the Village Clerk within ten (10) days after his bid security has been returned to him.

Cash or certified check drawn on a solvent bank in the State of Illinois, payable without condition to the President of the Board of Local Improvements, Arlington Heights, Illinois, in an amount not less than (10%) of the bid shall be submitted with each Proposal.

No bid shall be withdrawn after the opening of Proposals without the consent of the Board of Local Improvements for a period of thirty (30) days after the scheduled time for closing bids.

The Board of Local Improvements reserves the right to reject any or all Proposals and to waive any technicalities.

The successful bidder will be required to furnish a satisfactory performance bond in the sum of the full amount of the Contract.

In general, the improvement on which Proposals are requested will require the installation, complete, of approximately 2170 tons of waterbound macadam base course, 854 tons of bituminous concrete binder and surface courses, 3185 lineal feet of concrete curb and gutter and 15,533 square feet of 5" concrete sidewalks and appurtenant construction.

Prospective bidders are hereby advised that a total of $32,194.69 of the total project cost will be paid from Public Benefit Assessments which will be retired with Motor Fuel Tax funds.

Plans and specifications for this project were prepared by Consoer, Townsend and Associates, Consulting Engineers, 360 East Grand Avenue, Chicago 11, Illinois.

Payment will be made in Special Assessment Bonds and Vouchers bearing interest at the rate of six per cent (6%) per annum.

Ordinance No. 805

AN ORDINANCE AMENDING THE VILLAGE OF MOUNT PROSPECT ZONING ORDINANCE RELATING TO PROPERTY LOCATED AT GOLF AND ELMHURST ROADS.

WHEREAS, the Board of Appeals of the Village of Mount Prospect, sitting as a Zoning Commission at a public meeting duly called and held according to law (Appeal No. 60-20), considered the question of reclassifying the real estate hereinafter described from R-1, Residential District, to B-3, Business District (as to 1st parcel described), R-1, Residential District, to B-3, Business District (as to 2nd parcel described), and R-1, Residential District, to B-1, Business District (as to 3rd parcel described).

AND, WHEREAS, the President and Board of Trustees of the Village of Mount Prospect, having considered the recommendation of said Zoning Board of Appeals,

AND, WHEREAS, the petitioner and the Village have entered into agreements which are fully set forth in the minutes of the Board of Trustees of the Village of Mount Prospect of November 8, 1961, it being fully understood by all concerned that the annexation and rezoning of the hereinafter described real estate are expressly conditioned upon the compliance with said agreements,

AND, WHEREAS, the Village of Mount Prospect find and believe that the highest and best use of said real estate is that of B-3, B-3 and B-1, Business Districts, respectively.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED by the President and Board of Trustees of the Village of Mount Prospect, Cook County, Illinois:

Section 1. That an ordinance entitled "An ordinance classifying, regulating and restricting the location of trades and industries and the location of buildings designed for specified uses; regulating and limiting the height and bulk of buildings hereafter erected or altered, regulating and limiting the intensity of the use of lot areas and regulating and determining the area of yards, courts and other open spaces within and surrounding such buildings; establishing the boundaries of districts for the said purposes; and prescribing penalties for the violation of its provisions," passed and approved December 4, 1923, and amendments thereto, and known as Ordinance No. 52, as amended by an ordinance known and cited as the Zoning Ordinance of Mount Prospect, passed and approved May 2, 1944, and as subsequently amended to date hereof, be amended by reclassifying the following described real estate from R-1 to B-3 (as to 1st parcel described), R-1 to B-3 (as to 2nd parcel described), and R-1 to B-1 (as to 3rd parcel described),

(1st parcel described):
The North 160 feet, as measured on the East line thereof, of the East 160 feet, as measured on the North line thereof, of Lots 5 and 6, taken as a tract, in Juhnke's Subdivision of that part of the East 854.70 feet of the Northeast quarter of Section 14, Township 41 North, Range 11 East of the Third Principal Meridian, lying South of the center of Golf Road, Cook County, Illinois.

(2nd parcel described):
The North 450 feet of the South 500 feet, as measured on the West line thereof, of the West 250 feet, as measured on the South line thereof, of Lot 7 in Juhnke's Subdivision of that part of the East 854.70 feet of the Northeast quarter of Section 14, Township 41 North, Range 11 East of the Third Principal Meridian, lying South of the center of Golf Road, Cook County, Illinois.

(3rd parcel described):
Lots 4, 5, 6 and 7 in Juhnke's Subdivision of that part of the East 854.70 feet of the Northeast quarter of Section 14, Township 41 North, Range 11 East of the Third Principal Meridian, lying South of the center of Golf Road, except-ing therefrom that part described as the North 160 feet, as measured on the East line thereof, of the East 160 feet, as measured on the North line thereof, of said Lots 5 and 6, taken as a tract, and except the South 50 feet, as measured on the East and West lines thereof, of said Lot 7, and also except the North 450 feet of the South 500 feet, as measured on the West line thereof, of the West 250 feet, as measured on the South line thereof, of said Lot 7, Cook County, Illinois.

Section 2. That said real estate as reclassified shall be subject to all the limitations and conditions placed upon properties in the B-3, B-3 and B-1 Business Districts, respectively, as defined in the ordinances aforementioned.

Section 3. That any person, firm or corporation who violates, disobeys, omits, neglects or refuses to comply with or who resists the enforcement of any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be fined not more than One Hundred ($100) Dollars for each offense, and each day that a violation is permitted to exist shall constitute a separate offense.

Section 4. That this ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval and publication, according to law.

AN ORDINANCE RELATING TO THE LICENSING OF COIN OPERATED MACHINES

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE PRESIDENT AND BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE VILLAGE OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS:

Section One: It shall be unlawful to offer or maintain for public use any coin operated device, machine or mechanism to provide amusement or vend merchandise of any character without having first secured a license therefor. The license fee for such machines shall be those established by the provisions of the municipal code. The following fee schedule shall apply to machines and devices not specified in the code and is based on the number of machines or devices operated by a single person, firm or corporation. The fee shall apply in addition to any other permit or license fee which may be applicable.

Number of Machines or Devices	Annual Fee
1 to 5	$ 5.00
6 to 15	15.00
16 to 25	25.00
26 to 40	40.00
41 and over	50.00

Coin operated laundries and dry cleaning machines in licensed establishments containing ten (10) or more coin operated washers, dryers, dry cleaners, and related machines are excluded from the above schedule and such establishments are subject to the fees otherwise provided by ordinance.

Section Two: Any person, firm or corporation violating the terms of this ordinance shall be fined not more than $200.00 for each such offense.

Section Three: This ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval and publication as provided by law.

Notice of Public Hearing

Notice is hereby given that the Zoning Board of Appeals of the Village of Hoffman Estates, Cook County, Illinois will hold a public hearing to consider the adoption of a new zoning resident district classification.

This proposed classification would place a minimum area of 9,250 square feet with lineal lot width of not less than 65 feet and side yard requirement of 5 feet and 10 feet respectively. In addition special regulations will be considered for this amendment to provide "cluster" provisions.

Property under consideration for reclassification to proposed amendment is described as follows: Being a subdivision of part of northeast quarter of section 9, and part of northwest quarter of section 10, all in Township 41 north, Range 10 east of the Third Principal Meridian, in Schaumburg Township, Cook County, Illinois.

This hearing will be held on Tuesday, January 2, 1962 at 8 p.m. in the Council Chambers in the Village Hall of the Village of Hoffman Estates, 161 Illinois Boulevard, Hoffman Estates, Illinois.

'How to' Books at Arlington Library

THURS., DEC. 14, 1961

By Betty Ainslie

Every room in your home can take on new brightness and sparkle this Yuletide season, if you take a few minutes from your busy schedule to drop into Arlington Heights public library.

There you'll find books bulging with "how to" articles. How to make special Christmas decorations, how to bake new and traditional dishes and how to give the best of holiday parties easily.

WHATEVER YOUR problem you can find the solution between the pages of new Christmas idea books. Take "Better Homes and Garden Christmas Ideas" or Lestaile "New Look at Christmas Decorations" to name just a couple.

Augsburg Press has come up with a brand new book called "Christmas Annual" which is brimming with stories, poems and things to bake, all to make your Christmas gayer.

Here are a few more titles just in case the ones mentioned earlier might be out when you visit the library.

"The Abbott Christmas Book" by Luthen, "1001 Christmas Facts and Fancies" by Hartles, "The Christmas Tree" by Foley, "Christmas and Its Customs" by Hole, "The Book of Christmas" by Ickes, "Southern Christmas Book" by Kane, "All About Christmas" by Krythe, "A Treasury of Christmas Decorations" by Schulke, "Complete Christmas Book" by Watts, "Handbook of Christmas Decorations" by Waugh, "Make Your Own Merry Christmas" by Wertsner, "Christmas Stocking" by Considine, "Christmas Trees Decorations and Ornaments" by Christman and also a new one called "Christmas Decorations" by Alcoa.

SO IF YOU want a house that says "Merry Christmas" all the way from the door to the cookies on the table; get some different and special ideas from one of these books.

By adding a holiday twinkle to your home you give yourself a lift, and you'll say as always, "This is the nicest time of the year." (A

THUMBING HIS WAY along Red Skelton Drive (for the benefit of photographers) last week was Red Skelton, voted "Favorite Comedian of Arlington Heights Gardens." The comedian, so a publicity man says, was voted this title and made namesake of a street in Arlington Heights Gardens, by residents of the development just south of Arlington Heights. Notifying Skelton of the honor in Chicago last week were (from left) Mrs. Robert Taraba, Mrs. Frank Nugent, Mrs. George Curry and Mrs. Warren Loiselle. William Alter, developer of the site, furnished a Rolls Royce for the women's transportation.

Plan Concert At Lutheran Church Here

The third annual combined candlelight concert of Our Saviour Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, will be presented Sunday, Dec. 17, at 4 p.m.

The blended voices of the approximately 150 members of the Chancel, Carol, Chorister and Cherub choirs will be presented in joint harmony for the only performance of this type of the year, "always an exciting musical event in the life of the church."

MRS. RUTH Petersen will accompany the choirs on the organ and Miss Patricia Bush on the piano. Robert Wolff is musical director of the church.

As the climax to the program the last piece will be "What Strangers Are These" with all choirs participating as well as piano, organ and trumpets. (A

The Chicago Chiropractic society honored member Frank Pustaver, Lynwood ave., by asking him to act as master of ceremonies for its Good Fellow Benefit dance at the Belmont Stratford hotel December 3.

Santa's in for some overtime when the H.C.A. stages its Christmas party Saturday, December 16, at Wilson school, for all the young people of the area. Activities start at 10:30 a.m. with a program for the very little ones. In the afternoon there's to be a dance performance by a local studio for the next age sgroup. Finally, every belle will have a ball as the teenagers socialize at an evening party. Santa promises gifts and refreshments (900 cookies on the menu) for all good boys and girls. (A

Hasbrook Happenings

Hazel Peck — CLearbrook 9-0688

In the lull before the storm of Christmas entertaining many a Hasbrook homemaker is slaving over a hot cookie sheet. Among those participating in the cookie exchange plan are Joan Whisler and Agnes Johns. Agnes organized the group which met in the home of Barbara Quinn, 906 W. Thomas st., December 5.

Among those who will be sharing recipes and cookies are Pat Ryan, Sally Barratt, June Riemenschneider, Agnes Johns, Marian Shea, Helen Seeger, Sylvia Nolan Slattery, Joan Denny Melroy, Barbara Quinn, Melissa Voss, Mary Russo, Lynn Moeller and Judy Simpson. Joan's cookie-bearing friends, 14 in number, met in her home, 1826 N. Chestnut, Wednesday.

Dr. and Mrs. Kimmel, 1832 N. Chestnut, spent the second weekend in December in Grand Rapids, and on their return home were hosts for several days to friends here for the Home Show.

PLANNING A clean sweep of the toy departments this month are three young fellows with birthdays. Bobby Elder, 5 December 3, threw a cowboy roundup December 4 with "pardners" Matt and Mike Shaughnessy, Kirk Vignola, Kevin Donahue and Jeff Howe to assist. Mike, Sally and Stan Dodds' pride, celebrated his sixth birthday Saturday with a gathering of friends from his former neighborhood. Saturday was Mike McCullagh's party day too. The 11 guests who feted 6-year-old Mike were small brother, Mark, Steve and Danny Grant, Gregg Pustaver, Bobby Kendall, David Alderson, Robbie Skiera, Jimmy Bergeson, Danny Prather, Gary Smith and Gary Leclair.

Another party in the pluperfect class was the Christmas block party put on by John and Judy Hartigan for 24 guests last Saturday.

WE'RE SEVERAL families richer this month. Arthur and Blanche Erickman and their four children have moved into a home on Ridge ave. They formerly lived in Park Forest. New occupants of 1615 N. Kaspar ave. are the Schottens, George, Gerry and their four youngsters who came here from Fort Wayne. Just after moving in, Gerry was hospitalized for surgery, but he's home now and getting well fast. Also being welcomed on Kaspar ave. are Jack and Pearl Warner, who with children, Annie and David, now reside at 1544.

No 'Shelter' For New Hall

Possible inclusion of a fallout shelter in the new Arlington Heights Municipal building to be constructed on State rd. at Sigwalt was voided Monday night by the village board.

Village Civil Defense director Wallace Daughtry had requested that the shelter and communication center be included in plans for the building, utilizing an area under the building not scheduled for excavation in the present plans.

Further study indicated, however, that such a shelter, if deemed advisable, could be constructed under the municipal building parking lot at about the same cost, eliminating the urgency of the project from a cost standpoint.

THE SHELTER would not be a mass shelter, but one designed to provide protection for municipal building workers and visitors, and a center for coordinating and directing survival efforts in the event of a nuclear explosion in this area.

Trustee William Sauer suggested that he would oppose a village-financed shelter, wherever it might be proposed. "I'm one of those people who have not been converted," he said. Others on the board, however, have indicated they are favorably disposed to such a project.

Daughtry, present at the Monday night meeting, discredited recent nationally publicized petitions by professors of English and economics arguing against shelter construction. He said Dr. Edward Teller, the nuclear physicist, is his (Daughtry's) authority, and Teller says nuclear casualties could be reduced perhaps 90 per cent by use of fallout shelters. (A

Notes from Arlington Acres

Marie Marshall — CLearbrook 5-2936

The December meeting of the Arlington Acres Civic association was held December 5. Wayne Griffin of the Griffin Travel agency gave an interesting talk on Hawaii supplemented with movies and slides.

During the business meeting which followed, the members present voted to hold the next meeting in February. This will be a social gathering with a Valentine theme, and refreshments will be served.

Best wishes for a speedy recovery go to Mrs. Emil Straub, who is back home at 521 S. Phelps, after a stay in Northwest Community hospital.

Ed Ehlen, 437 S. Gibbons, is home again after emergency surgery in Northwest Community hospital.

MR. AND MRS. Gerald Mertens, 425 S. Gibbons, entertained at a pre-Christmas bridge party Saturday evening. Guests were the Charles Miners, Mickey McGuires and the Jack O'Neills, all of S. Gibbons.

Happy birthday wishes go to Murray Lemons whose eighth birthday was celebrated December 5 with a family dinner. Murray is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Lemons, 504 S. Prindle.

Saturday the Lemons family entertained Mr. and Mrs. Clint Parrott of Irving Park at a dinner party.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Pulling, 429 S. Phelps, made all arrangements for the Elks Christmas cocktail dance and buffet supper Sunday evening, at Salt Creek Country club, Itasca.

Among the Arlington Acres residents dancing to the music of Don Reynolds were the James Glynns, Fred Boths, Ron Browns, Donald Roesers, Leo Smolinskis, Anatole Lucases, Gordon Knudsons, Burton Soderbergs, Raymond Fritzes, John Brunsfelds and the James Evangers.

MARK LONGRIE was 4 years old December 12, and celebrated by having two of his playmates, Mark Hermanson and Lisa Swenson, come in for cake and ice cream. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Longrie, 429 S. Forrest.

Mr. and Mrs. William E. McClure, with his mother, Mrs. E. L. McClure, 524 S. Prindle, drove to Rock Island for a few days last week to visit the family of the younger Mrs. McClure. While there they stayed with aunts, Miss Ann Wich and Mrs. Margaret Lanaghan, and attended a family get-together held in their honor.

Enroute home the McClures stopped in Ottawa to visit Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Ovelman, friends of the senior Mrs. McClure. (A

by James Fizzell
Assistant Farm Advisor

Alert Homeowners
Dial Daily 392-3060

The Yule season is a time of friendship, warmth, and cheer. Our homes are cozy with the glow of the Christmas lights and decorations. As much a part as the tree itself are the Christmas flowers and plants.

Proper attention to the needs of the plants will assure you that they will last and will lend their charms to your home throughout the season.

Few holiday plants are more striking than the poinsettia. A native of Mexico where it often becomes a ten foot tall bush, the "point" has become the traditional Christmas plant. The familiar red-flower type is most popular, but whites, pinks, and semi-doubles are available. The colored structures we call flowers are actually bracts. The flowers are the little yellow parts in the center of the clusters. The poinsettia must be handled with care if it is to remain presentable for any length of time. Strive for uniform temperatures in the 60 to 75 degree F. range, and reduce the thermostat at night. Put your plant in a place where it gets bright, but not direct sunlight, and where the air is not too dry. If the plant is in a window where there is danger of chilling, take it out of the window or draw the shade at night. Maintain soil moisture at moderate uniform levels.

POINSETTIAS are very sensitive plants. Drafts, too warm or too cool temperatures, sudden temperature changes, dry atmosphere, improper watering, and dim light can cause loss of leaves and withering of the bracts.

Two attractive annual plants, the Christmas pepper and Jerusalem cherry, are often used at Christmas time. When purchased, they are covered with red fruit and fit beautifully into the holiday color scheme. These plants should be placed in good light and in a cool place if possible. The warm dry temperatures in many of our homes rapidly dry out the fruit and the plants become unattractive sooner than necessary. The soil should be kept uniformly moist.

Fruit of the Jerusalem cherry is supposedly poison. The Christmas peppers can be dried and used as spices. Use them cautiously, they are extremely hot.

WANT ADS are for

EVERYBODY

My "retirement years" are just what I always hoped they would be. Toward the end of my forty years on an active job I was beginning to wonder if there would be any real satisfaction in retirement. I knew that complete idleness would not bring contentment for me. Then I hit on the idea of making a paying proposition out of the hobby I have enjoyed for years. I ran a small Want Ad in Paddock Publications announcing my skills at woodworking, offering to duplicate broken furniture parts and make custom pieces to the owner's design. Thanks to that ad I have all the jobs I can handle. My wife keeps reminding me that I'm supposed to be retired, and I tell her I am enjoying life and that is what retirement is supposed to mean. It is true "Want Ads Are For Everybody" . . . look what they do for me!

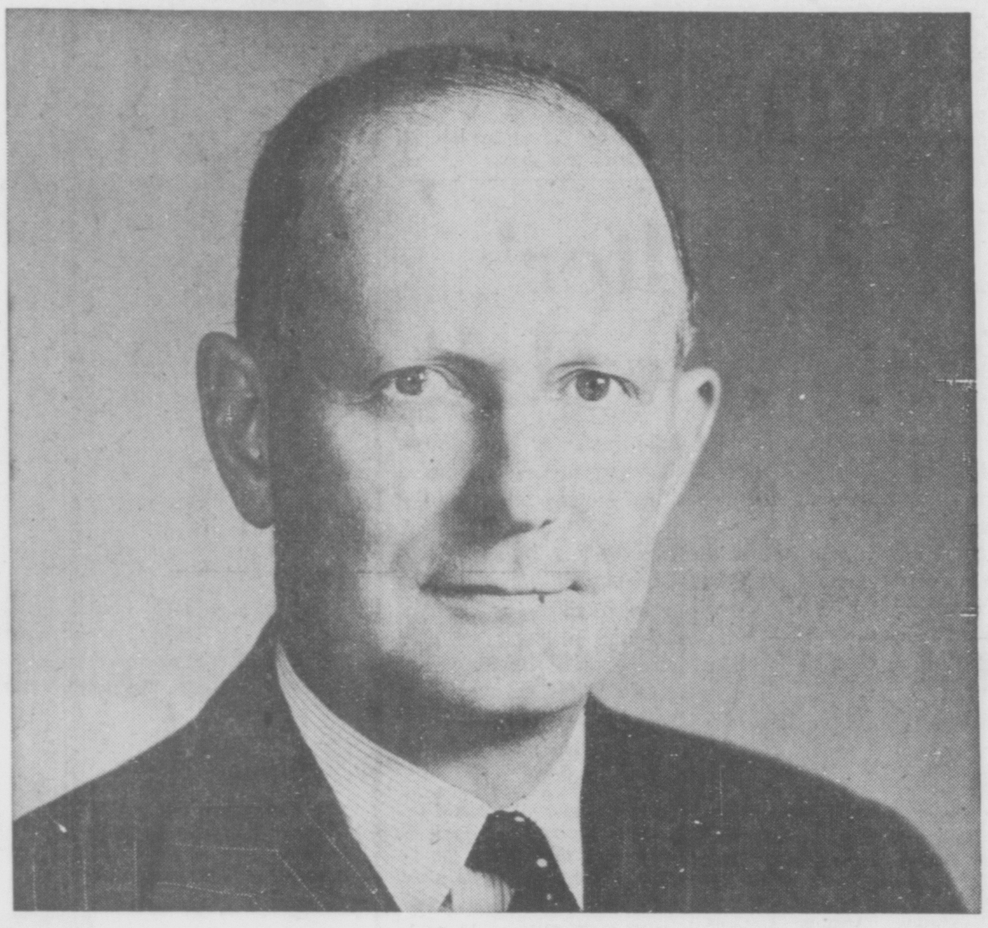
A well-earned thank you to hundreds of thousands of Savings Bond volunteers

by Douglas Dillon, Secretary of the U.S. Treasury



AS THE Twentieth Anniversary Year of the United States Savings Bond Program draws to a close I want to thank, on behalf of the Treasury and the United States Government, all those volunteers who have given their time and effort to increase the sale of bonds.

They and other Americans who have bought and who are, in increasing numbers, continuing to buy bonds, can take pride in a very real contribution to the strength of our nation.

To all those then, who have, over the last 20 years, invested their time and their money in the welfare of their country, I say thank you and well done.

Our task, however, is not over. It is, in a sense, just beginning. As we enter upon the future, such patriotic efforts become increasingly more important. I do not have to remind you of the peril to freedom in the world today. By purchasing bonds, and by encouraging others to do so, through state, county, and local volunteer Savings Bond efforts, Americans contribute significantly to our defense against that peril.

Douglas Dillon

Who are the Savings Bond Volunteers?

These dedicated men and women are the workers who keep the Savings Bond Program ticking. Each state has a chairman. All 3,000 American Counties have chairmen. Many have served the full 20 years. Next time you meet a Bond volunteer, say, "Thanks for helping to keep America strong and free."

SOUTH ARLINGTON

Troop 102 completed its second class requirements with a Mexican Fiesta planned for Brownie troop 267. The party was complete with a Pinata, Mexican refreshments, a Mexican play and information on scouting in Mexico. Intermediates also taught the Brownies a Mexican hat dance.

SOUTH MOUNT PROSPECT

New Brownie troop 219 held an investiture November 28. All scouts and their mothers were present. Mrs. Eugene Gallup invested Mrs. William Schroeder and Mrs. Earl Marsh as leaders; Mrs. Roland Miller, committee chairman; Mrs. Donald Snyder, refreshments; Mrs. Richard Kehr, transportation; and Mrs. George Meyers, cookie chairman.

The number 411 has been assigned to the new Brownie troop led by Mrs. Robert Kauth and Mrs. James O'Leary. The Brownies were invested November 30 and received as a gift from their leaders, the troop numerals for their uniforms.

Brownie Troop 744 has a different service project each month, in November they presented a Thanksgiving dinner to a Mexican family. The girls either earned the money to buy the food or prepared it at home. Junior high troop 499 did all the shopping for the Thanksgiving basket they filled for an elderly couple, this is an annual project of the troop.

Intermediates in troop 597 have made Christmas decorations for the Magnus Farm. In connection with their work on the Worlds Gifts badge, troop 477 attended the folk festival at Navy Pier. Barbara Brouder, Mary Kay Crinch, Mary y Caldini and Kathy Mc-m Kay Caldini and Kathy McGough received 5-year pins. Mrs. Floyd Caldini, leaders also received her 5-year pin at a court of awards.

All 21 members of troop 401 were present for Court of Awards November 29. Mrs. John Clark, leader, reported every girl received either a 5-year pin, a year star or badge. Mrs. Stanley Shaw, troop mother, instructed Brownies in troop 742 made crepe paper sunbonnets which they wore square dancing.

NORTH MOUNT PROSPECT

Three girls were invested as Brownies in a troop 520 ceremony December 4. They were Sandra Haugh, Patty Taylor and Elaine Grafton. Several weeks ago the girls planted a yellow bulb in commemoration of the 50th anniversary of the Girl Scouts. Brownies of troop 293 attended the play, "Sindbad the Sailor," given by the Pinocchio Players of Barrington for the benefit of the Infant Welfare society.

NORTH PALATINE

Troop 368, under the leadership of Mrs. Thomas Bouffard and Mrs. C. Goodpasture, recently formed patrols in their troop with the following results: troop treasurer, Pamela Gale; troop scribe, Judy Brauer; patrol leaders, Candice Vogt, Peggy Hinze and Carol Dickson. The girls made get well cards for one of their members, Ellen Worman, who was in the hospital. They also made pine cone turkeys for table favors for Thanksgiving.

November 14 the following girls of troop 368 received one-year pins: Carol Dickson, Karin Guenther, Doris Curtis and Mary Weber. This troop has also been working on Christmas gifts.

ROLLING MEADOWS

December 3, Brownie troop 732 enjoyed the story of "Grandmother Sly Boots" at Prospect high school presented by the Village Theatre. They were accompanied by their leaders, Mrs. C. Newman and Mrs. W. Gerken, and by Mrs. Harold Kasper and Mrs. Leo Larson.

Also enjoying the antics of the two funny wolves in the play were Brownie troop 17 and intermediate troop 633. Troop 17, under the leadership of Mrs. Lloyd Livingstone, has been making gift enclosures while troop 633 with Mrs. Robert Winsell and Mrs. John Little has been concentrating on a holiday food and clothing box for a needy family.

HOFFMAN ESTATES

At a program last week, 23 girls were invested as Brownies into a new troop led by Mrs. Robert Godderts and Mrs. Wilfred Shaw. Mothers were invited to the program and saw 0a dramatization of "The Brownie Story." New Brownies include Kay Shaw, Diana Santelli, Kerry Walker, Deborah Hedland, Deborah Conrad, Carolyn Fink, Pamela Fitzjerrells, Laura Hays, Holly Heineman, Cheryl Kmetz, Patricia Kneidek, Deborah Manning, Cynthia Matters, Cynthia Miller, Catherine Pincawis, Janet and Joan Rasmussen, Lynn Rowan and Susan Rouse.

Troop 649 recently had a spaghetti supper cookout at the home of their leader, Mrs. Frank White in Schaumburg. Nine troop members and 10 guests joined in a scavenger hunt before supper. The troop acquired nine new members from their get-acquainted evening. The Christmas project for these fifth and sixth graders is making cookie assortments to take to the Abbington House in Roselle.

Mrs. Richard Johnson's third and fourth grade Brownies of troop 497 are busy with Christmas table favors which they are making for the Plum Grove nursing home in Palatine.

Last Saturday found sixth and seventh grade troops 591 and 590 at the museum of Science and Industry in Chicago. day and attended the "Christ- They chartered a bus for the mas in Many Lands" program which included an afternoon show depicting the music, customs and dances of Sweden.

Civil Defense Chief Rebuts Educators' Shelter Stand

The Arlington Heights director of Civil Defense Tuesday took strong exception to a letter sent to President Kennedy by 285 midwest educators objecting to the fallout shelter program.

W. B. Daughtry told the Arlington Heights Junior Women's club in an address that "While I am inclined to believe that most of these people are well-meaning and signed this letter without really checking on the facts concerned, this type of publicity tends to further confuse the American public."

The faculty members of seven Chicago area colleges and universities had declared in their letter that government encouragement of the fallout shelter program "has led to a cruel deception of the people with respect to the protection which would be afforded."

The letter signers saw the principal danger of the present program to be "the false sense of security engendered" and charged that the likelihood of war is increased because the people are being prepared to accept "thermonuclear war as an instrument of national policy."

DAUGHTRY contended that "If present Civil Defense programs are only now preparing our people for thermonuclear war as an instrument of national policy, we are 16 years late with the preparation. Any high school student knows," he told the women's club, "that we adopted this policy at Hiroshima and Nagasaki in August, 1945.

"We have already used nuclear power in warfare. No other nation has. And certainly no other nation will feel any compunction toward using nuclear force against us — we used it first."

THE PROTESTING professors stated in their letter to President Kennedy that "We are aware that our government is trying to deal realistically with the problem of war and peace. Unfortunately, however, government encouragement of shelter construction, as interpreted by the popular press, some local CD officials, and would-be shelter manufacturers, has led to a cruel deception of the people with respect to the protection which would be afforded, especially by individual fallout shelters.

"These shelters might be adequate in a 'minor' atomic war, as could have started in 1950. Such a conservative program has little relevance to the type of large-scale attack which might be anticipated in 1962."

The Arlington Heights CD director commented, "No less an authority than Dr. (Edward) Teller, father of the H-bomb, has stated flatly that our losses can be reduced from 80 or 100 million to 20 million through the simple expedient of building and using fallout shelters.

"TO INFER that the Soviet Union would be more prone to attack the United States if its population had such fallout protection is not a valid argument.

"From a military point of view," Daughtry argued, "any aggressor would be far less prone to launch such a holocaust if he knew that 80 per cent or 90 per cent of the population would survive to fight back and decimate his own nation."

The educators contended: "It is true that such shelters in areas remote from blast centers might temporarily keep alive a number of people.

"HOWEVER, their continued survival, and the survival of civilization as we know it, require also the protection of the physical basis of society — the means of production and distribution, government and communication, and social institutions. A program for doing that is very different from anything now being considered."

Daughtry maintained: "No one at any level of the Civil Defense establishment suggests that fallout shelters would offer adequate protection within five or 10 miles of ground zero.

"Facts published by the Atomic Energy Commission state flatly that substantial blast and fire damage from a 20 megaton bomb extends out to 15 miles from ground zero with minor blast damage and some flash fires as far out as 20 miles from ground zero.

"DUE TO inaccuracies in maps and guidance, no one can predict exactly where ground zero might occur. The shelter concept has been designed to protect the vast majority of people who will be outside the blast and fire zones.

"Obviously no nation could ever achieve a large enough arsenal to space nuclear detonations 40 miles apart in all directions across our nation; most of the nation would be outside blast and thermo-radiation zones."

The professors likened the shelter program to a "quack cure for cancer." They stated:

"If we are lucky, the treatment may not kill us, but in the meantime, while the cancer is growing and becoming incurable, we fail to go to a reputable physician for sensible treatment.

"BY BUYING a shelter program and thereby believing that we can survive a thermonuclear war, we are increasing the probability of war. This probability increases because we may be more willing to go to the brink if we think survival is possible and because we are less likely to take any of the constructive steps to secure the peace."

They added that they thought a thermonuclear war would be "permanently fatal to our democratic society."

Daughtry thinks "Too much misleading information has already appeared in the nation's press and on the airways." He said, "The real facts are horrible enough; distortion of those facts is including vast numbers of people to guess wrong about their chances for survival." He claimed the chances for survival could be increased from 50 to 90 per cent through the use of fallout shelters.

NEARLY HALF of the letter signers, 136, are on Northwestern university's faculty; 74 are from Roosevelt university, 28 from the University of Illinois Navy Pier division, 23 from Lake Forest college, 11 each from the National College of Education in Evanston and Wright Junior college, and two from DePaul university. In addition, seven University of Wichita professors put their signatures on the document.

Core of the Department

Two Grandmothers Run Radio For Rolling Meadows Police

GRANDMOTHER RADIO OPERATORS for the Rolling Meadows police are Rubye McFeggan, left, and Helen Denst. Both consider the Rolling Meadows officers "just our boys." They say their job is never dull and always interesting. Both have been with the force for a little over two years. (B-8

by DAN PRIBILSKI

The patrolmen of the Rolling Meadows police won't admit it, but the core of the department is two grandmothers who operate the police radio.

These operators are Mrs. Rubye McFeggan and Mrs. Helen Denst.

Without the competent handling of the radio for police and fire, the force would be crippled.

To both Mrs. McFeggan and Mrs. Denst, the patrolmen are "just our boys."

The two gals take a lot of ribbing in turn from the men. They are good naturedly badgered and they love every minute of it.

Both admit they're past 50 but neither is ready to sit back and do knitting.

Besides operating the police radio and taking fire calls, Mrs. McFeggan and Mrs. Denst act as police matrons, keep books on police expenditures, and type and file the police records.

Police Chief Cy Campbell is pleased with the performance of his two gals. To give them and the department more official snap, Mrs. McFeggan and Mrs. Denst will be getting blue women's police uniforms soon.

FOUR WEEKS ago the two attended a police radio school in Riverside where they were schooled in the modern procedures which a radio operator should adher to.

But nearly three years ago when both of them started, they were not the proficient radio operators they are today.

Both admit to being nervous when they started.

"She looked so calm," officers commented about Mrs. Denst.

"Really," she says, "I was in a stupor those first three weeks on the job."

MRS. DENST started work in June, 1959. She applied for the job, with no previous radio experience, after learning that there was a radio operator's opening from Frank Zuban, her neighbor and city treasurer.

Mrs. Denst has three grandchildren.

She had at one time worked in the industrial commission of the State of Illinois and also in a law office.

Mrs. McFeggan also has three grandchildren.

SHE BEGAN part-time work in 1958. She orginally started to fill the place of a previous operator who went on vacation for three weeks.

After her initial stint, Chief Campbell called her back whenever the department needed her to take an operator's place. Finally a full-time spot opened up and she was hired.

Mrs. Denst works the 7 a.m. to 3 p.m. shift, and Mrs. McFeggan the 3 p.m. to 11 p.m. shift. The third shift is handled by an officer.

"No two days and no two shifts are alike," Mrs. McFeggan said.

SOMETIMES THE seven to three shift is the busy one, and other times the three to 11 gets all the action.

What kind of things have the two women handled?

"Mostly dog calls and lost children," Mrs. Denst commented.

But there are fires, crimes and emergency calls which they have handled regularly since both started working. They are via radio always in contact with their own officers, the sheriff, the state and Chicago police.

BIGGEST INCIDENT in Mrs. McFeggan's career as an radio operator was an accident a year ago last July at route 53 and Industrial ave.

Nine persons where injured and two children were killed.

"I'll never forget that," Mrs. McFeggan said, reflecting upon the tragedy. "I know it was just the day before my vacation."

BEING A police radio operator means being a good reporter.

"People call and they're all excited," Mrs. Denst commented. "They say there's a fire and you are always afraid they will hang up before they tell you where it is.

"You have to make sure you get the correct name, address, and nature of the incident."

MRS. McFEGGAN does the accounting for the department and she keeps the juvenile records. Mrs. Denst does the typing and making out of police reports.

Both sum up their jobs by saying, "Never dull. Always interesting." (B8

Cordova New Sales Head For Ahrens Publishing Co.

Ahrens Publishing company today announced appointment of Reuben R. Cordova, 213 S. Stratford rd., Arlington Heights, as western sales manager in charge of the firm's Chicago office.

AN ALUMNUS of the University of Southern California, Cordova has been vice president of the Los Angeles Junior Advertising Club, of the Western Society of Business Papers Association, and of the Los Angeles Chapter of the Institutional Food Manufacturers Association. He has been an advertising representative for Ahrens since 1958.

In his new post, Cordova will be responsible for advertising sales in the west for three Ahrens publications: "Restaurant Management," "Restaurant Equipment Dealer" and "Hotel World Review."

He is chairman of the hotels division, Chicago Heart fund; vice president of the Stonegate Homeowners association; a steward of the Arlington Heights Methodist church and treasurer of the church's men's club, and is entertainment chairman of the Arlington Heights Little league fund raising drive. Luxury-Resort Hotel Is Being Built in Oak Brook

Construction of Chicago's first luxury-resort hotel is 40 per cent completed, according to Edwin L. Brashears, president of The Drake Hotels.

The Drake OakBrook, a $4 million hotel to be opened in west suburban Oak Brook in late spring, 1962, neared the half-way mark this week with the installation of a large outdoor swimming pool and simultaneous completion of masonry work on the main, 5-story building. The pool, 75 x 30 feet in size, was installed in a single work day.

"All remaining work is above ground and inside the buildings," Brashears said. "Work is being pushed ahead to meet our estimated date of completion as we are getting heavier response than anticipated," he added.

THE HOTEL is located 30 minutes from Chicago's loop. Already executive meetings and conferences have been booked as far ahead as 1965. Reservations for local and surrounding community groups are "running well ahead of what we expect," Brashears explained. Only the top floor of the main building remains before "topping out." Installation of the swimming pool is the first of its type in the area, according to architects Walton & Walton. Six huge pre-cast and pre-stressed concrete panels weighing 18,000 pounds each were lowered into place by crane in less than eight hours time.

The Drake OakBrook will have 160 guest rooms, two restaurants, a coffee shop, a Tack Room bar, and an old fashioned General Store when completed. The plush Three Oaks dining room will cover a major portion of the main floor in the central building. It will be encased in glass overlooking the pool, and Oak Brook's polo and golf clubs.

GUESTS WILL HAVE access to nearly a dozen sports and recreational activities including swimming, golf, tennis and game shooting. A grand ball room and smaller rooms, the Garden and the Glen, will be available for group and private affairs.

All furnishings and decorations will be French Provincial.

It is reported to be one of the largest single orders for custom designed French Provincial furniture ever placed with a residential furniture manufacturer in the United States.

A helioport will reduce even more the travel time from Chicago to the hotel. (BB

Third Annual Holiday Cage Tourney Slated

The third annual Arlington Heights Park District Holiday Basketball tournament will be held Dec. 27, 28, 29, and 30.

The tournament is divided into two groups; fifth—sixth graders and seventh and eighth graders.

All interested boys should line up their teams and call the park district office, CL. 3-0620 or CL. 5-8850, to put their team on the entry list.

During the tournament the teams may only be coached by elementary and junior high age boys. No adult coaching or managing will be allowed.

Elected Officer

Raymond Ennes, 805 S School st., Mount Prospect, was recently elected first vice-president of the Carthage College Alumni assn. during that group's recent annual election. Ennes is a 1950 graduate of the United Lutheran liberal arts college in Carthage.

Ennes, a stock broker and market analyst with Hornblower and Weeks of Chicago, formerly served as third vice-president of the association. His wife is the former Lois Buss, also an alumna of the college.

Ennes has already assumed the duties of his new post, according to an announcement from the Carthage college alumni office.

Loop Opens Cage Action

The Arlington Heights Park District "Sportsmans" basketball league opened its season on Dec. 6 with two games.

I. B. T. (Ill. Bell Telephone) scored heavily in the second half to outpoint the Chamberlain Press team 50-32. Abbott was high for I. B. T. with 12 points and Weber got 14 for Chamberlain Press.

The Hawkeyes, led by Eu Siemers' 37 points, turned on the power against the Jay Cees, beating the latter 71-22.

Arlington Roofing had a bye for the opening night of play.

	W	L
Hawkeyes	1	0
I. B. T.	1	0
Chamberlain Press	0	1

Schedule — Jan. 10, 1962

Proposed Jr. College Tuition Is Discussed

Whether potential students at the proposed community junior college should pay tuition, and how much such tuition should be, was the main topic of the recent meeting of the finance subcommittee.

The finance subcommittee, headed by Norman Olsen of Des Plaines, is one of five subcommittees working on the north suburban regional college survey covering nine high school districts—Evanston, New Trier, Highland Park, Glenbrook, Niles, Maine, Ridgewood, Palatine-Schaumburg and Arlington-Prospect.

THE SURVEY, now under way, is being conducted by a 90-member lay committee with ten representatives from each of the high school districts. Purpose of the survey is to ascertain needs and feasibility of a community junior college to present voters for final decision.

Three sources of income would be used to support the proposed college — tuition, state aid and income from direct taxes.

A recent community junior college survey, now before voters in the southwest suburban Chicago area, recommended a tuition of $120 per semester. The tax rate in this southwest study was recommended as $.24 per $100 assessed valuation for the college educational fund and $.09 for the building fund. The legal limit is $.50.

MEMBERS of the finance committee considered it important to understand the types of students to be served in a regional college. Dr. Donald Prince, consultant to the finance subcommittee, said it is a question of need. As an example, Dr. Prince pointed to Joliet where 42 per cent of the Joliet township high school graduating class attends the Joliet junior college.

Per capita costs for any two year college will vary according to the type of educational opportunity offered. Final determination of costs will be subject to the recommendation of the curriculum subcommittee.

Cost determination and financing of the proposed community junior college are two of the major problems to be investigated by the survey.

MEMBERS OF the finance committee agreed that a tuition fee is important for three main reasons:

—It relieves the burden on the individual taxpayer;

—It prevents many students from enrolling who are not seriously concerned with education; and —It should increase the value of the educational opportunity in the minds of those who participate in the program.

While the subcommittee reached general agreement on the desirability of some tuition, the group recognized there will be persons unable to afford any costs for higher education. Because of this factor further discussions on the tuition question will be held before any firm recommendation is made by the subcommittee for the final survey information. (B8

TV Probes Suburban 'Living'

Six of the world's most ingenious low-income suburban housing projects will be visited on Suburban Living, a special one-hour program to be telecast on WTTW-Channel 11 Monday, Dec. 18 at 8:30 p.m.

Included in the program will be Harlow, a large project near London built in 1947; the London County Council's Alton Estate, incorporating a large amount of green space in a small total area; L'Unite d'Habitation, a vertical neighborhood of stores, homes and playgrounds built on stilts and designed by Le Corbusier for the dockworkers of Marseilles; projects in Sweden and Holland; and Canada's newest suburban project of Don Mills, near Toronto.

The discussion accompanying the films considers various elements of suburban living and town planning; rentals at one-sixth of income; the effect of row housing on young children; the location of shopping areas and schools; the separation of traffic; landscaping and the provision of parks, playgrounds, and green belts; and the kinds and spacing of housing. Cagers Register Wins Over Leyden

Prospect high's frosh basketball teams continued their winning ways last Saturday with both the "A" and "B" units racking up their second straight decisions.

Coack Ken Arneson's "A" squad posted a 51-32 victory over West Leyden and Lou Schairer's "Bs" collected a 39-20 decision over the visiting Northlake Knights.

Keith Bergen pumped in 11 points to spark the Prospect "A" squad with nine players contributing counters for the victors. Backing Bergen were Steve Johnsen with ten, Gregg Melzer with eight, and Jim LaRocco and Wayne Kuklinski with seven each.

After a tight first half Prospect exploded in the third quarter and outscored the visitors 17-3.

Score by quarters:

Prospect	10	9	17	15—51
West Leyden	4	9	3	16—32

In the frosh "B" game Prospect moved out to a 21-10 lead and held on for its second straight decision.

Nine boys scored for the young Knights with Bill Reising rimming 12 to top both teams. Other high scorers for Prospect were Jim Junckunc with eight and Marty Ryan with five.

Score by quarters:

Prospect	12	9	12	6—39
W. Leyden	6	4	5	5—20

Prospect's two frosh squads will journey to Wheaton this Saturday morning, Dec. 16, for games at 9:30.

Loop Opens Play

Contrasting tight squeezes and runaway margins marked the debut of the Northwest Community Basketball League for the 1961-1962 season. After Charles McClellan, Executive Secretary of the Northwest Suburban YMCA which supervises the adult cage league, threw out the first ball at the Chippewa gym, the ensuing six games were either too close for comfort or too comfortable to be close for the twelve managers.

At the Chippewa school the opener was decided at the foul line as Geno's Lounge of Chicago sank 19 out of 25 attempts for an amazing 76% to edge the Independents 41—35. Other Divisional contests found First Savings of Park Ridge rolling over Burchard's Cleaners of Des Plaines 71—25, while St. Paul's Lutheran church of Mt. Prospect was romping to a 60—28 triumph over the Rimrammers.

At the Algonquin School Universal Oil Products weathered the storm in the first game to outlast American Airlines 40-39. Beacon Tap broke the second tilt wide open in the final stanza to down Delta Airlines 59-40. The finale saw O'Hare Control Tower in an uphill struggle to wrest victory away from the 64th Troop Carrier Squadron by the thin margin of 40-36.

Top scorer for the evening was manager Dick Brubaker (First Savings) who poured in a dozen field goals and added a free throw for 25 points. The clutch performance was turned in by Bob Dotts (Geno's Lounge) who calmly sank 8 out of 9 free throws in the final quarter to insure victory.

League Favorites Roll On; Garden Liquors in Rout

No major upsets occured in the second week of the Arlington Heights Park District "Classic" basketball league.

Top favorites Garden Liquors, Pro Sports Center, and Klehm's Nursery each took their opponents as expected.

Garden Liquors had to play the "Iron Man" role for the second week in a row with five players going the distance in a 96-63 downing of the Pure Oilers. Joe Huske and Ron Feiereisel led the way with 32 and 29 points respectfully.

PRO SPORTS Center romped over Hoffman Estates 82-47, while Klehm's Nursery dropped the 755th Radar Squadron 53-35.

Pederson's "66," who will probably have much to do with the out come of the "Classic" League, won over Meyer's Dairy 56-44.

In other contests Lynnwood outscored Teachers "63", 53-37 and the 45th Artillery Brigade tamed the "Tigers," 63-35.

St. Peter Five In 88-22 Victory

St. Peter of Arlington Heights again displayed its offensive power in Walther league basketball with an effortless 88-22 victory over St. Andrew of Park Ridge.

Freise poured in 28 markers to spark the victors with Meyn contributing 17.

St. Paul of Mt. Prospect downed its namesake team from Norwood Park 69-14 and the victory created a two-way tie for first and three-way tie for third. Moritz sparked St. Paul with 23 and Mueller and Simpson each collected nine.

In the third game Sunday Immanuel of Des Plaines gained its first victory of the season with a 57-31 conquest of Our Savior of Norwood Park.

Wins Soph Mat Battle

Ken Rozek and Tom Johannesen maintained their unbeaten records but that wasn't enough last Saturday as Prospect's frosh-soph wrestlers suffered a 27-20 setback at West Leyden.

Coach Maurie Levy's outfit could never take the lead in the sophomore test although it closed the gap to two points at 180.

The victories were the third straight for both Rozek and Johannesen. Other scorers for Prospect were Dick Greene with a pin at 133 and Jim Zaehler with a tie at 103.

Laud Fiscal Report; Criticize Its Cost

High praise for a newly designed and conceived annual fiscal report prepared by Arlington Heights Finance Director Thomas De Riemer was clouded Monday night at the village board meeting by criticism of the amount of money it cost.

The new-style report gives a complete and comprehensive picture of the village's financial status, and a representative from the auditing firm of Ernst and Ernst told the board that this year, for the first time, it was able to audit the village books without first performing a complete bookkeeping job.

THE REPORT, with its detailed information, is expected to enhance the village's position when advertising for bids on bonds, particularly significant at this time, since the village has plans to issue $350,000 in bonds for a new municipal building, and $3.5 million for sewer construction and a water well.

Certain criticisms were raised, however, when the board was considering approval of the monthly accounts payable.

Trustee Richard Glantz noted that the auditing fees this year were double the amount budgeted for this purpose, and stated that the board spent hours and hours preparing a budget and if a deviation was to be made, the board should be informed.

In partial explanation, Trustee Sam Wit said that a portion of the money was used to set up new procedures to be followed, and was a "one-shot" proposition. Village Manager L. A. Hanson said the actual audit cost was $4,620, then itemized a few other added costs, and said the balance of $3,263 was for the financial report itself.

Village President John G. Woods said he thought the board was in agreement that the report was an excellent one and would be of great value to the village, a statement backed up by Ernst and Ernst.

THIS DID not satisfy Glantz, who said, "We've got trouble if a department can spend twice the amount budgeted for something. If someone did this in business he wouldn't last five minutes."

Glantz later added that if this is the way the village is being operated, "I can see why we need an audit."

Trustee Eugene Schlickman agreed with Glantz in respect to expenditures exceeding the budget, recalling that there was a similar over-expenditure by the finance department noted only a short time.

Hanson said the report represented the final step in "putting the house in order," so to speak, with bookkeeping and accounting procedures now on a sound, business-like basis.

The Ernst firm representative, upon questioning, said the village has made much progress in the past year and one-half, and now compares favorably with other villages its size.

THE FINANCIAL report already has been praised by university professors and other professionals in the field as highly complete, understandable, and valuable from the village's standpoint.

Although there appeared little doubt that the expenses for the audit were justifiable, payment was withheld Monday night pending a detailed examination. The Ernst and Ernst audit, incorporated in the report, was accepted, however, and placed on file. (A

Motorists Warned Of Frost Hazards

Frost is where you find it. The poet may find it "on the pumpkin" but Chief of Police L. W. Calderwood, Arlington Heights, is more concerned about frost found on auto windshields and roads these cold mornings.

Calderwood warned motorists this week to make certain they scrape their windshield in the morning before they drive their car, because frost-covered windshields impair visibility and offenders may find themselves facing a fine.

"EVERY DRIVER must realize that it's impossible to drive safely with ice-covered windows clouding the driver's view," Calderwood said. "It's are simple, and important, as that."

Calderwood also called attention to another spot likely to be frost-covered — street pavements, particularly on bridges and overpasses While the rest of the pavement may be clear, bridges and overpasses aren't in contact with the ground and may stay colder much longer than the other parts of the roadway, causing the frost to linger. Houser Opines:

Government Stops Railroads' Progress

"What really is at stake is the survival of the kind of economy under which America has grown to greatness — the free enterprise system."

This observation was made last week by Thomas J. Houser of Arlington Heights in an address before the Arlington Heights Rotary club entitled, "Can the Railroads Survive Under Private Ownership?"

Houser, a trial attorney for the Burlington Railroad, said the recent decline of the railroads' share of the total transportation volume is due primarily to two factors:

—restrictive governmental legislation which fails to recognize that railroads no longer have a monopoly on the movement of people and goods, and

THOMAS J. HOUSER

—featherbedding practices by the operating unions which likewise have failed to keep pace with changing times and technological progress.

IN DISCUSSING the railroad industry's economic plight, Houser pointed out that in 1960 the railroads ranked last in profits among 73 industries and industry groups.

"At the root of the railroads' troubles is a wierd mixture of outmoded government policies and restrictive laws which have sharply tilted the competitive scales against the railroad industry," Houser said.

"The most glaring example of the discrimination in government regulatory policies lies in the difficulty railroads experience whenever they try to inject more attractive prices into their marketing program.

"ALL TOO often the railroads find the Interstate Commerce Commission (ICC) saying 'no' to requests for lower prices."

Houser indicated the railroads are not going to be able to attract the additional business volume they need as long as the ICC continues to consider each competitive rate adjustment proposed by the railroads in the light of whether it will take business away from the motor or water carriers.

"It's time for the ICC to face the economic facts of life," he said. "Transportation costs determine who gets the business. How can the railroads increase their business unless the cost factor is introduced?

"PRICE consideration helped the railroads' competitors take business away from them in the first place, and price considerations will help the railroads recover the business."

Houser concluded by saying the railroad industry is prepared to move forward with the country; all it needs is to be given the chance to do so.

"The railroads want to share the economies inherent in modern railroad operations. All they need to do this is the right to compete on the same level with other transport industries."

Church Schedules Christmas Program

The Christmas program of the Prospect Christian church, now meeting temporarily in the Feehanville school, 1400 Foundry rd., will be Sunday, Dec. 17, at 7 p.m.

All the youth departments of the Sunday School, under the direction of Raymond Carrell, will present the Christmas story.

THE TEENAGERS, including the junior high department, will present "A Teenager's Christmas" pageant. The cast will consist of John Heinzen, Twyla and Cheryl Maxwell, Wiley and Mary Lee Edwards, Marcia Moorhous, Carol Hanks, Robert Barker and Karen Moorhous.

The junior department under the direction of Mrs. Raymond Carrell will present a narrative chorus of the nativity from the Bible.

The primary department will give Christmas recitations and sing Christmas carols. This will be supervised by Mrs. James Jacobs and Mrs. Eugene Miller.

THE PRE-SCHOOL children will be directed in an "Opening Candle Lighting Service" by Mrs. Chesley Edwards. Mrs. Richard Green will lead this group in a playlet entitled "Roll of Christmas Candles."

The nursery department will be singing Christmas songs under the direction of Mrs. James Jacobs. Mrs. Jacobs has the oversight of all the Christmas music.

The minister, Carl W. Moorhous, will have a Christmas devotional topic, and the elders of the church will serve communion. (ACM

Faith's Second Yule Program Is Sunday

Faith Lutheran church will present the second of its annual Christmas programs Sunday, Dec. 20, at 7 p.m. This second program is again a special children's service, entitled "I Love You, Lord Jesus," and is presented by the primary department of Faith Sunday school, under the direction of Mrs. William Keiser.

THESE 6 AND 7-year-old children will tell of their Christmas love in recitations and songs, such as "How Glad I Am Each Christmas Eve," "Away In The Manger," "Angels We Have Heard on High," and "Silent Night."

There will also be a living nativity scene, dramatized by a cast of 18 primary children. Speakers will be Rev. E. H. Behrens, pastor of the church, and Henry J. Schroeder, superintendent of the Sunday school.

Q. In a double wedding of two sisters, does each bride have her own maid-of-honor?

A. Yes; although they may share bridesmaids. And, of course, each bridegroom has his own best man, too.

Announce Church Yule Services

The schedule of Christmas services at Lutheran Church of the Cross, Arlington Heights, was announced this week by the Rev. Bruce K. Benander, pastor.

The annual Sunday school program will be held at 4 p.m. this Sunday in Pioneer park fieldhouse under the direction of Clifford Dotseth, school superintendent. Mrs. Richard Morgan is in charge of planning the pageant.

THE CHURCH'S Augustana Lutheran Church Women's organization will serve a supper at 5 p.m., to be followed at 6 p.m. by a concert of Christmas music by the Harmonettes, choral group from Arlington high school.

Sunday, Dec. 24, Church of the Cross will hold its regular worship service at 9:30 a.m. and Christmas Eve services at 7:30 p.m. in the Pioneer park fieldhouse.

A New Year's Eve watch service will be held Dec. 31 in the parsonage, 1029 S. Pine ave. (A

'Christmas Is For Giving' At Faith

"Christmas is for Giving," will be the basic theme of Faith Ladies society Christmas party Wednesday, Dec. 20. With this theme in mind the ladies have decided to forego the usual grab bag festivity and donate the money that would have been spent in buying grab bag gifts to the Bethesda Home for the Mentally Retarded in Watertown, Wis.

THE CHRISTMAS meeting will begin with the ladies joining the congregation in the advent service at 7:30 p. m. Rev. Edgar Behrens will officiate and Vicar Harvey Honig will give the meditation. The ladies are looking forward to special hymns which will be sung by the Senior choir.

After the services a brief meeting will be held in Fellowship hall and then the refreshments will be served by a committee headed by Mrs. R. Fruechtenicht and a "home talent" program arranged by Mrs. Marvin Brand, program hostess for the party.

Eye 'Public Benefit'

George St. Projects Re-Examined by Board

The amount of declared public benefit and the resulting total of special assessments against property owners for street and sidewalk improvements on George st. between Pine and Bristol, with some work intersecting Belmont and Burton sts., were re-examined Monday night by the Arlington Heights village board.

William Trude and Jerry Chapman, appearing on behalf of a third attorney and property owners representing $33,000 of the $ 55,000 of the project slated for special assessment, said they hoped the board would exert influence to get the public benefit portion of the total cost increased.

THE PUBLIC benefit portion of a project is paid for by the village and set by a commissioner on the basis of what percentage of the project benefits the public as a whole, as opposed to benefiting only affected property owners.

Trude said he has filed objections to the assessments in county court, but that he hoped some adjustment could be made without pressing the court action.

The public benefit of the $72,000 project amounts to about 35 per cent, as detailed by village engineer Norman Toberman. He stated that compared with other greater and lesser projects, this is a fair amount.

TRUDE ARGUED that assessments for street and sidewalk of $ 2,000 to $2,600, for some property owners in the area might just about ruin them, that many of the houses were modest, possibly in the $16,000 to $ 18,000 class.

To this argument was added Trustee William Sauer's comment that with an assessment of that m agnitude, the only way an owner could get his money out of the property would be to tear down the house and put up an apartment building.

Trude took the position that the commissioner had failed to adequately consider the value to the general public of the improvement, particularly in view of the fact that George st. is a major access thoroughfare to Scarsdale to the east.

Trude also said he believed the court, if finally called upon to decide t he matter, would set a substantially higher public benefit and possibly delay the project indefinitely.

STEVE JURCO, board of local improvements attorney, said the village board has no jurisdiction over the amount of public benefit, but that the commissioner probably would react to an indication by the board that the public benefit should be increased.

A point of contention between board members concerned the 28-foot street widths planned in the improvement. Sauer pointed out t hat Scarsdale has 24-foot streets.

"To put in 28-foot streets a t this cost borders on the ridiculous," Sauer said, his views subsequently opposed by Trustee Eugene Schlickman.

There was g eneral agreement, h ow ever, that the whole project should be further examined and the board directed Jurco to delay further court action until the village board could meet with the Board of local improvements to discuss the matter. (A

Suspect Burglary At Site of Fire

Firemen were called to 307 N. Yale, in Arlington Heights Tuesday to put out a blaze in the living room, then found upon examination that it appeared the home had been burglarized.

Fire Chief Harvey Carothers said it was found the glass window in the back door had been broken and the master bedroom apparently ransacked.

POLICE WERE then called. The residence was the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Carlson.

Firemen were called by a next door neighbor who noticed smoke coming from the Carlson house, went inside and brought outside the Carlson's dog.

Neither Carlson nor his wife were at home; he was at work in Chicago and she was out shopping. (AF

Directors Propose Dividend

Directors of State Bank and Trust company, Evanston, voted to ask stockholders' approval of a 10 per cent dividend in stock. The proposal will be submitted to stockholders at the annual meeting scheduled for January 9, 1962. If approved, the bank's capital stock will be increased to $1,210,000 and the number of shares outstanding to 24,200.

In addition to the proposed stock dividend, the directors declared a cash dividend of $2.50 per share, payable January 15, 1962 to stock of record January 10, with a similar cash dividend to be paid on the increased capital stock in July of 1962.

ALMOST EVERYTHING IN YOUR HOME NEEDS MOISTURE

WITHOUT PROPER HUMIDITY --

- YOU and your Family suffer health hazards.
- BOOKS and all paper items age faster.
- HOUSE PLANTS wither and wilt.
- PETS suffer the same ill effects as humans.
- CARPETS and TEXTILES become "lifeless" — fibers become brittle — wear faster.
- FURNITURE JOINTS dry out — become weak. Pianos especially feel the damaging effects of dry air.
- Venetian blinds, window shades, paintings, picture frames and countless other items suffer from the dry air from forced air furnaces.

New Tubular Walkways In Operation at O'Hare

An entirely new concept in passenger loading bridges will be used by Continental Airlines at O'Hare field next January when 80-foot-long, tubular walkways are placed in operation between the company's new gatehouse and its Golden Jet Boeing 707s.

Made of high-strength aluminum alloy, the 8½-foot-diameter "drawbridges" can be raised to a 35-degree angle, lowered in 20 seconds to aircraft doorways. The bridges also can swing horizontally in a 20-foot arc or be lowered to the ground to handle non-jet aircraft. The last six feet of each tube telescopes.

Each drawbridge will cost $40,000. The airline also will use the loading bridges at Los Angeles in late 1962 and at Denver, when that city's new terminal is completed several years hence.

ED GRISCO, organ instructor, was featured organist at the Christmas meeting of the Lowrey Organ club held in the Art Van Damme Music Studios. The "Happy Harmonizers" from the Concordia chapter of Sweet Adelines also entertained the club. (BB

WALTER READING, 352 Cedar lane, Elk Grove Village, was recently promoted to personnel manager at Motorola, Inc., Chicago. Reading started with the company as an employment interviewer five years ago. He is currently working toward a master's degree in personnel management at Loyola university.

J. E. Irvin Promoted

Joe E. Irvin, 202 N. Salem ave., Arlington Heights, has been appointed to the newly created position of package engineer for Baxter Laboratories, Inc.

Irvin was graduated from Michigan State university in 1961 with a B. S. degree in package engineering.

Baxter Laboratories, Inc. manufactures pharmaceuticals and equipment for the medical profession.

Illinois Tollway Gives Winter Driving Facts

The Illinois Tollway again this year will provide a winter driving aid by advising motorists at all attended toll plazas of unusual road conditions ahead—accident, fog, or ice.

Charles M. Burgess, chairman of the Illinois State Toll Highway commission, announced that the service has been improved with the addition of special signs at all automatic toll collection lanes. Previously, automatic lanes were closed under special conditions, and all traffic channeled through attended lanes.

"SIGNS HAVE NOW been installed directly under the traffic control signal in all automatic lanes," Burgess said. "These signs are 13"x9" with yellow lettering on a black background and will be displayed whenever road conditions ahead indicate the need for extra caution in driving."

In addition, all patrons using attended lanes will be informed by toll collectors of any unusual conditions.

Whenever ice, fog, or an accident warrants special caution, the Illinois Tollway patrol will radio instructions to the nearest toll plazas in the area involved to display the proper sign and advise all motorists passing through.

Directory For Dogs Published

Published in time for the Christmas puppy rush, a new edition of a unique directory titled "Where to Buy, Board or Train a Dog" has just made its appearance at Harmondale Kennels, 5N668 S. Garden ave., Roselle.

The directory, free on request, provides a national listing of kennels, arranged by state and community, together with available breed or breeds, boarding and training facilities, etc. Included also is information to answer a buyer's questions concerning selection of a pet and care of the puppy in its new home.

Credit Chinese For Gift Wraps

Credit the ancient Chinese for introducing two Christmas decorating techniques, gift wrapping and paper honeycomb. They celebrated the New Year by exchanging gifts, says the Rust Craft institute, and like to incorporate a special symbolism into their packages with fancy wrappings.

The Chinese also developed the idea of gluing several layers of paper together to make paper honeycomb decorations, created primarily for the New Year celebration.

Pupils of Mount Prospect Teacher Attend Her Wedding

When Karen Ann Bowen returned after the Thanksgiving holidays to teach her first grade pupils at Lincoln school, Mt. Prospect, the children already knew that on November 22 she had changed her name to Mrs., for the entire class attended the candlelight service in which she became the bride of Forrest Samuel Smith.

The bride, daughter of the Carl H. Bowens, 115 W. Central, Arlington Heights, and the groom, son of the Forrest W. Smiths of Indianapolis, met while attending Indiana university. Their wedding took place in Mt. Prospect Community church at 8 p.m. with Rev. C. Victor Brown and Dr. William T. Jones officiating.

ORGANIST for the service was Theodore Lams and soloist was Leon Hicks, whose selections were "The Wedding Prayer," "O Love that Casts out Fear" and "O Perfect Love." White mums and greens decorated the church.

The bride chose an informal length gown of pale ivory peau de soie with pearls in a star-dust design enhancing the fitted bodice. The gown was made with gently flared skirt and cummberbund held in place with a flat bow in front to give a lowered waist appearance. The neckline was squared and her sleeves were bracelet length.

Her french illusion veil was held in place by a tiny pearl crown and she carried a cascade of stephanotis and phalaenopsis. Mr. Bowen gave his daughter in marriage.

MISS DIANE Roe of Ft. Wayne was the bride's maid of honor and Ann Strupp of Ann Arbor was bridesmaid. The bride's sister, Mary Bowen, was junior bridesmaid. All wore ballerina gowns of emerald velvet with fitted bodices and controlled bell skirts with added detail of satin piping. Matching milan veils were held by hats of self fabric and they carried cascades of yellow and bronze button mums.

Mrs. Bowen, also in green, chose a ribbon knit with beige accessories and her flowers were beige cymbidiums.

Stephen Foster of Indianapolis was best man and ushers were Stephan Kilpatrick of Martinsville, Ind., Michael Wiley of Chicago and Anthony Anthony of Indianapolis.

A RECEPTION for 175 guests was held in Itasca country club after which Mr. Smith took his bride on a 5-day honeymoon in Chicago. The groom then left for Aberdeen, Md. to enter the army and will be joined January 4 by his bride.

The new Mrs. Smith, who was graduated from Arlington high school and Indiana university, is affiliated with Pi Beta Phi sorority. Her bridegroom is a member of Delta Upsilon fraternity and before entering the service, was employed by the Chicago Tribune. (Bak Studio (S

Keep Tots' Christmas Excitement in Check

Keeping children's excitement under control at Christmas time is like predicting the weather. It's difficult, but it's possible if you have guides.

Mrs. Willie Mae Mowrer, assistant professor of child development and family relations at the University of Illinois, suggests that you help children avoid fatigue. Keep a routine of play and rest periods for younger children. When the routine is upset by Christmas parties and holiday preparations, balance the rest budget as soon as possible. Remember that anticipation and excitement may keep children from going to sleep as quickly as usual.

BEWARE OF stimuli that build up anticipation too long before Christmas. The younger the child, the more difficult it is for him to understand time, a month, week, days and even hours. So schedule your trip to see Santa Claus and to the toy stores according to his age and understanding of time.

Accept the inevitable, almost daily changes in the youngster's gift list. Advertisements and TV commercials, as well as his own changing and varied interests, make the final decision difficult until the last moment.

Some early preparation is necessary. But when you make fruit cakes and cookies before Christmas, give the children a sample. Then store them out of sight. It's hard to wait for that long-off day to eat Christmas goodies.

A SPARKLY Christmas tree in the living room two weeks before Christmas makes excitement grow and time drag.

A positive approach to keeping excitement under control is to plan family activities that emphasize the true meaning of Christmas. Reading appropriate Christmas stories together builds both the true Christmas spirit and a rewarding family tradition. (S

Bride's Brother Reads Text Before 400 Wedding Guests

"As for me and my house, we will serve the Lord" was the text of the wedding address given by Guy A. Vogel during his sister's wedding October 14 in Immanuel Lutheran church, Palatine. The bride, Lee Carolyn Vogel, is the daughter of the Norman A. Vogels, Echo lane, Palatine, and the groom, David Kolzow, is the son of the Roy Kolzows of Detroit, former Schaumburg residents.

Mr. Vogel is vicaring at Howard Lake, Minn. to complete his studies for the ministry. The wedding ceremony itself, was performed by Rev. R. C. Sauer, pastor of Immanuel church.

Both the bride and groom are graduates of Concordia Teacher's college, River Forest, where they met four years ago, and both are now teaching in Lutheran schools. The bride teaches first and second grade at Northwest Lutheran school in Elmwood Park and had invited all her students to the wedding as guests of honor. The groom teaches religion and geography at Luther High North, Chicago.

FOUR HUNDRED guests attended the church ceremony for which Paul Reprecht of Skokie, a college classmate of the couple, served as organist. A cousin of the groom, who is also a student at Concordia, rendered a trumpet selection, "Trumpet Tune in D," for the recessional.

The congregation also took part in the service by singing a hymn and reading Psalm 46 responsively with the pastor. Holy communion was also a part of the service.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Miss Gay Vogel, a junior at Concordia, River Forest, and bridesmaids were the 4-year-roommate of the bride, Mrs. Marlene Emerich, and the groom's sister, Miss Judy Kolzow. Flower girl was Martha Vogel, cousin of the bride from Cape Giradeau, Mo.

The attendants wore gowns of harvest gold velveteen with peau de soie sashes, matching shoes and small crowns of the peau. Gold and bronze mums filled the baskets they carried.

THE BRIDE'S gown of miramist, was designed and made by the bride and her mother. It was fashioned with swedish lace appliqued around the neckline and sleeves, and with a small train that converted into a bustle for the reception.

A small crown of pearls and crystals held her fingertip illusion veil and she carried a bouquet of large white fuji mums. Her only jewelry was a sterling cross with a center diamond, a gift from her bridegroom.

Ronald Farah, vicar of St. Andrew Lutheran church, Park Ridge, was best man to the groom and ushers were Paul Harris and Clyde Gugel of Detroit.

TWO RECEPTIONS followed the service. The first, for the 400 wedding guests, was held in the Immanuel school cafeteria, where, instead of the usual miniature bride and groom, the cake featured a bronze cross with entwined rings, the Christian symbol of marriage in Christ.

The second reception, for 200 guests, was held at the home of the bride's parents, where a buffet was served. Mrs. Vogel received in a royal blue jersey sheath with matching accessories while the groom's mother chose a beige suit-dress with fur trim and matching hat and shoes. Both mothers wore corsages of white fuji mums.

The newlyweds are now living in Elmwood Park. (S

Here's HAUGH to Plan a Party

A Livin' Givin' Party

By DOLORES HAUGH

Christmas spirit is in the air, surprises are lurking in every house, whispering children and long "I want" lists are being started. But try and pause and think of the real meaning of Christmas. Not the getting, but the giving. This can become the best and most looked forward to part of your Christmas.

INVITATIONS

Families love a little something extra. So have a special invitation at their plate one morning before Christmas. Have it read:

Come to a party we're having at home
The family, and that includes you.
I won't tell you everything about the party
But there will be lots of fun, too.

Make a note of the time and day. A Sunday afternoon would be perfect. The form of the invitation can be up to you with the motif dependent on the ages of the children. A train with holly on board or something to do with your family's hobbies, just so the Christmas touch is added by the use of holly or pine, stars or ornaments.

PREPARATION

The plan is the thing. Plan what project your family will take on for their livin' and givin'. The family with tiny children may wish to take out all the outgrown clothes, toys and games. These would then be inspected and pieces found, chips touched up, new dresses made for the dolls, and then gift wrapped with the prettiest paper possible. Be sure to mark what the contents of the package are on a good sized tag.

Then give these gifts to local charities such as Toys for Tots sponsored by the Marine Corps with the Shell service stations acting as collecting agents, church affiliated charities, Salvation Army or Goodwill. For the family with teenagers there are loads of other giving ideas.

Perhaps your church needs help in washing windows or getting the outside display ready. If your family is musical visit an orphanage, old people's home, hospital and sing carols. Remember all gifts are not material. A gift of yourself is much more appreciated.

Homemade "goodies" for shutins, and the list could go on and on but you decide and most of all, make it fun. You will be surprised how much more your Christmas will mean when you know you have helped your fellowman and are living and giving the true meaning of Christmas.

DECORATIONS AND MENU

Decorations may merely be some that you are planning to use this year but do set a pretty "special" table other than one where you are working. A picnic Christmas snack served on a blanket on the floor will be accepted with shouts of glee from the small fry. A card table or coffee table in the front room makes everyone feel all grown up.

Simple hot beverage of tea or cocoa or a hot fruit juice served in mugs and accompanied with a few cookies and peppermint candy canes make it a party without even trying.

May your Christmas of living and giving be one of the most wonderful you've ever had.

P.S. If you try this party, please drop me a note, by way of the Fence Post. I'd love to hear what your family did this year. (S

Nike Wives Plan Lunch, Kids' Party

The 45th Brigade Women's club will meet for luncheon at the Arlington Heights Nike base officers' club, Arlington Heights, Thursday, Dec. 14, with Mrs. James K. Kurilko, Mrs. David P. Bernard, Mrs. William Lieb and Mrs. Douglas Nolen all of Hoffman Estates, as hostesses.

The program will feature a jewelry showing by Mrs. Virginia Gibzinski and articles shown will be for sale.

THE CLUB will assist the 45th Brigade officers' club in sponsoring an officers' dependent children's Christmas party the afternoon of December 23 in the brigade theatre. This annual affair will provide refreshments and entertainment for youngsters and a gift from Santa Claus. Among those assisting will be Mrs. Paul Gravel and Mrs. Henry Havens of Palatine and Mrs. Charles Hoffman and Mrs. William F. Brown of Arlington Heights.

Q. I am to be married for the first time, but my fiance is a widower. Under these circumstances, may I have a large, formal wedding?

A. Certainly; since it is YOUR first marriage, you may plan it on any scale you wish.

Q. When the folded napkin is laid on the left side of the plate, should the open edge be toward the plate or away from it?

A. Toward the plate.

Joan Anderson Is Now Mrs. John P. Milnamow

A Glenview man, John P. Milnamow, returned to his former hometown of Arlington Heights November 18 to claim as his bride, Joan E. Anderson, daughter of the junior William T. Andersons, 1001 N. Yale, Arlington Heights. The service took place at noon in St. James Catholic church with Rev. George R. Roth officiating.

White mums and gladioli decorated the church altar while the pews were marked with white mums tied with white ribbons.

Approaching the altar with her father, the bride wore a light ivory ottoman silk gown fashioned with scooped neckline, traditional long sleeves, fitted bodice with semi-princess waist and bouffant skirt. The back of the skirt was topped with a bow and fell into a sweeping train.

A MATCHING silk pillbox with alencon lace appliques and seed pearls held her illlusion veil and she carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums and stephanotis.

Miss Rosemary Meyer of Chicago was the bride's maid of honor. Miss Anderson also included two junior bridesmaids among her attendants, her sister, Mary Ruth Anderson, and the bridegroom's step-sister, Miss Diane Kinast of Glenview.

All wore identical gowns of olive green silk taffeta fashioned with bell skirts. They also wore matching pillbox hats and shoes and carried bronze mums and wheat.

The green ensemble theme was also carried out by the mothers of the bridal couple. Mrs. Anderson chose a light sage green silk sheath with matching jacket and white orchid corsage. Mrs. Milnamow wsa also in a green silk sheath with jacket and white orchid corsage.

JOHN Glueckert of Arlington Heights was best man and ushers were Ronald Kamp of Washington, D. C., Kenneth Lempke, formerly of Arlington Heights, and the bride's brother, John Anderson of Arlington Heights.

One hundred guests attended the reception in Inverness country club.

The bride is employed by J. Walter Thompson Co., Chicago, and the bridegroom, who has studied at Marquette and Georgetown universities, is with International Harvester Corp., Chicago. (Bak Studios (S

Just Around the Corner from Patty McArdle

Pity Poor Parents

Dear Peg:

Did you know that doctors who work with mental patients find that there's a marked increase in depression as Christmas approaches? As a sort of out-patient myself I can easily explain this. All it takes is five children and the Christmas toy commercials on television to create a really big state of depression! Oh, not among the toy-makers, the ad-men and the children—they're real maniacs this time of the year—it's the poor patient-parent purchasers who get gloomier every time the cartoon goes off and the commercial comes on.

Really, aren't there any toys under ten dollars worth showing to children? Don't the people responsible for these commercials realize that in the vast majority of homes they invade there are little viewers too young to know what 15 or 20 dollars are and who are itching to get up on Santa's knee and ask for one of each toy and who'll be lucky to get even one of them on Christmas morning? Of course, they realize it, but are unwilling to do anything about it. In fact, this year they're even smarter.

Just to be sure that Mama doesn't nip the kiddie's desire in the bud, when he comes running into the kitchen saying, "And Mama it's only $14.98," (a direct quote from the commercial) the price is often omitted. Come to think of it, this does have its advantages. You don't have to go around the house all depressed—you can simply go into shock when you get to the toy store and see the price tag on your darling's heart's desire. (One of your darling's heart's desire, that is).

Can you imagine a Utopia in which Christmas commercials for children came over something like this: "Now, listen carefully children and be sure to tell Mama. The most important part of Christmas is giving—whether it's more love to your family and friends or whether it's gifts to people you don't even know. Why don't you find some old magazines from which Mommy will let you cut pictures and make a scrap book to give to some little child who doesn't have a home and Mother or Daddy who love him. Maybe Mama will even let you help make candy or cookies to give too. I'll bet you can sing some very nice Christmas songs. Wouldn't those very old people who live together in that big house in town be happy if several of you visited them and sang for them? I imagine you could even say some poems or put on a little Christmas play. Perhaps you know a little girl who would like a doll very much. You have so many.

"Couldn't you dress one of them all up, put a ribbon in her hair and give her away? You know I wouldn't be surprised that if you did some of these things, you're Christmas morning would be the happiest ever—I'm sure there are many people who love you and want to give you gifts. Why don't you try it and see?"

Obviously, I'm daydreaming again—this couldn't happen in a commercial.

Oh my, I just heard a commercial for a Garfield Goose puppet for only $1.98. But I don't hear the patter of little feet asking me to tell Santa Claus to bring it. After all, who wants a puppet when you can have an electric train that fires missiles for only $30?

My love,
Patty

Jean Tonn, Groom Exchange Vows In Candlelight Rites

Prospect Heights is the new home of a young Wheeling pair, Mr. and Mrs. Jack E. Mayer, who became man and wife on August 19 in the Community Presbyterian church, Mount Prospect.

Their double ring rites, conducted by Rev. Mr. Eckstrom, at 7 p.m. were highlighted by singing of "The Lord's Prayer," and "Because," by the bride's former teacher, Sterling Mische.

EXCHANGING vows was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Tonn of Wheeling, the former Jean D. Tonn, and the bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mayer of the same town.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Tonn wore a floor-length white silk organza gown accented with lace bodice, chapel train and appliques of seed pearls on the skirt.

HOLDING her fingertip veil in place was a crown of matching pearls. White roses fashioned the bridal bouquet and in the same color scheme mums and gladioli decorated the altar.

White daisies in colonial shape with blue streamers added contrast to the yellow nylon dress worn by maid of honor, Shirley Bitter of Wheeling. Dressed the same but carrying blue daisies with white streamers were bridesmaids, Lorraine Tonn and Judith Brumm, also of Wheeling.

IN AN IDENTICAL gown was flowergirl, Cathy Gutzman of Des Plaines, age 5, who carried a basket of white daisies. A royal blue sheath was the choice of Mrs. Tonn, while the groom's mother preferred a beige gown. Both had yellow rose corsages.

Serving as best man was Jack Kimsey of Wheeling. From the same town was usher, Donald Schuler, also Charles Willney, Glenview. They were among 250 guests present at the reception held later in the local AMVET hall.

HONEYMOON destination was Tomahawk, Wis. for a week and since September 5 the bridal pair have made residence in Prospect Heights. The bride was graduated from Prospect high and is employed by General Telephone Directory Co. in Des Plaines.

Mr. Mayer completed studies at Arlington high school and is with Mayer Oil Co. (Jenart (S

Discover Christmas Spirit Through Books

Reading Christmas stories together is a delightfully rewarding family activity during the holidays, says Mrs. Willie Mae Mowrer, assistant professor of child development and family relations at the University of Illinois.

She lists Christmas stories that emphasize the loving spirit and religious significance of Christmas. The group includes books suitable for all ages.

VERY YOUNG children will like "The Christ Child" by the Petershams; "Jesus, the New Little Baby" by Mary Edna Lloyd and "Something for Christmas" by Palmer Brown. will enjoy "The Least One" by Sawyer, "The Other Wise Man," Van Dyke; "The Little Match Girl," Hans Christian Anderson; "While Shepherds Watch," Marguerite Vance; "The Night Visitors," Frances Mary Frost; "How Come Christmas," Roark Bradford; "The Trees That Kneel at Christmas," Maud Hart Lovelace; "The Littlest Angel," Taswell; 'Tell Me About Christmas," Mary Alice Jones; "Why the Chimes Rang," Raymond McDonald Alden; and "Let's Keep Christmas," Peter Marshall.

READING THE account of birth of Jesus in Matthew II, 1-12, and Luke II, 1-20, and in the Bible story books will help to give children an understanding of the real meaning of Christmas. "Bible Books for Small People" by Muriel Chalmers and Mary Entwistle is a series of 12 books for the very young.

The first two books relate to Christmas. Among the many good children's Bibles are "The Child's Story Bible" by Catherine Vox and "Bible Story Book" by Elsie E. Egermeier.

Some of the stories listed above are in collections of Christmas Stories," edited by Edward Wagenknecht, is a good family book. So is "Told Under the Christmas Tree," an Umbrella book illustrated by the Petershams. This book includes stories from many lands and faiths. (S

Quite Contrary by Mary

Damsel's Disillusionment

I am a very stubborn woman. And, when I was a little girl, I was a very stubborn little girl. I'd be willing to bet that I was a pretty stubborn baby too. Not eating my Pablum and all that sort of thing.

Furthermore I don't give up my illusions readily. When I was small I believed in Santa Claus and the Easter Bunny. When I believed, I believed hard. Besides S. Claus and E. Bunny, I believed everything I read. And I read mostly fairy tales. No one will ever convince me that there is no such place as Oz. I know that if I ever got caught up in a passing tornado I'd end up taking the yellow brick road with my friends the Cowardly Lion and the Tin Woodsman to see the Wizard. Also, every fool knows that some of those frogs are going to turn into handsome princes.

However, through the earnest efforts of my Mother I finally became convinced that E. Bunny was a lovely myth. Convincing me about Mr. Claus was a longer process. Heaven knows, all my cruel little friends had been telling me the facts on that one for years. But, I wouldn't believe them. Mother finally felt that a girl about to enter high school should get her head out of the sand and into a book.

And so it has gone through the years. I have loved and lost, loved and lost time and time again. I loved U. S. Grant only to find out that he drank too much. I adored George Washington until I found out he had false teeth. With the advent of television, I got a whole flock of new loves. I became enamored of Wyatt Earp. Maybe Hugh O'Brian had a little bit to do with it, but it was Earp who was my love. Then some busybody had to go write about what an idiot he was really. Him and Billy the Kid and a lot more western heroes which leaves me with nothing to watch. Nothing to make my heart leap up.

Finally I settled on Eliott Ness in the Untouchables. There was a MAN, I thought. Once more I was happy. But, sitting right here on the kitchen table beside me is a magazine that some guest left. The lead article, it proudly proclaims right on the cover, is "Oscar Fraley tells THE TRUTH ABOUT ELIOTT NESS." Three times I have picked the book up and three times I have dropped it like a hot potato. Anyway, what I don't know can't hurt me. And, I've been hurt enough.

Song Collections, Good Family Gift

For a Christmas gift that will long be treasured in your home, consider buying a family songbook.

Robert B. Smith, music specialist with the child development and family relations division at the University of Illinois, points out that this gift can help initiate the custom of family singing. Or it can provide more ideas for families who already know what fun it is to sing together regularly.

Because the Christmas season is one of the "singingest" times of the year, you may wish to label this gift "Open Before Christmas."

FAMILY singing, including even the littlest child, helps teach children to sing. After supper is a good opportunity for singing, and it will begin the calming-down process from the excitement of the day. Furthermore, singing together can be an emotionally rewarding experience, helping to build family esprit de corps.

Ideally, a songbook should contain a wide variety of songs — from Christmas to patriotic to folk songs. Such variety helps make the book usable the year round. The songs should also be simply arranged so that even a less accomplished pianist can play them. However, accompaniniment isn't necessary for group singing.

ONE outstanding song collection for all-family use is the "Fireside Book of Folk Songs" edited by Margaret Boni. Another collection that will appeal especially to younger family members is "Songs to Grow On" by Beatrice Landeck.

Ruth Seeger's "American Folk Songs for Children" is one good selection for parents who want a large collection of folk songs for their youngsters. (S

St. Pat Girls To Present Yule Program

A Christmas tableau featuring the re-enactment of the "Coming of the Messiah," "The Nativity," "The Shepherds Adore the Christ Child" and "The Three Kings of the Orient" will be presented at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 19, in a program of music by the glee club of St. Patrick high school. The program, under the direction of Sister Mary Syra, is designed to be both spiritual and entertaining.

At the close of the program, the Mother's club of the school will assist at the refreshment table and parents will take part in the nuns' shower. (S

Sorority Activities

ALPHA CHI OMEGA

The traditional Christmas party for the Lyrette group of Alpha Chi Omega alumnae and their husbands was held Sunday evening in the Winnetka home of Mrs. Louis J. Gruber.

Instead of the usual exchange of grab-bag presents, each member brought toys for children of Christopher House.

General chairman for the party is Mrs. E. J. Moscaret of 819 Dresser, Mt. Prospect. (S

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

Northwest suburban club of Kappa Alpha Theta will have its traditional cocktail party with husbands Sunday, afternoon, Dec. 17, from 5 until 7. This year the party will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Gow, 641 S. Kasper, Arlington Heights.

Chairman of the event is Mrs. Frank Svoboda of Des Plaines and co-chairman is Mrs. Robert MacKimm of Mt. Prospect.

New Thetas in the area will be welcome and may call Mrs. Gow at CL 5-0298, or Mrs. J. L. Mahan at HE 9-2095.

ALPHA GAMMA DELTA

Alpha Gamma Delta alumnae from the northwest suburban area were entertained Tuesday night by two vocal groups from Prospect high school.

The Mellow Tones, a group of six girls, and the Knight Lites, a mixed group of 12, sang holiday songs after which a representative of Clearbrook school gave a display of "Stocking Stuffings." Following the program, "holiday bars," coffee and tea were served from gaily decorated Christmas table.

Co-hostesses for the meeting, held at the home of Mrs. B. W. Markwell, 1713 Kim, Mount Prospect, were Mrs. J. F. Ulrich, Mrs. Leo Schumaker and Mrs. D. G. Loew.

Personal Touch For Yule Gifts

When wrapping your Christmas gifts, give them a "personal" touch suggests the Rust Craft Greeting Card company. For example, tall, slender gifts such as bottles of perfume, can be made to look like burning candles.

Children's gifts are brightened with faces of clowns or Santa. Use silhouettes to give a hint of what's inside — a fish if the package contains something for the ardent fisherman; a barber pole if the content is after-shave lotion; singers, notes and musical instruments for record albums.

AAUW to Entertain At Holiday Gathering

The tradition of entertaining new members at an open house at Christmas time will be carried out again this year when board members of northwest suburban branch of American Association of University Women gather with new and old members Thursday evening, Dec. 14. The event will be held in the Park Ridge home of Mrs. H. A. Cooper from 8 to 10 p.m.

New members being welcomed into the organization this year and the schools from which they hold degrees are: Mrs. William L. Cox, Mt. Prospect, Muskingum college; Mrs. Charles D. Jenks, Arlington Heights, University of Illinois; Mrs. Robert E. Kargacos, Mt. Prospect, University of Indiana; Mrs. Gordon H. Stewart, Arlington Heights, Marygrove college; and Mrs. Louis B. Vlasak, Mt. Prospect, University of Nebraska, Northwestern university.

THE HOSTESS will be assisted by Mrs. W. H. Heckelmann of Mt. Prospect and Mrs. R. H. Duncan of Arlington Heights.

Mrs. T. M. Bulger, Mrs. R. C. Cooper and Mrs. J. A. Heerens of Mt. Prospect and Mrs. S. Gold of Elk Grove Village will be assisting with the program, which is held in place of the regular December meeting.

Receiving the guests as well as the regular membership tnat evening will be Mrs. E. V. Carlson of Prospect Heights, Mrs. B. C. Graham, Arlington Heights, Mrs. K. R. Hairdressers Hold Holiday Gathering

The December 6 gathering for unit 47, Illinois Hairdressers and Cosmetologists association was held at Campbells Hearthstone restaurant, Palatine, and held a series of events.

Following a short business meeting conducted by unit president, Tom Robinson, the officers and board of director members presented the program of comb-outs in keeping with the current "air-lift" trend. Distinctive styling and personal interpretation were stressed in the detailed explanations offered by the participants.

TO ADD a note of holiday festivities to the occasion, a pre-Christmas party climaxed the evening with a surprise "grab-bag" gift exchange among those present. (S

New Year Cards

If a Christmas card arrives December 24 from someone not on your mailing list, don't rush out and mail a card that will arrive too late. Instead, suggests the Rust Craft Greeting Card company, send a New Year's card. Many say "Thank You for Your Christmas Greeting" along with the New Year message. (S

Dear Sue

A TEENAGER'S POINT OF VIEW BY SUE McDONALD

This week we'll attend to last minute shopping items, and then we'll be ready to enjoy all those dances and parties during the holiday season.

Outside our immediate family, there are various aunts, uncles, cousins, teachers, and the woman down the street to whom we'll want to give presents.

THEY'LL ALWAYS welcome books and magazine subscriptions. We might also give them stationery, jewelry, umbrellas, fresh fruits or candy. A fancy-wrapped box of home-made candy or cookies is always welcomed.

Teen-age friends are usually easy to shop for. Try to appeal to the special interests of your friends. We teens collect such varied items as records, stuffed animals, and china figures that offer suggestions for gifts.

Cuff links, monogrammed handkerchiefs, argyle socks, home-made candy and wool scarves add to our list of gifts for boys.

Pure silk scarves woven with silver or gold thread are presents that will be put to good use before the festivities of the holiday season are over. I also suggest gloves, unique belts and leather scrapbooks, diaries, address and date books for our teen-age girl friends.

DEAR SUE,

I have been dating a girl quite a bit and would like to have her come to my house for Christmas dinner. Would it be in good taste for me to ask her to attend this family affair if we aren't going steady?

Bill

Dear Bill,

I am sure that the girl would be very flattered by your invitation. However, since most families have a traditional holiday dinner, you may run into conflicts if she feels that she should be with her family.

Sue

Dear Sue,

I have a girl friend who is very wealthy. Every Christmas she gives me very expensive presents. I can't afford to give her ones that are as nice. It is embarrassing, what should I do?

Charlotte

Dear Charlotte,

The thought and time behind a gift are more important than the money you spend for it. Just give her a thoughtful gift that you can afford. Why not fix her up a box of your mother's home-made candy or cookies? This extra thought will add much to your gift.

Sue

Dear Sue,

My mother is a widow who works to support her three children. My problem is my little sister who is eight. She thinks there is a Santa Claus and always asks for a bunch of big presents because she thinks we don't have to pay for them. Mother worries a lot because she can't get everything for Nancy. Do you think that I ought to explain to Nancy that there isn't a Santa Claus so that she will quit?

Beverly

Dear Beverly,

I think it is a shame to tell children that there isn't a Santa Claus. They find out soon enough, anyway. Why don't you tell Nancy that your Mother has to pay Santa so that he will have money to buy materials for next year's toys.

And, by the way, I think your mother is very lucky to have a teen-age daughter who is as thoughtful as you are.

Sue

60 YEARS AGO

Dec. 7, 1901

Arlington Heights: A Highly Respected Citizen. It does one good to meet a genial old gentleman like Mr. Henry Russell Sr. He always has a cheery "Good Morning" for everybody. He is probably the oldest settler around Arlington Heights. He was born in Germany April 11, 1824; hence he is in his 78th year. He came to America and settled here in 1849 and after two years paid off $50.20 of debt and saved $100.00 which he applied on his first purchase of forty acres. By industry and frugality he prospered until he increased his farm to 200 acres, half of which he still owns, having sold the other 100 to his son. Next spring he will have lived fifty years on his original homestead. He is a thorough American and an esteemed citizen. . . . A Valuable and Worthy Industry: The Peter & Volz Foundry and Machine Shop (now Arlington Seating Co.) is now rushed with orders and is a valuable industry to Arlington Heights. Most of their large monthly pay roll is expended right here at home. Their prosperity helps the town. . . . Mr. Geo. Klehm has been requested by the Iowa State Agricultural College to deliver an address next Tuesday before the Iowa State Park and Forestry Association. He is an authority on floriculture and horticulture and they seek to profit from his knowledge and experience . . . . Mr. S. E. Pate is so busy these days that he hardly has time to go home for dinner, and sometimes has his lunch sent over to the elevator. He has handled 13 cars in his line the past week.

Arlington Heights: The depot looked like a veritable hog pen Sunday and Monday mornings. We couldn't blame the R.R. Co. if they locked it up when the agent's day's work is done. The night police should chase those bums out of town. Vagrants have no rights, which decent people are bound to respect . . . Some Station Rules: In a year's travels, go where you may you will not find a more accommodating lot of workers at a railroad station than we are gifted with right here in Arlington Heights. Agent Oscar C. Fleischman and Asst. Agent Carl G. Sallaz might adopt suitable rules to any and all stations: Come in—if the door is locked, kick it.

Roselle Rumbles: Theo Vaas bought the Sherring Stanley Steamer at the sale. He can now take the neighbors out joy riding and serve Uncle Sam much faster . . . Starting March 1, Roselle village will have electric lights. The Kee & Chapell Co. will put in a motor and those wanting lights can be accommodated. . . . Contractor Louis Fredericks has been busy the last few weeks taking contracts for spring building. He has already contracted to put up 4 houses and 7 barns. He expects to employ a force of 12 men next season.

Arlington Heights: Wilhelm Schrader, born in Gifhorn, Germany, March 27, 1851. He came to America when 20 years of age and settled at Arlington Heights. Ten years later he was united in holy wedlock to Elizabeth Schulenburg. To them were born six children, three of whom survive. In 1908 he was elected village trustee and served until his death.

Dec. 9, 1921

From Observer's Notes, Elinor C. Haynes: Observer has often read and heard it said that everyone as they grow older, away from the needs of family activities and duties, should take up some line of work or study and make of it an absorbing hobby. It may be educational. It must be rational. Was it Goethe, who said "Rest is not quitting the busy career?" At any rate, we all know no one is so miserable as the one who has nothing to do. Look around in our village and note the number of retired farmers — they retired from farm activity, but not to idleness. There's Herman Moehling, busy as a carpenter in building operations in the east addition last spring. He is one of our most prosperous retired farmers—the difference is, now he works becaues he chooses to. Here is our genial, kindly neighbor, Mr. Fred Kehe. Does he sit and smoke his pipe in idleness, since leaving his sightly well-kept farm? Not by a long shot — teaming, plowing, cultivating, sowing and reaping; there is no busier, nor more efficient worker in all our town than this retired farmer, Mr. Fred Kehe. Did you ever see our good friend, Mr. Christ Wilke, sitting around waiting for the moon to turn to green cheese, or the world to come to an end? He is up and doing always. Lighting lamps for the village for long stormy seasons, when many younger men would have shrunk from the task. Always on time. Another retired farmer who does not interpret a rest from strenuous labor on the farm to mean idleness, is Mr. Henry Weise, who has one of those sightly homes in the Krause subdivision. Mr. Weise is one of the handiest and busiest of the masons, finding a certain rest in his new line of work—he had only changed his employment, not being willing to "rust out." Fred Meyer watches and cares for his onion crop in the season of growing, and assists in the pickle factory, never enjoying idleness of "giving up." Then there is Mr. Herz, Wm. Garms, our busy bustling efficient road builder; Wm. Reese, Conrad Niemeyer, who only last year left his farm home, and Henry Wilke, who is now the southside carrier. All of these find rest and shall I say, remuneration in a change of occupation and in no sense in "quitting the busy career." They know idleness means decay.

Arlington Heights: John Martin, our local telephone man advises us that 52 new phones have been placed in this town.

Mount Prospect: Those interested presented a petition for a system of water works for Mt. Prospect, signed by 14 taxpayers to the village board at their regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening. The board favors the idea but wants a unanimous request, which will probably be ready at their next meeting. There is nothing too good in public improvements of this progressive young city.

Bensenville: A stranger asked if there were any young people in Bensenville. He didn't realize that there are about 64 young couples in town. Seems almost impossible, but count 'em up for yourself and see.

Arlington Heights: There will be "open house" at the Community Dining Room, Vail Davis Building, Vail St. side, Saturday all day, beginning at 10 a.m. The people of Arlington Heights are cordially invited to inspect the quarters which have been donated for the use of feeding the under-nourished children during the winter. Any donations of canned goods, or staple groceries will be much appreciated. . . . Bring your toys to the Webber Co. for distribution to the needy children. . . . Wednesday before Thanksgiving the children of the Public Schools brought staple food supplies for the community dining room. Large quantities were gathered both at the North and South schools and turned over to the Relief committee. The public school children will carry out a similar plan at the Christmas season. . . . The Lions club Christmas Toy project, with headquarters at Webbers Paint Store, will repair and refurbish toys as the group did a year ago. . . . Harold G. Peter becomes owner of Peter & Gorsuch, jewelers for eight years at Dunton and Campbell Street. . . .

Itasca: The Village Board officially accepted the sewer from the contractors Tuesday evening. The board considered the establishment of a sliding scale for water rates in the village. The present flat rate of 30c per thousand gallons will probably become the minimum rate. A charge of 50c a thousand gallons will probably become the minimum rate. A charge of 50c a thousand gallons or $2.50 for the minimum bill is to be established. . . .

Arlington Heights: Rev. J. H. Ellerbrake, who has served in the ministry of the Evangelical church for the past fifty years, and who served St. John's in Arlington Heights for 21 years, retired from the ministry and preached his farewell sermon on Sunday morning in the Hanover Immanuel church which he has served for the past 7 years, and had previously served for 16 years. . . . British War Relief Society makes final plans for their benefit to coincide with the opening of the new theatre in Arlington Heights. It will be a gala event in a beautiful theatre designed for this community, with all modern innovations to make it attractive and comfortable. . . . St. Peter's Lutheran church has resolved to sponsor a Scout troup for its many boys of Scout age. Martin Freeman was named Scoutmaster and Leonard Tubbs and Carl Klehm, Assistant Scoutmasters. . . .

Elk Grove: Herman D. Scharringhausen, pioneer resident of Elk Grove township, born Apr. 19, 1863, later attending school in Elk Grove country school and joining the Methodist church of Elk Grove, died Nov. 26.

Palatine: From "Tales of the Street" by Tom Hart: Folks around Palatine thought that there was an ordinance that prohibited trains whistling within the village. But since these streamliners have been howling through here they have been making a racket from one end of town to the other. Someone said that wasn't a whistle — it was a horn, so now the question is, when is a horn a whistle? At any rate those trains act as if they owned the world and were exempt from all governing laws. Just like the road hogs on the highways who thinks he owns the roads . . . Walter L. Hahn, Jr. has won his navy "Wings" and a commission as a flying ensign in the U.S. Naval Reserve. The award came after 8 months of study at the Naval Air Station a Pensacola, Fla.

Party Fare In Doctor's Home Includes Cheese Snack, Rolls

SUCCESSFUL HOMEMAKING

by LOIS SEILER

As the wife of a doctor, Mrs. Paul H. Carstens is very conscious of nutrition as well as calories and must be discriminating in the choice of foods she cooks and bakes.

However, for special occasions she often throws caution to the winds and prepares some of her favorite recipes which would not ordinarily be included in the family's daily diet.

"One of my favorites is a recipe for Swedish Tea Rolls, small individual dinner rolls, which are very rich and buttery," she said.

"They are very simple and quick to make," Mrs. Carstens continued, "and delightful to taste."

"THE MILK need not be scalded for this yeast recipe, but is used cold straight from the refrigerator and there is no kneading of the dough. Not even the yeast need be dissolved, but is crumbled into the ingredients," commented Mrs. Carstens.

After the ingredients are mixed, the dough is simply rolled out, dotted with hard butter and rolled again. Cut into strips and formed into twists, bow knots or crescents, the rolls are left to rise and then baked. The dough may even be stored in the refrigerator for as long as a week and use as needed.

These rolls are exceedingly light, very crusty and absolutely delicious!

Another recipe which this good cook particularly likes and has prepared every Christmas for 20 years is a delectable Cheese Ball.

NICE FOR cocktail parties and holiday snacks, this recipe combines cream cheese, Old English cheese, bleu cheese, onion, garlic, dry parsley and ground pecans.

Formed into two round or flat cakes, the cheese mounds are rolled in additional chopped pecans.

These cheese balls can be made in advance, wrapped in foil and stored in a cold place until used. The cheese is especially good served on Rye Krisp.

Cooking is just one of this capable homemaker's talents. She is currently serving her second term as president of the Irving Park Women's Medical auxiliary of the Chicago Medical society.

Her husband practices medicine in Oak Park as well as Arlington Heights and is a member of the Irving Park Suburban Medical branch.

The Carstens live at 435 S. Lincoln ln. in Arlington Heights and have two children: Nancy, 17, a high school senior, and Rick, 14, who is in eighth grade at South junior high.

SWEDISH TEA ROLLS

2 cakes Red Star yeast
½ cup sugar
2 cups cold milk
1 teaspoon salt
1 egg or 2 egg yolks
6½ cups all purpose flour
About 1/3 lb. butter

Crumble yeast and add sugar, milk, salt and egg. Work in flour.

Roll out dough and place small pieces of hard butter all over half of dough. Fold over and repeat once more.

Form into small individual rolls, such as bow knots or crescents and let rise from 3 to 4 hours.

Combine a whole egg with a little water and brush over tops of rolls. Bake in a 400 degree oven for 10 minutes or less, watching carefully as these buttery rolls burn easily.

CHEESE BALL

3 small packages Philadelphia cream cheese
1 jar Old English cheese
4 ounces bleu cheese
1 small onion, grated
1 clove garlic, grated
1 well-rounded tablespoon dry parsley
½ cup ground pecans

Mix ingredients together and form into two round balls or flat cakes. Roll into an additional ½ cup of ground pecans. Distribute nuts evenly around balls.

Store in the refrigerator or freezer until used.

Pope's Holiday Creations Boast Vivid Reds, Greens

True works of art for Christmas entertaining are the two recipes being featured this week, inspired by the renowned professional husband-wife team of Chicago, Francois and Antoinette Pope.

Ushering in the season with the blending of reds and greens, Yuletide Eggnog Mold and Christmastide Fruit Punch, in vivid color, will bespeak warmest holiday greetings from the host and hostess.

Both are from "Tne New Antoinette Pope School Cookbook," published by Macmillan, New York.

YULETIDE EGGNOG MOLD

(For 6-cup tower mold, 5 inches high, 7 inches wide at open end).

1/3 cup granulated sugar
1/8 teaspoon salt
4 egg yolks slightly beaten
3 cups warm commercial eggnog (may be purchased from dairy)
1½ teaspoons plain gelatin combined with ½ cup cold water, mixed thoroughly and allowed to stand until thick
4 egg whites (½ cup)
¼ cup granulated sugar
1½ cups whipping cream
1/3 cup red maraschino cherries well drained and dried on a towel, sliced in rings
1/3 cup green maraschino cherries well drained and dried on a towel, sliced in rings
¼ cup broken pecan meats
1 teaspoon vanilla or brandy

Combine granulated sugar, salt and slightly beaten egg yolks. Add warm eggnog slowly. Cook over low heat (or over simmering water) until it coats spoon. Simmer about 2 minutes, stirring constantly, but do not permit it to boil at any time.

Remove from stove and at once add the thick gelatin mixture. Stir until dissolved and let stand in room temperature until cool. Then place custard in refrigerator until it is medium-thick, stirring it often to prevent setting This is very important.

WHILE CUSTARD is cooling, beat egg whites until they just cling to bowl; then add ¼ cup granulated sugar and beat only until blended. Refrigerate. Beat cream until it just clings to bowl, and refrigerate.

When custard is of medium consistency and smooth, add vanilla, sliced cherries and nuts, a few pieces at a time for even distribution. Fold in whipped cream.

AT ONCE fold in egg whites and blend well until no streaks appear. Pour into well oiled tower mold (or any 6-cup mold). Refrigerate at least 12 hours. To serve, loosen around edges of mold, brush top of mold and platter with cold water, and turn out.

To decorate. For a very fancy decoration during the holidays, whip 2 cups whipping cream until it clings to bowl. Remove 1/3 cup, to which add 1 or 2 drops of green coloring for leaves. With a number 3 large star cooky tube and bag, pipe rest of cream vertically around mold, leaving enough for border at base and for rosettes on top.

With same number 3 tube, pipe border and several rosettes on top of mold. With number 67 or number 70 leaf tube, pipe leaves between rosettes with green whipped cream.

Surround mold with small fancy cakes or cookies.

CHRISTMASTIDE FRUIT PUNCH

2 cups (1 pint) cranberry-juice cocktail (available in bottles)
2 cups (No. 2 can) pineapple juice (sweetened or unsweetened)
1 6-ounce can frozen lemonade
1 6-ounce can frozen orange juice
1 10-ounce package frozen raspberries or strawberries
1 large attractive fresh lime cut into halves lengthwise, then into thin slices
1 quart ginger ale

Combine all ingredients except ginger ale and ice cubes in a punch bowl or other container and refrigerate until serving time. Then add ginger ale and ice cubes.

Stir well until ice cubes are half melted, and serve as a punch or fruit-juice cocktail. This is a delicious and colorful non-alcoholic fruit punch and may be served during the holidays for cocktail, snack, and buffet parties.

Recipe makes about 4 quarts.

Pumpkin Ice Cream Pie

Here's a holiday treat which will please traditionalists and innovators, busy hostesses and guests alike—pumpkin pie rich and spicy as ever—but straight from the freezer!

This pumpkin pie combines vanilla ice cream with all the more usual filling ingredients, the filling goes into the perfect pie crust you get every time you use Golden Pie Crust Mix or Sticks, and the pie goes into the freezer hours, even days, before the serving deadline.

No last minute baking rush with this luscious dessert—in fact no rush at all since every ingredient is in the convenience class. It's the perfect ending—light and cool—to a sumptuous holiday feast.

Golden Pie Crust Mix or Sticks make two crusts—you can make two Pumpkin Ice Cream Pies at once, wrap tightly for freezing and be twice as well prepared for happy holiday eating!

Prepare pastry for one-crust 9-inch pie as directed on Pillsbury Golden Pie Crust Mix or Sticks package. Prick generously with fork.

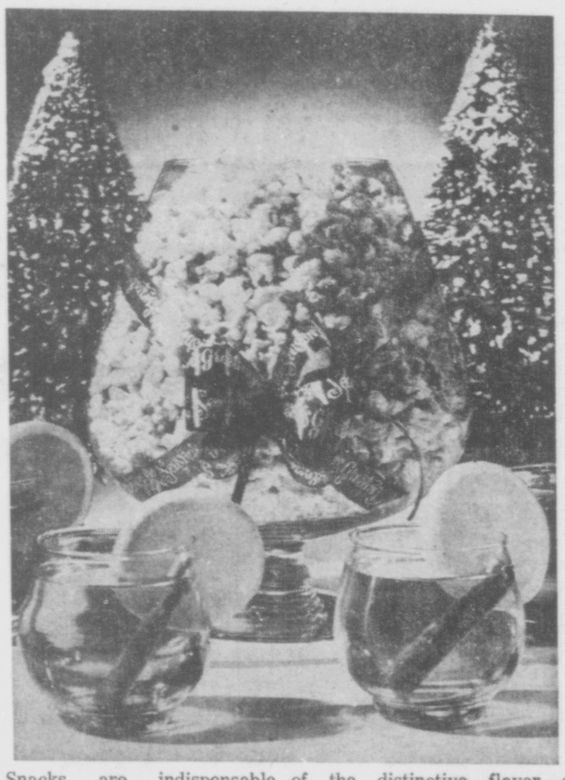
Bake at 450 degrees for 8 to 10 minutes until golden brown. Chill crust in freezer.

Combine:

1 cup pumpkin, cooked or canned
½ cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon ginger
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
1/16 teaspoon ground cloves

Fold in one quart vanilla ice cream, softened. Turn into chilled crust and place in freezer. Garnish with whipped cream and pecan halves, if desired. Makes 9-inch pie. (SH

Blue Cheese Adds Extra Appeal To Old Favorite



Snacks are indispensable when entertaining during the busy holiday season. While guests don't expect anything fussy, they do appreciate good tasting "nibblin" food.

Hot, buttered popcorn has long been a favorite for cold weather snacks. However, this season a surprise element is being introduced in popcorn. Now, it is blue cheese popcorn that is challenging the taste buds.

And it is a most enticing salt and peppery flavor guaranteed to keep munchers coming back for more.

TO MAKE THIS new snack, American blue cheese is crumbled into very small pieces and tossed with hot, buttered, freshly-made popcorn. Because of the distinctive flavor of American blue cheese, a comparatively small amount tastes like a lot.

You don't need more than a half cup of the cheese for two quarts of popcorn.

Here's the way it is made.

BLUE CHEESE POPCORN
(Two quarts)

½ cup crumbled American blue cheese (about 3 ounces)
2 quarts popped corn
6 tablespoons butter, melted

Crumble cheese into tiny pieces and chill it while corn is popping and butter is melting over low heat. Place popcorn in large bowl and drizzle butter over it, stirring to coat corn well. At once, sprinkle cheese on hot corn and toss to mix. (SH

Jiffy Fruit Cake Has Lemon 'Tang'

It's truly as simple as one-two-three putting together "Quick Light Fruit Cake" for the Christmas season.

First, prepare the contents of a package of pound cake mix. Then toss together crunchy slivered almonds, whole candied cherries, sliced fresh dates, bits of candied pineapple, grated lemon rind and flour.

Finally, fold the mixture into the batter—and let the oven do the rest!

CRISP ALMONDS provide excellent texture and subtle flavor in this made-in-a-jiffy cake, which may be further enhanced by a lemon-flavored powdered sugar glaze bedecked with blanched whole almonds.

QUICK LIGHT FRUIT CAKE

1 package (17 oz.) pound cake mix
¾ cup blanched slivered almonds
¾ cup whole candied cherries
1 cup sliced fresh California dates
2 slices candied pineapple, cut up
¼ cup sifted all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind

Prepare pound cake mix according to package directions. Toss together remaining ingredients and fold into batter. Turn into a greased and floured 9-inch fluted tube pan or kugelhoff pan.

Bake in 325-degree (moderately slow) oven one hour and 15 minutes. Let cool in pan 10 minutes, then turn out onto wire rack to cool. Cake may be used at once, or wrap in cheesecloth soaked in brandy and store in tightly closed tin. Makes one large fruit cake.

Our cows aren't just merely contented; they're so downright hysterical with happiness that they moo and coo all day long. With cows like that how can you help but get the richest, purest milk you ever tasted?

Merry Christmas To All From The Folks At Jewel — Merry Christmas To All From The Folks At Jewel

Airborne Kitchens Now 'Big Business'

In 1928, air travelers were served thermos jugs of hot coffee or cold water to go with the box lunches they provided themselves. This was the beginning of airborne meal service and, at that time, was considered a luxury.

Since then, this service has evolved into a big business. United Air Lines, which this week observes the 25th anniversary of the opening of the industry's first flight kitchen, presently operates a food service department which serves 22,000 meals per day.

THERE ARE 15 United flight kitchens from Hawaii to New York and the number of food service employees totals 1,030, including chefs, cooks, pantry workers and others. Last year, company stewardesses served more than 7,000,000 meals and United expects to serve 10,000,000 in 1962.

The transition to service of complete meals aloft began in 1929 when Boeing Air Transport, a predecessor of United, introduced the 12-passenger Boeing 80. This ushered in the "fried chicken" era. Wrapped in waxed paper, fried chicken was found to be admirable for high altitude meals, along with a bag of potato chips and a tomato. The meal could be enjoyed hot or cold, and most people liked it.

But in 1933, with introduction of the all-metal Boeing 247 airliner by United, officials began study of hot meal service. The study was necessary because characteristics of various foods change at high altitudes.

BY DECEMBER 16, 1936, most of these problems had been solved, and United opened its first self-owned and operated flight kitchen at Oakland, California. The first airborne hot meal was served three days later.

The caliber of the meals has steadily improved, and United today continues its efforts to improve this service. Menus are based to a large extent on passenger response. The European trained chefs at United's flight kitchens each week study letters from passengers commenting on meals.

"The vast majority of these letters are favorable comments on a particular meal or asking for a recipe," according to Edward Wirz, Swiss-born chef at United's flight kitchen at Chicato's O'Hare International Airport. But occasionally there are complaints.

"More than one complaint about a particular dish usually results in our eliminating this from the menu," Wirz says.

WHAT ARE passenger's favorite meals? As might be expected, the most popular is steak and Wirz serves about a half-ton each week out of O'Hare. Other favorites are lobster tail — Wirz orders 3,000 pounds a week — and breast of chicken-Hawaiian style.

The modern O'Hare flight kitchen—largest in the airline industry—uses 1½ tons of frozen strawberries weekly, 6,000 pounds of coffee a month, a ton of string beans every two months and 1,500 eggs each week.

Throughout its system last year, United served two million pounds of meat, poultry and fish, 113,000 pounds of shellfish, 157,000 pounds of coffee, and 193,125 gallons of milk. SH

Kris Kringle Tarts Say Happy Holidays

These Kris Kringle Tarts combine the sweet and tart flavor of raisins and cranberries. Cut-outs of bells, stars, and other Christmas shapes give a festive look to these succulent holiday desserts.

The filling for the tarts is thickened with quick-cooking tapioca to help keep the juices clear and sparkling—and just the right consistency.

KRIS KRINGLE TARTS

- 3½ tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
- 1 1/3 cups sugar
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 2/3 cup seedless raisins
- 3 cups fresh cranberries
- 1¼ cups water
- 1 teaspoon grated orange rind
- 2/3 cup chopped walnuts or pecans
- Pastry for two-crust pie

Mix tapioca, sugar, salt, raisins, cranberries, and water in a saucepan. Cover and bring to a boil. Cool, stirring occasionally. Add orange rind and nuts.

Line five or six 4-inch tart pans with pastry rolled 1/8 inch thick. Roll remaining pastry 1/8 inch thick and cut out stars, bells, Santas, trees, or any desired designs with cooky cutters.

Fill tart shells with fruit mixture. Arrange pastry cut-outs on top. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees) about 25 to 30 minutes, or until syrup boils with heavy bubbles that do not burst.

Makes 5 or 6 tarts. (SH

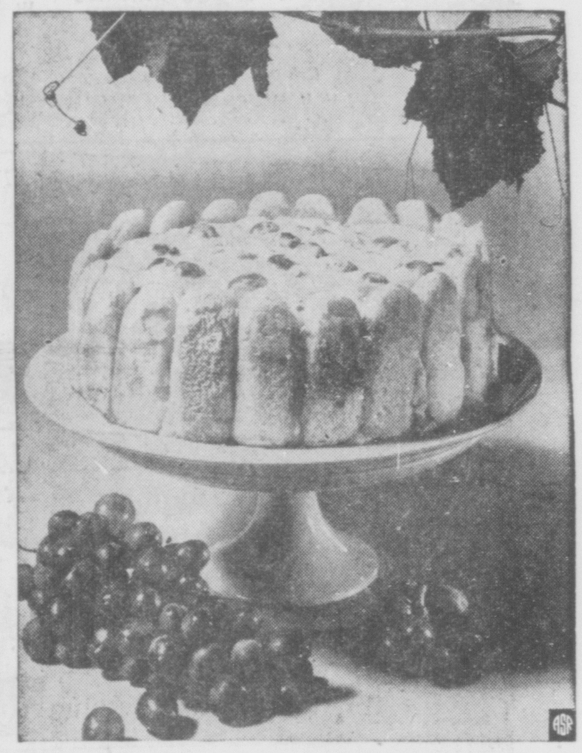
Flame Tokay Torte Color, Taste Rich



Handsome, elegant "Tokay Torte" makes an impressive appearance at a company buffet. The beautiful, crisp-textured Flame Tokays add rich color and interest to this delicious dessert.

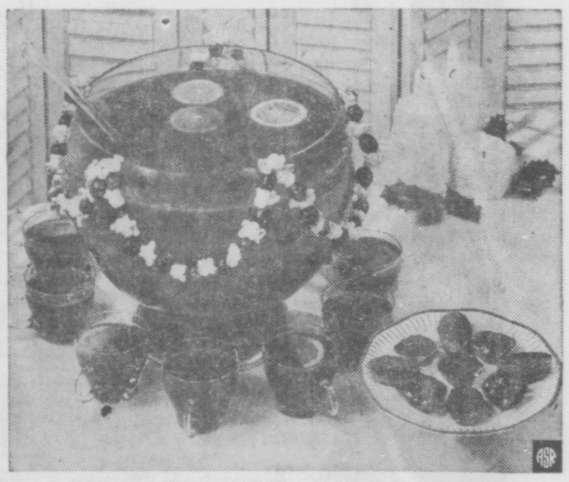
Rinse 2 cups Tokay grapes; halve and seed. Soften 2 envelopes plain gelatin in ½ cup cold water. Combine ½ cup sugar, 1/8 teaspoon salt, one teaspoon grated orange rind and one cup orange juice; heat to boiling.

ADD SOFTENED gelatin, stirring until dissolved. Blend in one tablespoon lemon juice. Cool until slightly thickened. Whip one cup heavy cream until stiff. Whip gelatin until fluffy.

Fold in whipped cream, ½ cup orange sections, ½ cup toasted flaked coconut and Tokays. Line sides and bottom of 10-inch spring form pan with 3½ dozen small lady fingers, placing curved side of lady fingers, placing curved side of lady fingers against pan.

CAREFULLY turn gelatin mixture into pan over lady fingers. Chill overnight, or at least 4 hours. Remove sides of pan and cut torte into wedges to serve. Makes 8 to 12 servings. (SH

'Tis Party Punch Season



At holiday parties everywhere, sparkling and colorful punch is a favorite. The flowing bowl has become a symbol of open-handed hospitality and conviviality that brings good cheer.

To cheer your own holiday party, serve guests this refreshing, ruby-red 7-Up Holiday Punch.

HOLIDAY PUNCH

- 2 cups water
- 1½ cups sugar
- 4 cinnamon sticks
- 2 pints cranberry juice
- 2½ cups orange juice
- 1 cup lemon juice
- 6 (7 ounce) bottles 7-Up
- 2 trays ice cubes

Simmer water, sugar and cinnamon together for 5 minutes. Set aside for several hours or overnight to develop spice flavor. Chill remaining ingredients.

At serving time, remove cinnamon sticks and combine sugar syrup with fruit juices in a punch bowl. Slowly pour in 7-Up. Add ice cubes and garnish with lemon slices.

Makes about 30 servings. (SH

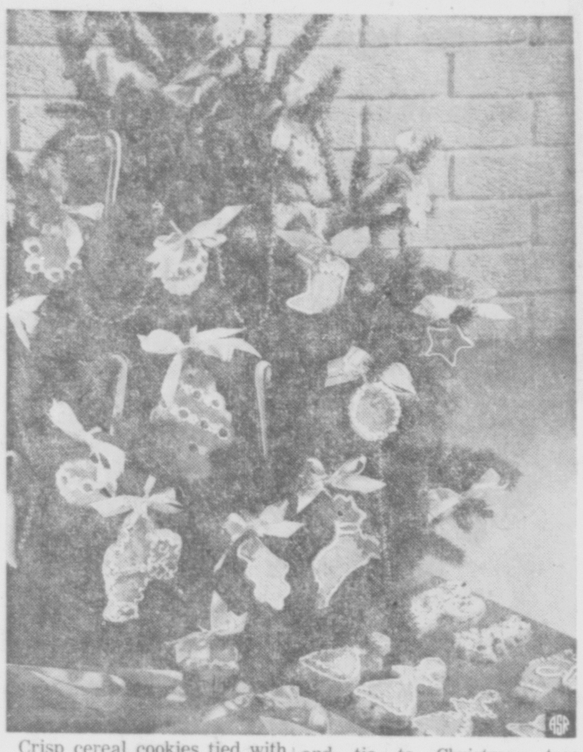
Tree Cookies, Bows For Festive Fair



Crisp cereal cookies tied with red bows make gay decorations for Christmas trees. Children, especially, enjoy a cooky trimmed tree. Wrap the cookies in saran if they are to be on the tree for a long time.

The ingredient use of the corn flakes in this recipe makes the cookies unusually crisp and crunchy. Breakfast cereals make contributions of protein, B vitamins, and minerals when used in cooking.

CORN FLAKE CHRISTMAS TREE COOKIES

1½ cups butter or margarine
1½ cups brown sugar
3½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
¼ cup milk
¼ cup milk
1 egg, beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups corn flakes, finely crushed
Ornamental icing
Decorating candies and colored sugars
Narrow ribbon

Cream butter or margarine and sugar together well. Sift together the flour, baking powder, and salt. Combine milk, egg, and vanilla. Add flour mixture and liquids alternately to creamed butter or margarine and sugar.

Mix well. Stir in corn flakes. Roll 1/3 of the dough at a time to -inch thickness on a lightly floured pastry cloth or board. Cut with floured Christmas cooky cutters. Place one inch apart on ungreased cooky sheet.

USE A TOOTHPICK or skewer to make a hole through cooky dough ¼ inch from top and in center of cooky. Bake in moderate oven (350-degree) 10 minutes, or until done. Remove from cooky sheet and cool thoroughly on a flat surface.

Decorate tops of cookies with ornamental icing and appropriate decorating candies and colored sugars. Cut ribbon into 8-inch lengths. Thread ribbon through hole in top of cooky and tie to Christmas tree. Yield: 4½ to 5 dozen cookies.

Clear Wrap Items Show Baking Skill

Of all the preparations to be made in the rushed weeks just before Christmas, perhaps the most enjoyable is holiday baking. Fragrant aromas drift from the kitchen throughout the house, adding to the anticipation and excitement in the air.

Although baking at any time of the year is certainly a skill, it also becomes an art at holiday time, when feminine talents and creativity can be explored to the fullest extent.

WOMEN everywhere will be experimenting with the wonderful new recipes introduced this season, as well as their own personal collections of traditional family favorites handed down from generation to generation.

Whether it be holiday cakes, cookies, or candies, chances are that you'll be baking something this season. Keep some of these Christmas treats on hand for drop-in visitors and send others to friends and neighbors as hospitality gifts.

TO WRAP BAKED foods for gifts, or simply to keep them fresh for use in your own home, there's nothing like transparent household saran. This clear, plastic wrap shows your handiwork with real sparkle and protects it at the same time.

This season, try baking individual fruitcakes in muffin tins. After cooling, wrap the miniature cakes in plastic wrap and tie with a perky bow for clever individual gifts.

FOR A "COOKIE candle," assemble a five-inch stack of large, round cookies. Wrap tightly in transparent saran, securing top and bottom with tape.

A small piece of the wrap colored red with a crayon makes the candle flame. Add a few Christmas baubles or other decorations to your holiday wrapped goodies, and you have a handsome gift just begging to be given!

FASHION NOTES

No matter what your age, the fashionable length for skirts this season is knee level or about an inch or so below. Coats should be one-half to one inch longer than skirts.

Lace can be worn at any season of the year, but it should be worn for late day and evening, rather than mid-day.

What's a good color for hose? Match them to the complexion, if in doubt, having them slightly darker than the skin tone. It's sometimes fun to blend a tint with the shoe shade, but they should never be darker than the dress you're wearing.

HELEN'S FAVORITE:
Fish-Olive Broil
(Serves 4)

½ cup ripe olives
½ cup small bread cubes
½ cup chopped Swiss cheese
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
⅛ teaspoon thyme
1 egg, beaten
1 pound fish fillets
Salt and pepper
2 tablespoons melted butter

Chop olives, mix with bread cubes, cheese, parsley, thyme and egg. Sprinkle fish with salt and pepper; brush with butter. Add remaining butter to olive-cheese mixture. Broil fish on one side, 6 to 8 minutes, spread with mixture after turning. Broil second side 2 to 3 minutes, long enough to brown and serve with lemon slices.

Week's Best Food Buys

Ownership of Christmas turkey supplies changed hands to create a less competitive market for birds and establish a yuletide retail price range of 29-39 cents for all kinds and weights, with more emphasis on selling abundantly supplied toms and hens rather than less available Beltsvilles.

Pre-Thanksgiving birds were held by feeder-supplier groups. Ownership since has passed to larger retailers who placed stocks in storage, but are absorbing costs to keep consumer prices about the same for Christmas as prevailed a month ago.

There will be fewer low-low priced promotions, such as in the 25-27 cent range and more Beltsvilles will be held higher, as feature attention goes to toms and hens.

MORE FLEXIBLE operators are in a better position to puncture the general prevailing competitive market with a promotional pin — but probably won't.

On the University of Illinois consumer service weekly metropolitan area food survey, Christmas-preview grade A quality turkey prices shape up like this: competitive consensus range, 29-39 cents.

Toms, 18-pounds and up, 29-33 cents; hens, most weights, 33-35 cents; limited Beltsvilles, 4-10-pounds, 39 cents or more to help retard movement. Occasional lower quotes will be found in razzle-dazzle type promotions.

AS THE RATIO of turkeys to holders changed, storage stocks of birds increased in major cities by 54,000,000 pounds over post-Thanksgiving levels. This may be the key to this year's Christmas turkey price story.

Turkeys head the UofI list of bargain food buys for the week ending December 16 and chances are will hold this position until the last of the tinsel and glitter are swept away.

Also on this week's value list are: meats — bacon, pork butt roasts, loin roasts, beef steaks, rump roasts; produce — grapefruit, tangerines, grapes, cranberries, tomatoes, sweet potatoes, carrots, brussels sprouts, peppers, lettuce, cucumbers.

ALTHOUGH wholesale costs are up on sharply lower live receipts and more active eastern demand, pork rates a relative value nod over beef lines, which without promotion cost more at retail.

Wholesale pork moved up one cent on loins and 3/4 cent on butts and at retail quote a wider range, the better values depending on size of cut. Consensus quotes include: portion cut rib roasts, 29-39 cents, full cuts 45 cents and up; portion cut loin roasts 39-49 cents, full cuts 55 cents and up; center cut chops 59-85 cents, fresh boston butts 45-49 cents, spareribs 49 cents competitively, and pork steaks, 55-59 cents.

Wholesale bacons declined on packer choice, and top brands on active demand at retail quote a wider 49-65 cents.

WHOLESALE beef climbed 1/4 cent to 3/4 cent on carcasses and a full 2 cents on chucks in active trade. Ribs, rounds were fairly active in early week, slowed by late week, and ended steady. Loins moved well at little change in cost.

Live market supplies locally were up 18 per cent, largest in six weeks. Without promotion attention, retailers reflect the market with these firmer consensus quotes: chuck roasts 59 cents and up, round bone roasts 73-79 cents, 1st-4th cut rib roasts 89-95 cents, 5th-6th cut rib roasts, 69-79 cents.

Colder weather demand produces wider ranging steak prices, such as porterhouse 98 cents-$1.29, sirloins 89 cents-$1.09 and round steaks 79-89 cents.

WHOLESALE lamb trade was dull and undertones weak and mostly unchanged although live receipts, more limited, climbed 1/2 cent. Retail lamb is little changed from prevailing levels. Veal is higher and scarcer.

Fryers posted another wholesale increase, 1-1/2 cents on top of the previous week's 3/4 cent, prompting a more general 39 cent level at retail for 3-pounders. Eggs also moved one cent higher in cost, but retail tags of 49 cents and up for grade A large and 43 cents for medium size are unchanged.

Fresh produce market values listed this week cover the highlights, with these few added notes: tomatoes range more widely in size, larger ones costing more; peppers are plentiful; California pascal celery is firmer; lettuce unchanged; and the more delicate air-cargo arrivals of strawberries, artichokes and okra reflect gourmet market demand.

Grocery and frozen food departments continue along seasonally selective value paths, with canned peaches, fruit cocktail, cranberry and related sauces topping promotions.

Nochebuena Is Spanish Custom

Among the Spanish it is the custom to serve stuffed baked fish on Christmas Eve. The dish, called Nochebuena, is made as follows: a 2- or 3-lb. fish, such as sea bass, is opened and the backbone removed.

The filling is made by cooking two chopped onions and one garlic clove in 2 tablespoons Spanish olive oil until soft, then add one teaspoon tomato paste, one chopped pimiento, a teaspoon of minced parsley, 2 tablespoons white wine and salt and pepper to taste.

Simmer 10 minutes. Fill fish with this mixture, place in well-oiled casserole, brush with ¼ cup Spanish olive oil and bake 30 minutes at 350°. Serve either hot or cold.

Turkey Talk Tells Time, Trick Method

As the Christmas holiday is so near at hand, let's talk in terms of turkey when it comes to preparing that one big meal, says the December issue of Better Homes and Gardens magazine.

It contains hints for turkey cooking, weights, roasting time and a variation of stuffing, which takes on a new taste thrill with the addition of corn bread.

FOR A refrigerated bird stuffed just before roasting, set oven at 325 degrees and bake as follows:

6 to 8 lbs.	3½ to 4 hrs.
8-12 lbs.	4 to 4½ hrs.
12-16 lbs.	4½ to 5½ hrs.
16-20 lbs.	5½ to 7 hrs.
20-24 lbs.	7 to 8½ hrs.

About 20 minutes before roasting time is up, test doneness by pressing thick part of drumstick between fingers (protect hand with paper towel). Meat should feel very soft.

Also if drumstick moves easily, meat is usually tender. Meat thermometer registers 195 when roasting time is over. Important, too, is to let turkey stand for 20 minutes to firm before carving.

TO THAW AN unstuffed bird, it takes this long: 4 to 12 pounds, one to 2 days; 12-20 pounds, 2 to 3 days; 20-24 pounds, 3 to 4 days. This thawing is done in a refrigerator at 40 degrees.

What size turkey is needed? For 4 to 10 guests a 4 to 8 pound bird is advised. Ten to 20 people require an 8-12 pounder; 20 to 30, a 12-16 turkey; 30 to 40, a 16-20 pound fowl; and 40 to 50, 20 to 24 pounds.

TO SAVE TIME when fixing this holiday treat, try preparing it in a foil wrapping. Set oven at 450 degrees. If turkey is stuffed, add 30-45 minutes to the following suggested time.

8 to 10 lbs.	2¼ to 2½ hrs.
10 to 12 lbs.	2¾ to 3 hrs.
14 to 16 lbs.	3 to 3¼ hrs.
18 to 20 lbs.	3¼ to 3½ hrs.
22 to 24 lbs.	3¼ to 3¾ hrs.

When the turkey has cooked to within 15 to 20 minutes of total cooking time given, open foil for browning. Continue roasting till the turkey is tender —test for doneness as usual.

When turkey's done, lift from foil to warm platter; use drippings in making gravy.

FOR AN EXTRA taste treat, try this corn-bread stuffing. You'll need:

3 cups slightly dry bread cubes
5 cups coarsely crumbled corn bread
1 teaspoon poultry seasoning
1 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
1 cup finely chopped celery
½ cup butter or margarine
½ cup finely chopped onion
2 beaten eggs
¼ cup chicken broth or water

Toss together breads and seasonings. Cook celery and onion in butter till tender but not brown; pour over bread. Add eggs and toss lightly to mix. Moisten with broth, and toss. Makes enough for a 10-pound turkey.

KICKIN' IT AROUND

by BOB FRISK

IT REMINDED YOU OF Rush Week at a big university.

George Allen, player-talent scout of the Chicago Bears, was trying to "sell" Larry Onesti of Northwestern on playing for the Windy City aggregation in the National Football league.

Only instead of cornering the highly-regarded "rushee" in some remote corner of the fraternity house, Allen was talking openly with the Northwestern standout in the Prospect high school cafeteria following Paddock Publications' First Annual Sports Night last Thursday evening.

Allen and Onesti served on a panel discussion with Murney Lazier of Evanston high school and Wally Grace of Arlington as a part of Paddock's Sports Night and their presence together gained added interest when the Bears drafted Onesti at the outset of the week in the annual NFL selections.

Onesti was the eighth round choice of the Chicago Bears but also was selected by the Houston Oilers of the American Football league. In addition, Canada has expressed some interest in the 200-pound Northwestern linebacker.

Larry, a B-plus student in Economic Geography with special interest in Latin America, wants to do graduate work in his chosen field but is interested in "play for pay" football. His main concern is with selecting a pro team that he definitely will play for and not be relegated to a spot on the bench or occasional tour of duty with the kickoff unit.

Allen is a good salesman and he convinced us that the Bears would make good use of Onesti despite the latter's lack of size.

"He has a good chance to make our club," Allen said. "He might make it as a defensive safety. He's as fast as a lot of safety men in our league and we know he can tackle. He could be a possibility as a combination man . . . linebacker and safety."

People who have watched the NFL this season know what Allen is talking about. The trend has been toward passing . . . and splitting pass receivers all over the field.

This may prompt a counter-move by the defense . . . getting a little more speed and maneuverability in the linebacking slots.

Onesti tackles like a mad-man with cat-like reactions on pass defense. He's a smart, aggressive player but until the Bears drafted him he had apparently fallen into the familiar "no-man's land," the "middle sized" college lineman who is neglected by the pros.

The usual procedure in pro football has been to make allowances for a linebacker if he's really good . . . allowances down to perhaps 225 pounds.

It was interesting to listen in on Allen's discussion with Onesti and it'll be interesting to see where the personable Northwestern senior winds up in the professional ranks.

OUR FIRST SPORTS Night was well accepted by those in attendance and we've been encouraged to offer another program next year. Just what the format will be for that 1962 program has not been decided but will be worked out and announced well in advance of the actual festivities next winter.

In most cases, the schools covered by Paddock Publications were well represented by members of the coaching staffs and for this we want to thank the athletic directors who aided in the distribution of tickets.

Certainly the program wouldn't have been possible without the excellent cooperation of Howard Lester, athletic director at Prospect high; John Schaff, business manager of District 214; Bill Laymon of the Prospect Audio-Visual department; and Mary Handlin of the cafeteria staff..

As expected, Arlington high's Wally Grace served as an excellent panel moderator. Wally always seems to know what to say and when to say it and he proved that again Thursday.

TWO STANDOUTS ON the collegiate gridirons during the fall also made a hit with the audience last Thursday at the showing of the sound film on the College All-America team for 1961.

Attracting most of the "ohs" and "ahs" for their performances on the screen were Heisman Trophy winner Ernie Davis of Syracuse and battering Bob Ferguson of Ohio State. Both should make brilliant pro players.

Another boy who showed some fancy running was Ronnie Bull of Baylor and this is encouraging for Bears' fans as Bull was the Wrigley field club's No. 1 draft choice. The 195-pounder has the size — he goes at 195 — and the speed — he has done the 100 in :09.8.

A PANEL DISCUSSION involving leading representatives of high school, college, and professional football highlighted Paddock Publications' First Annual Sports Night last Thursday evening in the Prospect Little Theater. Serving on the panel were (l. to r.) Wally Grace, Athletic Director of Arlington high school and panel moderator; Larry Onesti, All Big Ten center from Northwestern University; Murney Lazier, head coach of the state's No. 1 high school team from Evanston; and George Allen, player-talent scout and defensive coach of the Chicago Bears.

Prospect High Home Saturday

"The ball left the boy's hand 24 feet out, arched softly, and sliced the net just to the left of center. No one saw it hit the floor.

"The clock read :00. There was no more that could be done. The scoreboard read 62-60."

Does that sound familiar?

In this way Paddock reporter Tom McShane initiated his written description of Prospect high school's first basketball setback of the 1961-62 season.

After rolling to 17 straight victories, the mighty Knights of Mt. Prospect were stunned by Wheaton's Tigers before a packed-house in the Foundry rd. fieldhouse.

A LONG JUMP shot by junior guard Al Lang was the clincher in that 62-60 thriller.

That game is history but the memory lingers on and a new band of Prospect Knights will get their first and only chance of the current campaign at claiming some measure of revenge when they journey to Wheaton Friday evening.

The situations have been reversed this winter.

Today Wheaton is the unbeaten league leader and Prospect will be the underdog.

THE KNIGHTS' journey to Wheaton will serve as the first half of another rugged twin-bill in Interim league competition.

leading scorer with 90 points in four games.

Hutchinson is no stranger to Prospect fans as the lanky senior poured in 28 points in two meetings with the Knights last winter.

Coach Al Duhm has an able supporting cast for Hutchinson with 6-4 Ken Lock owning a 12.0 per game average in Interim league action and guard Crabtree a 10.0 standard. Rounding out the Wheaton alignment are center Ray Ebelt (6-5) and guard Al Lang (5-11), the villain last year in the upset over Prospect.

Top reserves at Wheaton include Dick Kee, a 5-9 senior guard, and Steve Kimbell, a 6-2 forward.

WHEATON stands 4-2 this winter with two-point losses to Glenbard West and Naperville.

Glenbard East, Prospect's opponent at home Saturday, possesses excellent overall height with a front line of 6-4 Jim Busse, 6-3 Dave Smith, and 6-4 Pat Fiene. In the backcourt Coach Wayne Stevenson has 6-2 Bobby Pederson and 6-0 Bill Shirer.

Highly-regarded reserves at the Lombard school include Jim Lagocki (5-8), Mark Wieting (5-10), and Skip Knapp (6-1).

Glenbard East has one victory in three Interim league outings, a 63-36 conquest of lowly Deerfield.

After rolling over West Leyden last Friday evening (72-48) Prospect ran into a powerful Elgin team on Saturday and dropped a 19-point decision.

Coach Dick Kinneman's Knights now stand 2-2 in the Interim league competition and are tied with a surprising Glenbrook unit for sixth place.

On Saturday evening Prospect will come home to host Glenbard East's Rams.

Both varsity contests will be preceded by junior-varsity games with Coach Ted Wissen's Knights hoping to extend an unbeaten skein that reached five last weekend.

Prospect will be conceding height at four of the five positions Friday when it visits Wheaton. The rangy Tigers boast a front line of 6-6, 6-4, 6-5 and one guard, junior Jim Crabtree, stands 6-2.

KEY MAN in the Wheaton attack is 6-6 Jack Hutchinson, an all-Interim performer as a junior and currently the loop's

Cards Stand 2-0 in Loop

Arlington to Host Powerful LaGrange Five Friday Night

The highly-regarded LaGrange Lions, boasting three players in their starting front-line taller than Arlington's center, will furnish the opposition Friday evening as Coach Norm Patberg's Cardinals seek their third straight West Suburban conference victory.

Bounced in their league opener by a strong York quintet, the Lions of Coach Art Sandusky rebounded last Friday with a solid victory over Glenbard West and now appear ready to make a determined run for the league championship.

ROSS RETTERER (50), Arlington high's senior forward, looks for an opening in first half of the Cards' clash with City Champion Marshall last Saturday evening. On defense for the Commandos are Len Perry (44) and Eddie Jakes (42). Marshall stopped Arlington, 58-50.

At Arlington

Arlington		LaGrange
6-1 Kolstad	F	Smith 6-5
6-1 Retterer	F	Boone 6-3
6-2 Furlong	C	Chana 6-6
6-1 Close	G	Hextell 5-11
5-9 Brodnan	G	Moore 5-9

TIME:
Frosh-Soph game, 7 p.m., Sat.
COACHES:
Arlington, Norm Patberg; LaGrange, Art Sandusky
OFFICIALS:
Ed Maracich (Chicago), Otho Kortz (Chicago)

With size up front and two fast, ball-hawking guards LaGrange will provide Arlington with its strongest league opposition to date.

Game time will be approximately 8:30 p.m. with a frosh-soph preliminary at 7 o'clock in the Arlington high gymnasium.

WITH JUST two weeks of firing on record in the balanced West Suburban conference Arlington and Hinsdale are the only unbeaten clubs. The Cards own decisions over defending champ Maine East and Downers Grove, and Hinsdale has dumped Riverside-Brookfield and York.

In other league action Friday night Hinsdale will host Maine East, Downers will tackle Riverside, and York will entertain Glenbard West.

Patberg's crew of midgets (in basketball parlance) didn't look too impressive against Downers last Friday but rebounded with a creditable game against the defending city league champions from Marshall high school. Ironically, the Cards beat Downers and lost to Marshall.

PATBERG realizes that the rough part of the schedule is ahead but hopes that his Cards continue to show the hustle exhibited in the first six games.

Vince Furlong currently has cemented his hold on the starting center position with some steady play in the first six contests. Standing only 6-2, Vince has to concede height to his opponent in every game but he's turned in some creditable performances thus far in the campaign.

Balanced scoring continues to be evident in the Arlington attack with three boys averaging in double figures. Junior Chuck Close heads the point parade with 77 markers and a 12.8 per game average. Senior Don Kolstad has collected 66 for an even 11.0 average and junior Gary Brodnan has added 62.

THE FORWARD position opposite Kolstad has two boys waging a stiff battle for the starting role. Seniors Ross Retterer and John Burgermeister both have shown flashes of some outstanding basketball and will be sharing that front-line berth.

Arlington's "big" problem Friday will be 6-6 Fred Chana but the rangy southpaw isn't a one-man gang by any stretch of the imagination. Sandusky has an able supporting cast for the big center and will open with Paul Smith (6-5) and Dennis Boone (6-3) at the forwards and Ron Hextell (5-11) and Bill Moore (5-9) at the guards.

Hextell is the squad's second leading scorer in league play with Boone right behind.

HIGHLY-regarded reserves at LaGrange include Ed Robertson, a 6-5 forward-center, and Fred Barofsky, a 5-11 junior guard.

LaGrange has four victories in five outings with its only loss that 69-47 affair with York. The Lions have handled Morton West (64-56), Thornton of Harvey (42-40), Oak Park (68-60), and Glenbard (75-43).

Key graduation loss at LaGrange was brilliant guard Dick Ruggles, the league's leading scorer last winter with 261 points in 14 games.

Prospect Mat Tourney Opens Next Thursday

Eight high schools will vie for the team championship next week as Prospect high school stages its first Christmas Invitational Wrestling tournament.

Slated to begin Thursday, Dec. 21, at 7 p.m. with the preliminaries and terminate on Saturday, Dec. 23, with the semi-finals and finals, the mat tournament has attracted schools from the Big Eight conference, Little Seven, West Suburban, Suburban league, Tri-County, and Interim.

Included in the field will be Downer's Grove, East Rockford, Highland Park, Lake Park, Naperville, Niles West, Prospect, and York.

Trophies will be awarded for first and second place teams with attractive placards going to the individual winners.

TEAM SCORING will be based on 10 points for first, seven for second, four for third, and two for fourth. One point advancement will be awarded and one point for each fall, default, or forfeit.

Students with identification will be admitted for $.25 with the adult charge 50 cents.

Tony Barbaro and Murney Lazier will serve as officials at the two-day tournament.

Track Clinic This Saturday

A clinic on track and field will be held this Saturday, Dec. 16, at Glenbrook high school in Northbrook from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Staged by the Northwest Illinois Track Coaches association, the program will include several outstanding representatives of the sport.

Glenbrook is located at 2300 Shermer rd. in Northbrook

LARRY ONESTI (center), Northwestern University's All Big Ten center and a second team All-America selection, talks with Charles Hayes, Executive Editor of Paddock Publications, Inc., following the main program at Paddock's First Annual Sports Night last Thursday evening. Onesti served on a panel discussion with Murney Lazier of Evanston high school and George Allen of the Chicago Bears. Also in the pic is Bob Paddock, vice president and promotion director of the suburban newspaper chain.

Sherman Hits 16, Sophs Win

Dan Sherman pumped in 16 points, all in the first half, to spark Prospect high school's frosh-soph basketball team to a 53-44 victory over West Leyden last Saturday.

Sherman's first half effort helped send Coach Bob Hoese's Knights off to a 36-11 lead at the intermission and they coasted in with their second straight triumph.

Ten boys scored for Prospect with Al Koehler and Ron Moehling both contributing eight. Russ Barger tossed in six.

Hoese's Knights will journey to Wheaton this Saturday, Dec. 16, and shoot for their third straight victory.

Prospect's Gymnasts to Open Friday

West Leyden will furnish the opposition this Friday afternoon as Prospect high school's varsity and frosh-soph gymnastics squads kick off their 1961-62 schedules.

Coached by Rick Farris and Don Arseneau, the Knights will journey to West Leyden for meets at 4:30 p.m. The openers will serve as Prospect's first and only competition before the holiday break.

The varsity Knights will be working without two talented performers in the initial meet. Paul Shaw, seventh in the state on the Trampoline last winter, has been sidelined with a sprained ankle and disciplinary action will keep Ray Strobel, third in the state on the Tramp and an all-league gymnast, from the opener.

WITH THOSE two boys on the sidelines Farris was undecided at the outset of the week about his alignment on the Tramp. Soph John Strobel will compete but the other two slots are questionable.

Two lettermen will work the side horse for Prospect with junior Dick Anderson and senior Jeff Swanson and they will be joined by junior Bob Sabey. Senior Dick Liebenow, a monogram winner last winter, and soph Tim Jennings will compete with Gary VanderVoort on the rings.

RICK FARRIS

ROUNDING OUT the Prospect alignment will be juniors Dave Leekley and Jim Smith in tumbling. Leekley is a returning letterman.

Prospect's varsity gymnasts finished sixth in state competition last winter after an impressive second in the Northern Illinois Invitational. In Interim league meets both the Prospect varsity and frosh-soph squads won three of four.

Mac Says

by G. A. McELROY

AT THE MOMENT THE LEAGUE LEADERS around the suburbs are Hinsdale and Arlington in the West Suburban; New Trier, Waukegan, and Proviso in the Suburban; Joliet and Thornton in the South Suburban; Homewood-Flossmoor in the Southwest; Warren and Round Lake in the Northwest; Batavia and Naperville in the Little Seven; North Chicago and Lake Park in the Tri-County, and Freeport and Rockford Auburn with the best records as the Big Eight prepares to open play.

Eckert of Woodstock with 70 points in three games is way out in front in North Suburban scoring followed by Smith of Zion 62, Seehausen of Palatine and Taylor of Zion 59, Kozlicki of Palatine and Morenz of McHenry 54, Botts of Dundee 51, Peters of Dundee 47, May of McHenry 46, and Marling of Libertyville and Thompson of Crystal Lake 45. Not many years ago a player who could score a 15 point average would lead the league. Right now the North Suburban has 11 boys ranging from 15 to 23 points a game average.

Around the suburbs the top scorer of last Friday night was Hawkins of Grayslake who burned the nets with 33 points against Antioch. Evans of St. Edward scored 32 of his team's 52 points while beating Notre Dame. Chana of LaGrange dropped in 30 points as his team whipped Glenbard West whose Hancock got 25 of 43 tallied by his team. Ron Kozlicki's 25 topped North Suburban point getters last week as Palatine beat Dundee with the major share of the total coming in the last quarter.

PALATINE KEPT "PA'S BUCKET" Saturday night by beating Arlington 25-20 in wrestling. This trophy was put in competition between the two schools four years ago and so far it has not visited Arlington's trophy case. Palatine expected to lose it this year and would have but for a couple of wrestlers named Walker and Yokas who came through with surprising performances in the middle weights. Arlington trailed 25-5 but got pins in the last three bouts to make the final tally a close one. In a building year, following wholesale graduation of top grapplers, Coach John Ellis has started the Pirates off rather well with victories over York, Niles, Libertyville, and Arlington while losing to Waukegan and Elgin. Palatine's frosh won five championships, three seconds and a third in the 8-team Barrington yearling tournament on Saturday to encourage Palatine fans with the prospect of more good varsity teams in the making.

20 YEARS AGO

Howes, Warder, and Schwolow shared scoring honors as Palatine beat Barrington for the eighth time in a row 34-18, on the Broncho's court. Bensenville kept pace with Palatine in the undefeated class by beating Northlake 34-20 as George Gutnik scored 17. Arlington took its first victory in the Northeast Conference by whipping Lake Forest 34-22. Millay and Becker each had nine points.

10 YEARS AGO

It was a rough weekend in local sports. Bensenville lost 48-46 to Ela in spite of Merholtz scoring 17 points. Palatine lost the first double bill in 15 years to Wauconda 47-46 varsity and 41-24 frosh-soph. Bob Nolan of Wauconda scored 25 and Paul Schrage of Palatine 23. The next night Leyden crushed Palatine 62-49 though Schrage again scored 23. Arlington was also a loser 49-36 to York and 38-37 to West Aurora.

Fifth Straight Win

Cards Rally, Check Downers Five, 50-47

by BOB FRISK

It was an uphill climb but Arlington high's varsity Cardinals finally disposed of a determined Downers Grove quintet last Friday evening.

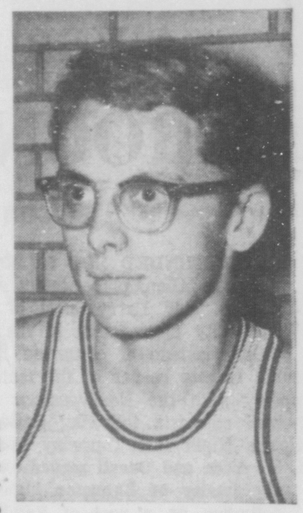
Faced with bouncing back from a halftime deficit for the first time since the opener with Evanston, Coach Norm Patberg's hosts outscored the winless Trojans by ten points in the final two periods and recorded a 50-47 decision.

The victory was Arlington's fifth straight of the season and second straight in West Suburban play. The Cards currently are tied with Lnsdale for the top slot in the WSC with each unit boasting a 2-0 mark.

WITH JUST 55 seconds remaining Friday Arlington pulled into the lead to stay as Gary Brodnan dropped in a free throw to give the Cards a one-point margin at 48-47.

Downers called a time out but when play resumed Bill Duffy tried a jump shot from the side that fell short, Arlington recovering the rebound.

With 23 seconds showing on the clock Brodnan was fouled by Dale Sunnquist and the Cards' junior guard calmly dropped in both free throws to set the final margin at 50-47.



DON KOLSTAD

APPARENTLY looking ahead to the game with Marshall's Commandos, Arlington didn't show too much polish in a shaky first half, falling behind by two at the quarter and by seven at the intermission.

Don Kolstad was practically a one-man gang for the Cardinals in those first two periods and the reliable senior kept the Cards within striking distance.

Don hit four of five free throws in the first quarter and canned Arlington's first seven points in the second stanza.

FOLLOWING Kolstad's string of seven points, the varsity Cards hit a dry spell and in two minutes the visiting Trojans turned a one-point advantage into a big 11-point margin at 28-17.

An Arlington flurry in the final three minutes of play cut the Trojans' lead to seven as Vince Furlong netted a drive, Brodnan a 20-footer, and Furlong a short jump while Downers dropped just two points.

Arlington started to move in the third period.

Rusty Blix, reserve center, collected a free throw and after Russ Doscotch matched the Cards' senior, Rusty tossed in a fancy layup and Arlington was within five.

WITH 6:33 remaining in the period Ross Retterer hit from the side and Kolstad followed with a tip and Downers held a slim one-point lead.

Dale Sunnquist put the Trojans back on top by three with a side shot, but the Cards continued to peck away and with one minute remaining in the quarter tied the score at 33-all thanks to a free throw by Furlong and short jumper by Chuck Close.

In the waning seconds of the quarter Sunnquist connected from the side only to have Retterer fire in a long, 30-footer as the buzzer sounded.

DOWNERS opened the scoring in the final stanza as Duffy hit from out front but the Cards collected three quick baskets and took the lead at 41-37. Brodnan dropped in a 25-footer, Furlong hit from the side, and Close canned a 20-footer.

Downers battled back to tie the score but Arlington rallied again and took a 45-41 lead as Furlong and Close popped in successive baskets. Coach Guy Wellman's Trojans refused to give up and sent home three straight baskets, two on easy layups off out-of-bounds maneuvers.

WITH 2:05 remaining Brodnan drove in for a layup and Arlington was back in a 47-all deadlock. With 55 seconds remaining Brodnan netted the free throw that gave the hosts a lead they didn't relinquish in the hectic windup.

Kolstad was high for Arlington with 13 points and it marked the fifth straight game that Don hit in double figures. Doscotch topped Downers with 13.

The box score:

1962-63 School Year

List Coaching Assignments For District 214 Schools

The Board of Education of Township High School District 214 announced this week the tentative coaching assignments for 1962-63 for its three high schools.

In most cases the head coaching slots at the new Forest View high school will be filled by men currently serving in the Arlington and Prospect athletic departments.

Arlington is losing two head varsity coaches to the new school. Gay Hughes, varsity gymnastics coach for the Cardinals since the sport was introduced in the area, will head the program at Forest View and Ralph Meyer, varsity golf coach at Arlington, will assume the identical duties at the new school during the 1963 campaign.

OTHER ARLINGTON coaches slated to move to Forest View include Dick Ohl, Bob Rees, and Rog Steingraber. Ohl will head the track program and assist in football, and Rees will coach varsity cross country and assist in basketball. Steingraber will assist in basketball and coach varsity tennis.

Current Prospect coaches who will switch for Forest View include Bob Scott, Ken Arneson, Rusty Dowell, Hal Henson, Maurie Levy, and Bill Beckman.

Scott, currently head track coach and assistant varsity football mentor at Prospect, will take over the varsity chores in football at Forest View and will assist in track. Arneson will handle the varsity basketball team and also assist in football.

DOWELL IS slated for assistant roles in both football and track and Henson will head the new school's wrestling program and also aid in football. Levy will work under Henson in wrestling and assist in baseball, and Beckman, who will be Forest View's Athletic Director, will assist in track.

Two new head coaches will be added to Arlington's coaching staff. However, it's still unknown who will fill the positions of varsity gymnastics and varsity golf heads.

Otherwise, the varsity coaches will remain the same with "Bus" Ormsbee in football, Russ Attis in cross country and track, Norm Patberg in basketball, Bob Emmons in wrestling, Bob Baker in baseball, Ken Schaller in tennis, and Ralph Eakins in swimming.

PROSPECT will work with four new head coaches next year as it initiates its fourth year in the Interim league.

With Beckman heading to Forest View J. O. Jackson will take over varsity football at Prospect named in varsity cross country to replace Arneson, in varsity track to replace Scott, and in varsity tennis.

Back for another year as head men in their respective sports at Prospect will be Dick Kinneman in basketball, Rick Farris in gymnastics, Don Barrett in swimming, Dick Mudge in wrestling, Chuck Aldrich in basketball, and Bill McKillip in golf.

The athletic staffs at the area schools currently line up like this for 1962-63:

Palatine's Matmen Keep 'Pa's Bucket'

"Pa's Bucket" will remain at Palatine for another year.

The symbol of wrestling supremacy between the Pirates and Arlington high school was captured by Palatine again last Saturday evening with a 25-20 decision.

The hosts of John Ellis raced off to a 25-5 lead after nine bouts and held on as Arlington fashioned three pins in the final three matches.

With the victory Palatine now owns a 4-2 dual meet standard this season. The setback was Arlington's first in two outings with the Cards handling McHenry in the season opener.

Palatine picked up a 12-0 lead in the first four bouts with successive decisions by Mike Gluck at 95, Jim Nordin at 103, Larry Travis at 112, and Mark Walker at 120. The first three matches were decided by 5-0 counts with Walker racking up an 8-1 decision over John Anderson at 120.

Arlington broke into the scoring column at 127 when senior Ken Adams tied Palatine's Pete Norton and cut the Pirates' advantage to nine as Terry Witt decisioned freshman Seth Norton, 4-2.

PALATINE'S Don Yokas dumped Arlington's Byron Duff, 7-4, in the 138-pound tussle and Jim Smith handled the Cards' Dick Keller, 9-0, at 145.

Palatine moved out to a 25-5 lead when George McCreery pinned Arlington's Bob Clark in 3:14 of the 154-pound test and then Coach Bob Emmons' Cardinals made their move.

Roy Woodruff, Hal Selleck, and Bob Burm racked up pins in the final three matches with Woodruff applying the clincher in 5:45, Selleck in 2:41, and Burm in 2:32.

Arlington's Soph Wrestlers Win

Arlington's frosh-soph wrestlers rolled to an easy 33 8 victory over host Palatine last Saturday evening with the young Cardinals collecting two pins, seven decisions, and a draw.

Arlington boasted an 11-0 lead after three bouts thanks to victories by Gary Moreau at 95, Richard Munk at 103, and Bob Conti at 112.

Following "Butch" Mummert's 5-4 victory over George Derby, Arlington scored again as John Hermes decisioned Terry Miller, 7-6.

THE CARDS moved ahead 33-5 on a pin by Bruce Yates at 133, decision by Bob Jennings at 138, tie with Ron Fritz at 145, 4-2 triumph by Mel Van Sky at 154, one-point win by Hugh Smeed at 165, and 4-1 decision by Randy Opela at 180.

In the final bout of the evening Palatine's Al Lang, a transfer from Texas, picked up his fifth straight win at heavyweight with a 3-0 decision over Arlington's Ray Goertz.

Looking on are Eddie Jakes (42) and Ross Retterer (50). The defending city champs bumped Arlington, 58-50.

Prospect's Matmen Top West Leyden

Prospect's varsity wrestlers remained in title contention in the Interim league with their third victory in four loop outings last week, an impressive 25-16 conquest of a host West Leyden unit.

Coach Dick Mudge's Knights of Mt. Prospect fell behind by six points after the first two bouts but rallied to tie the match at 120 and then moved into the lead to stay.

Highlights of the meet were Capt. Doug Vaughan's impressive 9-3 victory at 133 over Leyden's highly-regarded Jeff Hernandez, Ed Pederson's pin in 2:48 of the 154-pound tussle, and Wayne Zaehler's 11-9 decision in his first test at 120.

VAUGHAN AND Zaehler remained unbeaten with their victories while Pederson picked up his second triumph in four outings this year.

Senior Bob McKinnon also remained unbeaten as he racked up a 2-0 victory at 127, and Ron Aukamp kept his winning skein intact with an easy 9-1 triumph at 165.

Also racking up points for Prospect were soph Mike Phillips with a 2-1 decision at 112, soph Greg Field with a 9-7 triumph at 138, and junior Mike Dawson with a 4-4 deadlock at 180.

PROSPECT'S VARSITY and junior-varsity wrestlers face a busy week with a home test Friday evening at 7 o'clock against Wheaton, a road tussle Saturday afternoon at Glenbard East, and a home meet next Tuesday, Dec. 19, against Niles West.

Prospect's Christmas Invitational tourney is slated for Thursday, Dec. 21 and Sat., Dec. 23. Additional information appears elsewhere in this section.

Prospect Rolls Past West Leyden, 72-48

by TOM McSHANE

The gallant Knights of Castle Prospect turned back an invading horde from Fortress Leyden Friday night in a new form of joust titled basketball.

It's really quite different. Arthur might never approve — even though there's still a court (this one made of hardwood), and two chaps in striped shirts the players often regard as jesters.

The players themselves — both groups were dubbed Knights, and some were called chargers before the joust was over — were a bit on the lean side, which comes from extensive running "like a horse."

WHEN THE invaders sallied forth to cross swords with the defenders of Castle Prospect, they immediately were pinioned to the east wall of the court, suffering rapid setbacks that cost them 12 points in two minutes. This advantage was extended appreciably from 12-1 to 25-12 before the first period of scuffling ended. The Prospect forces were led by an aged Knight called Thomas, who registered seven goals from the field and two graciously-given charity tosses.

The Knights from Fortress Leyden, this being the domain toward the western edge of that barony, made a closer contest of it in the second period, scoring 14 points to Castle Prospect's 16. A Knight named Allen led this surge with six points, while Hogarty of Prospect countered with eight. At one point the Leyden warriors closed the gap to nine points.

IN THE THIRD quarter Knight Groh of Prospect struck for seven points as his group extended its advantage to 54-37.

The final session saw several lesser Knights gain experience on the field of battle. Once again the forces of Castle Prospect were victorious, soundly lancing their opponents 18-11 to record a 72-48 conquest.

The great Knight Thomas was the evening's most productive basketeer with 20 points. He was followed on his side of the moat by Groh with 15 and Hogarty with 14. Lundgren scored 15 and Allen 14 for the vanquished.

Prospect will go from the round table to a safari Friday when Coach Dick Kinneman's squad invades the lair of Wheaton's Tigers for another conference game. Saturday the Knights will don their armor again to host Glenbard East.

BOB FRISK (left), sports editor of Paddock Publications, presents a "Sports Appreciation Award" to Wally Grace, Arlington high school athletic director, in recognition of the latter's many years of service to the sports department of the suburban newspaper chain. Sharp Paces Win

Marshall Tops Cards In Non-League Game

by BOB FRISK

Towering Larry Sharp and his Marshall high school hardwood associates pulled away from a scrappy Arlington quintet in the second half last Saturday evening and racked up a 58-50 decision before a near-capacity crowd in the Cardinals' gymnasium.

With Sharp, a 6-8, 220-pound youngster, pumping in 21 points on some effective work under the basket the City Champion Commandos snapped Arlington's win skein at five and registered their second straight conquest in the process.

Coach Norm Patberg's hustling Cardinals, once again conceding height up front, have nothing to be ashamed of in defeat. The hosts stayed even with the Commandos for 2½ periods before the visitors' size under the basket began to take its toll.

ARLINGTON was within three at 36-33 with 1:20 remaining in the third period when Sharp banged in a tip. The cards' Gary Brodnan meshed a 20-footer seconds later but Marshall collected the period's final four points on a drive by Eddie Jakes and another layup by Sharp.

The Commandos steadily pulled away in the final eight minutes of play although the hosts never gave up. Marshall would appear ready to coast home when Arlington would counter with a basket and keep it interesting.

Junior Chuck Close canned three of his six baskets for the game in the final stanza and all were long jump shots.

The Commandos had a 58-46 lead with seconds remaining when Arlington struck with a nifty layup by Brodnan and tip by Ross Retterer to set the final count at 58-50.

THE TWO teams traded points in an exciting first half with neither able to gain any sizeable advantage. Arlington held a 10-7 lead but Marshall bounced back and pulled ahead 15-12. The Cards closed fast on a basket by Don Kolstad and free throw by John Burgermeister and it was knotted up at the end of the initial stanza.

It was just as close in the second period with each club picking up ten points.

Arlington fell behind by four at 21-17, then Vince Furlong connected from the side. The Commandos rallied again for another four point lead but successive baskets by Burgermeister and Ross Retterer knotted the count.

FURLONG put Arlington ahead by two, 25-23, with a two-pointer from the side but Sharp's layup gave the Commandos a 25-all tie at the intermission.

Marshall made its move late in the third period, then held on in the final eight minutes of play.

Two successive baskets by Sharp gave the visitors a 46-35 lead in the opening minutes of the fourth quarter but Close fired in a 20 footer. Jakes added a jumper and Len Perry followed with a long 25-foot effort and the Commandos had a 50-37 lead.

BERGERMEISTER dropped one in to cut the lead to eleven but Len Flint matched the Cards' lanky senior and the Marshall five held its 13-point margin. Close followed with another long jump shot and then Kolstad hit from the charity stripe to pull Arlington within ten.

That was as close as the Cardinals could get in the final period until Retterer's tip-in at the buzzer cut the visitors' advantage to eight.

Sharp was high for Marshall with 21 and Perry added 12. Close, who was responsible for holding the usually high-scoring Jakes to just nine points, chipped in with 12 to top Arlington. Brodnan added ten.

Maroons Top Knights in Cage Battle

by TOM McSHANE

Elgin's Maroons slaughtered Prospect's Knights 63-44 Saturday night in the Watch City. It was the third loss in five starts this season for Coach Dick Kinneman's Interim association quintet.

Prospect lost the game from the field, shooting a poor 27 per cent on 14 field goals in 52 attempts. The classy Maroons, on the other hand, netted 27 of 57 for a neat 47 per cent.

Elgin, boasting a 6-3 average across the front line, out-gunned the Prospect squad from the start, taking a 17-12 first quarter lead, and a 26-20 halftime edge.

PROSPECT, STILL in the game as the third quarter started, saw its hopes vanish quickly when big Mike Boxberger cashed in four baskets in the third quarter to lead the Maroons in a rally that netted them 17 points. With their shooting way off, the Knights could manage only five points in the period, and entered the fourth quarter trailing 43-25.

Forward Tommy Thomas made a great attempt to put his squad back in the running in the final eight minutes. The lanky senior scored four baskets and five free throws in the period, but the Maroons matched him point-for point to win going away.

Thomas's closing rally gave him scoring honors for the evening with 16 points. Prospect Center Mike Francek got 12.

BOXBERGER led a well-balanced Elgin attack that saw four players score on double figures. The junior forward had 14 points. Chuck Hundley, Jack Aley, and Phil Kirk added 12 apiece.

The Elgin game was one of two non-conference encounters for the Knights scheduled this year. Prospect will host Evanston's Wildkits January 6 in the other.

This week Kinneman's squad returns to the Interim association, traveling to Wheaton Friday for a battle with the league-leading Tigers, and hosting Glenbard East Saturday in the Foundry rd. fieldhouse.

St. Viator Faces Road Test Saturday

St. Viator's frosh and sophomore basketball teams will journey to Marian Central of Woodstock this Saturday morning, Dec. 16, for hardwood contests at 10 o'clock.

The Lions' two quintets hope to rebound from a pair of setbacks suffered Monday afternoon in competition at Immaculate Conception.

The hosts from Elmhurst dumped St. Viator's frosh squad 35-27 and racked up a 45-38 decision in a soph-junior varsity contest.

ST. VIATOR'S sophs had better luck on Friday at St. Joseph in Westchester with an impressive 39-35 victory.

Jim Murray popped in 24 points for the Lions on ten baskets and a four-of-eight effort from the charity line and Jim Vidt collected four. Also scoring for Viator were rangy Mike Ainslie with four and Chuck Heinrich and Harry Drnec with two each.

High man for St. Joseph's JVs was Mike Augustine with 13 on five baskets and three free throws.

IN THE FROSH contest the Arlington Heights Lions of Coach Larry Nomellini experienced a frustrating evening at the charity line with only eight of 17 finding the mark.

Mike Hogan paced the locals with nine points on four baskets and a single free throw. Also scoring were Ron Bakalar with five, Chuck Grandt and Mike Hughes with three each, and John Kidd and Don Pentridge with two each.

Following Saturday's clash at Marian Central, the Viator Lions will be idle for a week before colliding with St. Patrick of Chicago on Saturday, Dec. 23.

Sophs Claim Cage Split

Dumped by a solid Downers Grove quintet on Friday, Arlington high's frosh-soph cagers bounced back with a 51-46 victory over Marshall of Chicago Saturday in a non-league encounter.

The decision shapped a two-game loss skein for the Cardinals and was achieved with impressive offensive efforts by Joe Mueller and Greg Buczynski.

Mueller popped in 19 points for the season high by a Cardinal soph and Buczynski contributed 17.

ARLINGTON piled up a 17-point lead over the Commandos at the outset of the second half but the visitors from the Windy City battled back and almost pulled out the decision.

Arlington held a 33-20 lead at halftime Saturday with Mueller and Buczynski key men in the Cards' attack. Both boys collected eleven points in the first 14 minutes of play.

The Cards' entire third period output consisted of a pair of baskets each by Mueller and Buczynski and Marshall started its move. However, the young Commandos couldn't overcome their disastrous first half.

IN FRIDAY'S West Suburban conference game Randy Thingvold collected 18 points in sparking Downers Grove to a 56-44 decision over Arlington.

The two clubs battled on fairly even terms for the first half before Downers pulled away in the third stanza and wrapped up its fifth straight triumph of the hardwood season.

Thingvold counted ten of his 18 points in an explosive second quarter.

Mueller sparked Arlington [illegible] points and Buczynski chipped in with ten. Forward [illegible] Splittorff canned nine, seven in the second quarter.

Arlington's frosh-soph cagers, still seeking that first league victory, will host LaGrange this Friday evening at 7

Paddock Classic League

Only Five Points Separate First and Seventh Positions

League-leading S. M. Kahn Electrical Contractors of Chicago lost half a point—tough to do under the point system—but still held onto first place in the Paddock Classic Traveling League.

Kahn lost a point and a half when the league Rules Committee decided Saturday that Bob Rogers of Des Plaines fouled on his last ball the week before. This gave him a 269 game instead of 278, and as a result, Kahn lost to Jeffery Lanes by eight pins instead of winning by one in the final game and lost the point for high series by nine pins instead of tying.

Kahn was able to get back only one point in its match against Moyle Construction of Carpentersville Saturday night at Country Lanes in Lake Zurich.

ALL THIS helped jumble the standings into one big snowball. Only five points separate first and seventh place with just two weeks of bowling remaining in the first half.

Nelson Realty of Mt. Prospect had an excellent chance to take over the Paddock Classic lead, but like Kahn, it was able to win only one point in its match against Beverly Lanes of Arlington Heights.

The last week of first half competition prior to position round week will almost be a position round itself. First place Kahn takes on runner-up Nelson Realty which is just a half point back. Third place Beverly Lanes, a point and a half off the pace, meets Moyle Construction, just a half point further back. The matches are scheduled for 9 p.m. Saturday at Hi-Way Recreation in Palatine.

KAHN, which represents River-Rand Bowl in Des Plaines, won its lone game in the opener as four men rolled 200 or better in the team's 1000 game. Captain Don Christensen of Arlington Heights had an anchor 212 followed by a 208 by Tony Sasso of Des Plaines, 206 by Rogers, and 205 by Wally Behm of Palatine.

Then it came Moyle Construction's turn on its home Country Lanes. Four of its men had 200 plus games as the team established a new high game, 1050. Frank Graff of Palatine, who had a 200 in the opener, jumped to 240 and John Taylor of Waukegan, who had 205 in the first game, went up to 236. George Radke of Mundelein had 211 and George Sargent of Waukegan posted a 211.

Despite a 236 by Sasso, Kahn fell to Moyle Construction by five pins in the last game as Radke had 223 and Graff 205. Three Moyle men had 600 plus series, led by a 665 by Graff. Taylor posted 630 and Radke 610 with Sasso being the only Kahn bowler interrupting with a 646 total.

HOWEVER, Jeffery Lanes and Pro Sport Center of Mt. Prospect had more 600 plus bowlers, five. Jeffery had three, Chuck Gibson of Bensenville with 624. Bill Harris of Wheeling with 623 and Hec Healey of Northbrook with 614. However, Pro Sport Center's Al Walter of Arlington Heights had the night's high series, 678, and teammate Paul Zubak of Elk Grove Village totaled 609.

Jeffery won the opener on a 211 by Gibson, 208 by Healey and 202 by George Stone of Deerfield to offset a 223 by Walter. In a battle of 200's, Jeffery won the middle game, 1017-1007. Gibson's 225 paced Jeffery followed by a 216 by Dick Nethaway of Prospect Heights, 213 by Harris and 206 by Healey. On the other side, Al Steichmann had 223, Ward Siewert of Palatine 215 and Walter 211.

Pro Sport Center, bowling out of Gunnell's in Mt. Prospect, rallied to win the last game on a 244 by Walter and a 233 by Zubak to tie Jeffery for the point for high series. Both had 2968.

NO ONE ON the Nelson Realty team could find the range as Beverly Lanes, behind a 676 series by Dick Nickol of Palatine, won three points. John Seidel of Palatine paced Beverly to the opening game win with a 228 effort. Then everyone but Seidel had 200 plus in the next game. Nickol had 233, Bill Radunz of Arlington Heights 215, Warren Walter of Arlington Heights 205 and Lee Adams of Mt. Prospect 202. Despite Nickol's 244, Nelson Realty captured the last game as Buck Perkins of Barrington Woods posted 224 and Casper Dewitz now of Chicago, had his second consecutive 211.

In the final match, Martinetti's Restaurant of Crystal Lake and Wheeling Furniture, bowling out of Hi-Way Recreation, split the four points in their match, Wheeling Furniture taking two games and Martinetti's high series by three pins.

A 247 by Chris Pulos of Crystal Lake and a 203 by John Majewski of Algonquin gave Martinetti's the opener. Then a 201 by Ron Fogarett of Palatine and a 200 by Herb Engstrom of Elgin evened the match. Wheeling Furniture took the final game, but Martinetti's, representing Ten Pin of Barrington, had enough to hold on for high series thanks to a 224 by Pulos. Pulos finished with a 657 series while Ted Zimmerman of Des Plaines and Fogarett had 615 and 601, respectively.

ARLINGTON'S JOHN Burgermeister rises for a jump shot with teammate Chuck Close providing the screen in first half of last Saturday's non-league game with Chicago Marshall. On defense for the Commandos is Eddie Jakes. Marshall handed Arlington its first loss of the season, 58-50.

JUST DOGS

by DAVE TERRILL

Tip in Time

The expression may be old, but the thought behind it is very important and timely for the season. Every year just about now your editor repeats himself about the Christmas puppy. Many folks are perhaps old hands at getting a dog and have done so a number of times. There are still those, however, who are going out after a Christmas pup with a rather vague thought in mind as to what they want, the breed, long hair or short, what to feed the new pup and many more questions which always seem to arise about 10 minutes after the pup arrives in his new home.

First and foremost — don't wait until the last day to introduce the young dog to his new home. Christmas day is a bad time to spring a new set of faces on a young pup who, up until then, has perhaps only known one or two people who have been responsible for his arriving at this point in a rather hectic life.

BEFORE the pup arrives make plans on where he is to sleep, where he is to be fed, and by whom, plus the most important factor, who will see that he gets proper exercise along with this business of house-breaking. Let him have a couple of days around the house to sort of get used to this new life and at the same time the family will have somewhat of a schedule worked out as to who is going to do what.

Christmas day can be an all-out day of happiness for everyone if you keep in mind that the new pup is part of the celebration and that his schedule has been worked out ahead of time so that proper care is not overlooked because of the excitement of opening gifts and playing with toys.

As to the breed of dog, that is, of course, up to the individual family and depends to a great extent on personal preference. Keep in mind such things as where you live; how large a house; perhaps the dog will be outside in a kennel or dog house of his own; can you keep him in all the time; these and many more items are important.

DON'T FORGET to check on diet, not only as a pup, but also on what he will need as he gets older. Keep in mind that proper shots and medication as a young pup are important, and as he gets older other phases of health may require various types of treatment. If you purchase the pup from a reputable breeder much of this information will be mentioned to you, plus your receiving the proper registration papers if it is a pure-bred dog.

The one main satisfaction with owning a pure-bred is that you can at least start out knowing beforehand what he should turn out to be when he is a grown dog. People are getting wiser every year in finding out that this "pig in the poke" buying of a dog is not the best idea especially when Fido was supposed not to get very large and then turns out to be a monster—and has a disposition to go with it.

Popular Poodle

Show News

Speaking about breeds of dogs, according to the manufacturers of Ken-L-Ration dog food, every fifth pure-bred dog newly registered during the year 1961 to date is a poodle.

One of the first dog shows to be held in the new year will be the one sponsored by the Wheaton Kennel Club, Inc. The club's seventh annual AKC sanctioned All Breed Dog Show and Obedience Trial will be held Sunday, Jan. 14, at the DuPage County Fairgrounds in Wheaton from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Entries must be in by noon on Tuesday, Jan 2. Further information or entry forms may be obtained by calling Mrs. F. W. Kinderman, HO 9-2426, or Robert Hoyt, NE 4-3414.

Barks & Bays

This will be the last column of Just Dogs before Christmas Day arrives. From the editor, to you and yours, a most happy holiday and a sincere "thank you" for your many fine comments and letters during the past year. It all adds up to a feeling of helping just a little bit more to understand something about "Man's best friend."

Arlington's Soph Matmen Win, 51-3

Arlington's powerful frosh-soph wrestling team made Fenton its third straight victim Tuesday afternoon and almost blanked the visiting Bisons in the process.

Coach Julius Cliehler's Cardinals lost their shutout when Fenton's John Smith decisioned Ray Goertz 2-1 in the heavyweight battle.

Arlington held a 51-0 lead heading into that final tussle and finished with a 51-3 triumph, its third straight decisive victory.

The Cards racked up seven pins thanks to Gary Moreau, Bob Conti, George Derby, Bruce Yates, Ron Fritz, Hugh Smeed, and Randy Opela. Bob Jennings and Mel Van Sky registered decisions and Arlington won two matches via forfeits.

The summary:

Arlington 51, Fenton 3

95 Pounds—Moreau (A) pinned Gustafson (F), 1:03
103—Arlington won on forfeit
112—Conti (A) pinned Janis (F), 4:58

Cards Rock Fenton on Varsity Mat

In their final dual meet competition before the Palatine holiday tournament on Dec. 29-30 Arlington high's varsity wrestlers rocked a visiting Fenton team, 34-10, Tuesday afternoon.

Coach Bob Emmons' Cardinals rolled up a 20-0 lead before the Bisons could score, then coasted in with their second victory in three non-league outings this year.

Coach Bob Algarin's Fenton outfit of the Tri-County conference suffered its third loss in five matches.

ARLINGTON registered one pin and five decisions in the first five matches and raced off to its 20-0 lead.

Denny FitzPatrick bumped Fenton's Gary Olafson in the 95-pound tussle, 5-0, and soph Dick Munk backed that decision with an effortless 6-0 triump at 103.

When the dust had cleared following the next four bouts, Arlington had 14 more points thanks to a decision by Ken Bond at 112, decision by John Anderson at 120, pin by Ken Adams at 127, and decision by unbeaten Terry Witt at 133.

Both Adams and Witt are unbeaten this year although Ken has a 2-2 deadlock on his record.

FENTON BROKE into the scoring column at 138 when senior Ron Nytko pinned Arlington's Bob Gray in 3:02. That was the extent of the Bisons' scoring until 6-3, 240-pound Dale Greco, an all-league tackle in football, pinned Arlington's Bob Burm in 3:05 of the heavyweight scrap.

Arlington concluded its scoring with a 4-0 decision by Dick Keller at 145, 4-2 conquest by Bob Clark at 154, and effortless 9-1 win by Roy Woodruff at 165. The Cards claimed five easy points when Fenton was forced to forfeit the 180-pound match.

The summary:

95 Pounds—Fitz-Patrick (A) beat Olafson (F), 5-0
103—Munk (A) beat Owen (F), 6-0

Women's Classic

Steve's Restaurant Cops 1st Half Title

Steve's Restaurant of Wheeling captured the first half championship of the Paddock Women's Classic Traveling League by taking a pair of games from Ridge Motors of Des Plaines Saturday night at Beverly Lanes in Arlington Heights.

The two losses knocked Ridge Motors from a second place tie with Morton Pontiac of Arlington Heights which took all three from River-Rand Bowl.

Ann Neumann of Morton Grove led Steve's, which calls Jeffery Lanes in Wheeling home, with high games in the first two games. She had a 185 in the opener and when both teams sagged her 190 kept Steve's above 800. However, the final game belonged to Ridge Motors, bowling out of Sims Bowl in Des Plaines, as Rosemary Babich of North Chicago hit 200 on the head. Rosemary was high for Ridge Motors with a 537 series and Ann Neumann had three less for Steve's Restaurant.

MORTON Pontiac, behind the night's high individual series, 570, by Pat Proebstle of Arlington Heights, took care of River-Rand Bowl with ease. Pat had the night's high individual game in the opener, 224, and then Joan Lindahl of Arlington Heights paced Morton in the last two with a pair of 192's.

Moyle Construction of Carpentersville spent itself in the opener, winning, 888-797. Then Northfield Bowl won the close ones, 828-806, and 807-805. Ceil Borre of Wilmette paced Northfield Bowl with a 555 series and Vi Douglas of Palatine was just four pins behind for Moyle Construction, which calls Country Lanes in Lake Zurich home.

Notre Dame Dons Drop 2 Straight Cage Encounters

By TOM TREBAT

The previously unbeaten Notre Dame Dons did an about face and lost two in a row last weekend.

On Friday, St. Edward tripped the Dons 52-37. Glenbrook came out on the large side of a 50-40 score the following evening. The Dons hope to break the losing streak tomorrow night when the St. Procopius Redwings invade Notre Dame.

Injuries to key players severely hurt the Dons' chances in each of the two games last week. Valuable Guard Jay Coakley missed both encounters due to illness. Center Bruce Dickman was forced to participate with a bad ankle, hindering his effectiveness.

THE GREEN Wave of St. Edward bolted to early lead and never relinquished it. Led by Larry Evans who totaled 32 points, they gradually gained ground in each quarter. As usual the big Notre Dame forward wall of Pete Chepulis, Bruce Dickman, and John McNally controlled the rebounds, but the Don offense consistently missed shots. Although he sat out most of the first half, Dickman paced Notre Dame scorers with 12 points. Next in line were McNally with 8 points and Cowan with 7.

The Dons got off to a much better start in the Glenbrook game, but the end result, a 50-40 loss, was just as dismal as in the St. Ed game. Led by Dickman and McNally, both with 12 points, the Dons romped to a 16-6 first quarter lead. Glenbrook, paced by Rader's 14 points, shortened that lead to 24-18 at the half. The third quarter was fatal for Notre Dame. Everyone went cold from the floor for the Dons while everyone got hot on the Spartan squad. Glenbrook rolled to 18 in the third quarter while limiting Notre Dame to a paltry total of 7.

The fourth quarter was merely a continuation of the third with Glenbrook pulling away even farther, making the final score Glenbrook 50, Notre Dame 40.

Sophs Bump Leyden

Prospect Cops First Victory in Swimming

Prospect high school has its first swimming victory.

The frosh-soph Knights of Mt. Prospect turned the trick last Friday in the West Leyden pool with an impressive 48-37 decision.

It marked the first victory by a Prospect tank team as the school is engaged in its initial year of interscholastic swimming competition. The sophs dropped their opener at Maine West and the varsity has been bumped in both outings this year.

WEST LEYDEN took the varsity test last Friday although it was extended in the 53-43 decision over Coach Don Barrett's Knights.

Prospect racked up five individual firsts against Leyden's varsity thanks to Jeff Cassell in diving and the 50 yard freestyle, Bob Brown in the 100 yard butterfly, Jay Magnuson in the 100 yard freestyle, and Ron Merriell in the 100 yard backstroke.

The victory in diving was Cassel's second straight of the young season.

Prospect also claimed another first thanks to the 200 yard medley relay team of Merriell, Gary Beck, Ken Holmes, and Dave Johnston.

COLLECTING seconds for the varsity Knights were Roland McCully in the 400 freestyle and Holmes in the 100 butterfly.

Prospect registered four individual firsts in the frosh-soph meet with Wayne Peterson in the 150 freestyle, Bob Haase in the 100 freestyle, Jim Cashmore in diving, and Hugh Wesler in the 100 yard individual medley.

The Prospect 200 yard free style relay team of George Bookless, Wayne Peterson, John Gatts, and Tom Blair covered the distance in 1:59.9 for another first.

Prospect's varsity and frosh-soph swimmers will be idle until a Jan. 7 meeting with Elgin.

Prospect JVs Top Leyden, Elgin Fives

Prospect's JV basketball team added two more victories to its 1961-62 undefeated string last weekend, whipping West Leyden 51-27 Friday night, and Elgin 53-49 Saturday.

The junior Knights continued setting the pace in the 12-team Interim association with the West Leyden win. Coach Ted Wissen's lads will carry a 4-0 record into crucial contests this weekend with Wheaton and Glenbard East.

Center Bob Hope and Guard Dick Beck paced the Knights to a big first half spurt that silenced the Leyden squad before it could get started. Beck made 14 points and Hope 10 as the Knights pushed off to a 10-1 quarter lead, a 24-9 halftime edge, then coasted through the final periods to victory.

The Elgin game was much the same story. This time Sophomore Guard Dave White hit six first period points to help build a 16-4 lead. Hope then protected the Knight lead with seven in the second period, and the Prospect team took the intermission with a 32-20 margin.

Elgin came on strong with a pressing defense to outscore Wissen's charges 29-21 in the second half. Prospect was hampered by fouls, but managed to stay on top all the way. Beck again led his teammates with 13 points. White had 10.

Arlington High Frosh Cage Units Top Maine East

Arlington high's frosh "A" and "B" basketball teams racked up their second straight victories of the season last Saturday morning with conquests of visiting Maine East.

Coach Bob Rees' "A" quintet dumped the young Blue Demons 34-29 and Brendan Flynn's "Bs" chalked up an effortless 39-18 decision.

Lanky Bob Connor once again sparked the "A" squad with 15 points on five baskets and five free throws. Backing Connor in the point parade were Mike Frase with eight, John McRae with five, and Scott Somers with three.

John Jamison chipped in with one basket and Tom Jasper added a free throw.

Arlington improved on its work from the charity line with a 14 of 24 mark and Connor, Frase, and Somers all turned in solid performances in rebounding.

Score by quarters:

Arlington	12	4	13	5—34
Maine	6	8	7	8—29

Arlington's frosh "Bs" rolled up a 19-7 halftime advantage, then coasted in with the 39-18 decision.

Eight boys scored for Flynn's Cardinals with Roberto Benavides tossing in 12 on six baskets. Next in line were Jeff Galyon with six and Jim Welton, Richard Engleson, Jim Thomas, and Gary Maxwell with four each.

Score by quarters:

Arlington	11	8	8	12—39
Maine	4	3	4	7—18

Arlington's two frosh basketball teams will be shooting for their third straight victories Saturday morning when they host St. Charles of the Little Seven conference at 9:30 a.m.

Skaters Claim Nine Markers In 1st Meet

The Mt. Prospect Skating Club braved the elements last Monday night and through slushy ice, rain and sleet, skated in the Olympic Fund Raising Open at Kirby's southside arena.

A total of nine points were earned with five of them being contributed by ponies Billy Grady and Dick Solley. Billy took a 3rd in the 220 yard event and Solley earned a second in the 110. Gary Jonland skated into the finals but didn't place in the top four. Tom Tangney is showing great improvement and bigger things are expected of him in future meets. Ray Leonard and Bert Gastorf are expected to move up after they get over the "butterflies" from their first participation in sanctioned competition.

Ronnie Baker, Greg Gripentrog and Linne Lindstrom fought their way into the finals in the Midget events but lost their bids for medals and points by finishing out of the money.

BOB GRADY, last year's National Gold Medal winner, showed he is getting back into form by taking a 3rd place medal in the 220 yard sprint but took a spill in the finals of the 440.

In the strong Junior division, Jim Zuckermandel, skating his first year under the Mt. Prospect banner, surprised by coming in 3rd in the 220.

The entire club will be hard at it again Wednesday and Friday night practicing at the Wilmette Park rink in preparation for the Highlander Open at the Ice Chalet in Rockford, Ill., this Saturday at 6:00 p .m.

CLUB OFFICIALS advise that plans are being finalized for their Second Annual Winter Carnival to be held on December 31st at Lions Park in Mt. Prospect. Further details will be forthcoming in subsequent editions. They can at this time announce that Ken Bartholomew of the famed Powder Horn Skating Club of Minnesota has accepted an invitation to skate in the Senior Men's division.

Bartholomew, fourteen times National Men's Champion, will challenge Ed Rudolph, last year's National champ, to the right to keep the Paddock Mile trophy.

This will be Ken's first appearance in any Illinois meet in the last ten years and should prove of great interest to local fans to see this skating great in action. The club suggests that you make December 31st at Lions Park at Mt. Prospect a must date on your list to view this great winter spectacle.

Arlington's Frosh Mat Squad Falls

Downers Grove's frosh wrestlers recovered from a 13-9 deficit after six bouts and buried Arlington high 37-13 last Saturday morning.

The visitors won each of the last six matches, five via pins in dumping the young Cardinals of Coach John Fish.

Arlington moved out to its 13-9 lead thanks to a decision by Ken Neal at 95, pin by Bob Torres at 127, and default.

The summary:

Maine's JVs Top Arlington

Maine East exploded in the second half Saturday and rolled to an effortless 63-32 junior varsity basketball victory over a host Arlington five.

The visitors from Park Ridge held a 21-12 halftime lead and outscored the Cardinals by 22 points in the final two periods.

Brown topped the Maine attack with 29 points on eight baskets and a 13 of 16 effort from the charity line.

Ken Seeger paced Arlington for the second straight game with 17 points on seven baskets and three free throws. Ken Wessling added six and Gerry Reinwaldt collected five.

Coach Rog Steingraber's JVs, now 0-2 for the season, will host St. Charles this Saturday morning.

Score by quarters:

Impressionist Art Often Misunderstood

By Lucile Ernst

One of the reasons people have difficulty in understanding the different schools of art is a matter of sematics.

Artists are strange people. When a group of revolutionary artists create a new technique, a new vision, those who despise them, degrade them with a name. It is amazing, but the artists accept the name. They go down in history with a name which does not explain them but was meant to detract from their stature. This seldom happens in any other field.

PRACTICALLY everyone believes that the Impressionists were interested only in giving an impression of the world. It is true that this is what they did, but there was a great deal more to their painting which their detractors either didn't understand or didn't choose to discuss.

The world was in a state of revolutionary change at the end of the 19th Century. The manners, morals, and concepts of hundreds of years were being questioned. Is it any wonder that artists should see a reason to dispute the rules of their art instructors, to try and find a new way to express these new ideas?

A Renoir painting now seems sweet and gentle. It seems strange that once those soft colors flabergasted and outraged the world.

For over 400 years artists painted all scenes in the dark of their studios. This seemed reasonable at the time for some reason or other. The Impressionists took their paint and talent outside and discovered the world to be much brighter than any artist had dreamed. There was no pigment intense enough to catch the brilliance of a green tree sparkling in a spring morning.

Monet, Manet, and others discovered that the human eye could mix colors and achieve a high degree of intensity. A spot of blue color placed next to a spot of yellow produces a bright green, far brighter than any mixed color. This is called "broken color."

INSTEAD OF painting in his studio for weeks and months using under-paintings, the modern artist painted quickly and spontaneously what he saw in all the brilliant intensity of nature.

A world which was used to dark, heavy, worked over paintings, was shocked by the brilliance of color, the force and freedom of the modern artist. They referred to these pathetic innovators as "Wild Beasts."

How tame their paintings seem now. It seems only natural that artists should paint ordinary people and nature in all its violence. Yet these are the paintings that caused riots when they were first exhibited.

ANY NORMAL human being who had some understanding of words would assume that the Post Impressionists, notably Cezanne, followed the Impressionists. This, of course, is not true. Cezanne painted at the same time as the Impressionists did. He felt that the Impressionists, in their desire to achieve brilliant intensity by the use of broken color, had lost form. He put form back into painting.

Although, as far I know, there are no major painters who are Impressionists in this day and age, in order to have some understanding of modern art, one should know about Impressionism. (Bill

to HAWAII

MARCH 9 through MARCH 25, 1962

Join your friends and neighbors in the most glorious, fun-filled vacation of a lifetime and come with us to the Pleasure Playland of the Pacific

These are the gentle islands of the Pacific, beloved by travelers since time began as the loveliest and most delightful haven in the world. A trip to Hawaii is a dream come true. The beauty of the islands, the year round perfection of the climate, its easy, carefree atmosphere accented by strange Polynesian pageantry, romantic music and dances, its unbelievable profusion of flowers are the background for a holiday planned with glorious Hawaiian leisureness and hospitality.

You will enjoy the 20-acre beachside estate of the luxurious Hilton Hawaiian Village with rolling surf, a private lagoon and five pools. There's swimming, surf riding, skin diving, water skiing and sailing. You'll be royally entertained by the traditional Luau fest and savor exotic Oriental foods.

No trip to Hawaii is complete without a hop over to the neighboring islands:

Kauai, the Garden Isle with its lush tropical beauty, the breath taking Waimea Canyon, "Spouting Horn," a noisy salt water geyser erupting near shore, Lalalau lookout with a breathtaking view, a 4,000 foot drop to the fertile valley bounded by razor sharp cliffs, a memorable visit to Fern Grotto, a fantastic scene with thousands of ferns growing downward from the roof of an enormous cavern.

Hawaii, the largest island of them all, the primitive island with towering active volcanoes, black sand beaches, fern grottos, palm lined shores, millions of orchids and tropical plants.

Kona, where sportsmen go for some of the most exciting deep-sea fishing in the world. You'll meet and love the unspoiled people in these neighbor islands and take back with you some of their carefree spirit, their kindness, and their deep satisfaction in life.

A Stop-over in San Francisco

Something new and exciting has been added for our second annual Hawaiian Holiday—fly jet from O'Hare in midmorning and land in San Francisco about noon. We spend the rest of the day in a grand tour of one of America's most interesting cities. Your trip includes cocktails at the famous "Top O' The Mark" and an unforgettable view of the city, a gourmet dinner at Fisherman's Wharf, and Chinatown at night. After a restful sleep at the New Hilton Inn, we board another jet the next morning and we are whisked over the Pacific to Honolulu, with the rest of the day to get settled in our twin-bedded rooms in the Village Tower of the Hawaiian Village Hotel.

Clip this coupon and write for your folder on the complete details of Paddock's Hawaiian Holiday. Christmas may not be "around the corner" yet, but start saving now for the once-in-a-lifetime vacation, a respite from the cold and the snow at just the right time. Mail to PADDOCK PUBLICATIONS, Arlington Heights, Illinois.

The Way We See It

Democrats Have Top Candidate in Simon

Now that United Nations Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson has decided against running for the Senate seat of Everett M. Dirksen, whoever becomes the Democratic party's candidate will be severely handicapped by the stigma of being a "second choice."

Obviously, Stevenson is the strongest candidate the Democrats could have presented. His decision to remain at his UN post has provoked considerable speculation. It ranges from the thought that President Kennedy would prefer to deal with Dirksen as minority leader than do business with an unknown, to the occurrence that Stevenson was rallying stronger support for his foreign policy views by threatening to leave his vital post.

Whatever the reason, the time has arrived for Mayor Daley to declare whom he favors to oppose Dirksen. The longer he delays, the more he reinforces the hand of the incumbent and does a disservice to his own candidate.

As of now, the best candidate the Democrats could present is State Rep. Paul Simon. If Mayor Daley has a preference for "blue ribbon" candidates, as is often professed, he does not have to look any further than Simon.

In many ways, the 32-year-old downstate newspaper publisher reflects Stevenson's independent brand of politics. He has not been afraid to oppose his party's leadership if he thinks it wrong. He has demonstrated that Davids can still slay Goliaths in the political arena; he was first elected state representative over the opposition mustered by the gambler-controlled Democratic machine in Madison county.

He has not been coy about his candidacy for the Senate, as have others mentioned as possible Dirksen opponents. His youth and vigor would provide a telling contrast for the formidable senator from Pekin.

Simon would be acceptable to suburban voters who often frown on the Cook county machine. He would be able to debate the issues with Dirksen intelligently and articulately. Among those working for his nomination in the Democratic primary is Walter Johnson, chairman of the history department of the University of Chicago, who headed the "Draft Stevenson" movement in 1952.

Most political pundits now seem to think that Illinois Speaker of the House Paul Powell (D., Vienna) will get the nod from Democratic slate-makers. His nomination would assure opposition from the majority of newspapers throughout the state due to his legislative activities in behalf of race tracks. A cracker-barrel type politician, Powell would be preferred if issues were to be discarded in favor of wisecracks.

But these are perilous times which require men willing to commit themselves to a stand. Paul Simon has shown that willingness. The Democratic party in Illinois needs more independent-minded politicians of Simon's fiber, not more "yes" men. Stephen A. Mitchell, a Stevensonian "egg head," has left the state as has Joseph D. Lohman, a former "blue ribbon" candidate. To end this exodus, the Democratic party must be willing to encourage a fair degree of independence.

When Simon announced his candidacy, he admitted: "I cannot claim the ability to produce the oratorial syrup for which our junior senator is famed. But I would hope that substance is a substitute for syrup." If Paul Simon receives his party's blessing, it will be. But if Paul Powell is to be the choice, the race will become as sticky as the corner confectionery on a hot and humid day.

Stickney Scandal Reopens Debate over Township Role

The Stickney township scandal has raised two questions: how many other elected officials of integrity might have stories to tell? Should the township form of government be abolished?

Dr. Robert L. Smith, 27-year-old Stickney township supervisor, refused to be a partner to what he charges was a scheme by six township officials to pocket "kickbacks" from township business.

These were men who worked for his election, and he could count personal friends among them. But Smith, a dentist, apparently placed principle and his campaign promise of giving the voters an honest administration above partisan and party considerations.

In exposing this alleged cavity of corruption, Smith has already incurred the displeasure of some of the party pros in Republican ranks who have raised the cry of "Why didn't he come to us first?" The answer to this question is so obvious it doesn't require an answer.

Dr. Smith's encounter, however, with what appears to be a flagrant violation of public trust has not dimmed his belief in township government. He is quoted as expressing the view that the township can give quicker service to those needing relief, and that in unincorporated areas this form of government still performs important functions.

This observation differs from the one entertained by two suburban state legislators, Rep. Bernard M. Peskin (D., Northbrook) and Rep. Anthony Scariano (D., Park Forest). The two sponsored a bill in the last session of the General Assembly which would have transferred the relief functions of the township to county welfare agencies.

Peskin is of the opinion that many townships perform so few functions that they have to "look around for things to do." Scariano thinks that townships come in for less scrutiny than any other form of government and says that, as they become more fragmentary, even more trouble can be expected.

Some officers of the Cook county Township Officials' association answer this criticism by claiming that Democrats are attempting to impose their will even further through their control of Cook county by eliminating townships.

There are probably elements of truth in both contentions. With continued growth and incorporation, however, township government will continue to decline in influence and effectiveness.

A law whose legality is being questioned was recently passed which allows township residents to petition for the transfer of surplus funds to school districts if taxes have not been levied for general township purposes in three calendar years. The question of legality arises over whether the road and bridge fund most townships replenish by tax levy is construed as being for "general" township purposes.

(Wheeling township voted to transfer $100,000 to school districts last April, which would leave a surplus on hand of about $45,000.)

While the legal subtleties of this law remain to be resolved, its presence testifies to the fact that townships have generally been collecting more revenue than they can legitimately spend.

Perhaps township powers should be gradually transferred to other forms of government in harmony with existing realities rather than being abolished outright.

As far as scrutinizing township activities, the League of Women Voters of Arlington Heights demonstrated its civic worth in Wheeling township by pointing out the inept way in which the township road commissioner was conducting affairs, resulting in his removal from office in the April elections.

Dr. Smith has also shown by example what honesty and vigilance can accomplish. May his numbers increase.

'Maybe You're Looking for a David?'

Critic's Corner

Some Pokes At Piques

by JIM DAVIES
News Editor, Arlington Heights Herald

Anything?

That's right, the boss said, write about anything you feel strongly about, anything that upsets you, that boils your blood, stomps on your sensitivity, prickles your peace of mind or saddens your soul.

A great opportunity this is, this chance to sound off in public. Except for one thing.

I'm not mad at anybody.

In fact, I really feel more like throwing out bouquets than barbs — our village police have done some particularly good work lately, the village board exhausted itself but got the sewer bond referendum passed, an old girl friend took time to write, two people I know who read "Tropic of Cancer" haven't committed any serious sex offenses yet, Mother still loves me, my paycheck didn't bounce, girls are still wearing short skirts. . .

DAVIES

But why go on this way: this is the Critic's Corner and that means take a poke at something.

The problem is that the major injustices and inequalities and inadequacies and inanities which disturb my peace of mind (the John Birch society, censorship, pseudo-salvation of all kinds) have been whipped soundly by truly gifted people from President John Kennedy on down to Dick Hoffmann (. . .er, sorry, Dick) from Dick Hoffmann on down to President John Kennedy, I mean.

SO THERE'S not much point in my picking up the ball and running around in the end zone when the touchdown has already been made.

On the other hand, they're a number of petty piques that aren't hard to pluck from the subconscious where they usually are confined, rankling and restless, but silent.

I do a slow burn, for instance, when the high school basketball player flaunts his religion (or more correctly, his lack of knowledge of the meaning of religion) by crossing himself before he takes a free throw.

AND I GET decidedly irritable with the waitress who is so busy clearing tables, washing glasses, arguing with other waitresses about a missing tip, and looking out the window to see if her boyfriend is passing that she doesn't have time to take care of customers.

And with the sales clerk who hovers so closely at my heel when I'm browsing around that I know she's sure she's seen me on a "Wanted for Shoplifting" poster somewhere.

And with the other sales clerk who spends 45 minutes out of every hour in the back room having a smoke, and the other 15 minutes trying to find out if the sales manager has missed her.

THEN THERE'S that crawling monster of a semi-truck that I get stuck behind for miles and miles and miles on a busy highway, eating his exhaust and getting absolutely no consolation from the sign on the back telling me how much money the truck company pays in taxes.

And speaking of taxes, isn't it about time the government quit discriminating against the single man through its income tax structure?

But as I say, these are pretty petty prejudices, a little insignificant when compared with the important contradictions and disparities apparent daily in this land of the free and the home of the brave and the knave.

SO IN THIS Christmas season:

. . . with the Pope refusing to unite with other Christians unless he can be the big boss . . . with two Protestant churches in the south closing their doors to Negroes seeking God . . . with the John Birch society condemning the Reds for sowing seeds of distrust in our national institutions then proceeding to sow seeds of distrust in our national institutions. . .

There's not much a person can say, except Merry Christmas to all, and to all a good blight.

A Need to Excel

Our Untapped Talent

by DICK HOFFMANN

When the Green Bay Packers professional football team defeated the New York Giants a fortnight ago to win the Western Conference title and the right to play for the world championship, much credit was due a one-man demolition expert named Jim Taylor.

Among the mastodons who play for pay, Taylor appears underfed. In fact, he measures somewhat less than the professional standards demanded for his occupational specialty of fullback, standing 6 feet and weighing 215 pounds.

But Taylor has what students of this violent art form describe as "second effort." It is an intense desire which elevates the practitioner above the ordinary. There are other fullbacks of more heroic proportions; some, probably, have more natural talents for mayhem. It, therefore, appears to be a question of attitude which separates the ram from the flock.

HOFFMANN

All of us have reserves of mental and physical resources which remain untapped, and which will probably never be summoned during the course of a life time. Occasionally, one reads of a slight sprig of a girl lifting a car when a bumper jack gives way, pinning a brother or husband. This can be traced to stimulated adrenal glands; extreme mental exertion is more difficult to gauge, but evidences of what we call "genius" probably accurately define a more demanding use of capabilities.

F. SCOTT Fitzgerald, author of "The Great Gatsby" and other works, had unusual natural talents which he dissipated in drink and self-pity. He never had to really exert himself to achieve success.

Ernest Hemingway, by contrast, agonized over his work. He treated his profession as sacred. While he possessed a hearty appetite for violence and drink, he subordinated pleasure to his profession, and lived as an ascetic when engaged in his craft.

The difference that desire made is that Fitzgerald's topical commentaries will not enjoy the longevity of Hemingway's enduring discussions on the human condition.

THIS ATTITUDE of putting forth all effort to excel presupposes the need for a certain confidence. But instead of the self-assurance which comes from doing the safe and predictable—the expected—it suggests doing what the individual's inner voice recommends.

This is a quality which Sociologist David Reisman has coined as "inner-directedness," which he ventures was displayed by American pioneers and later age barons of finance and industry. However much one agrees with the application of the term to the facts, this also seems to be the awareness which carried Freud and Darwin into uncharted terrain. They had the confidence and inner discipline to rise above their critics.

This is an element that has been so lacking in public life; politicians are so fond of job security that they will only verbalize what they think the people want to hear; the same is true in industry, labor unions, and the press.

DESIRE CAN defeat biology and, some adamant defenders of free will maintain, circumstance. The English poet, Lord Byron, swam the Hellespont even though he was handicapped by a club foot.

Perhaps Byron would not have accomplished the feat without the presence of adversity. It's possible the motivation would have been absent if he had not felt compelled to prove himself because of his deformed foot (a condition easily corrected these days).

I am of the school that holds that the proper set of circumstances—the right environment, the "breaks"—are required no matter what degree of desire is brought to a particular venture. But given equal opportunity, those who can muster "second effort" consistently outdistance the herd.

GIVEN THE opportunity, some Negro athletes have fashioned meteoric careers in professional baseball; others have been mediocre. If a Negro were to discover a cure for cancer, would Southern segregationists refuse it since it was sullied by an "inferior" being? (Anti-Semites probably had to wrestle with mixed feelings over the Salk vaccine).

But while I'll concede that a favorable climate must prevail, I think it is safe to assume that the "inner - directed" individual has a head start on his fellows. Edison thrived on four hours sleep a night, but this was as much a matter of desire as physiology.

This is why a football professional like Taylor can go beyond the limits imposed by physique. Desire has made him 10 feet tall.

How Much Do We Really Care?

Challenge to Do-Gooders

by MARTIN E. MARTY

QUESTION 7 is the name of a motion picture which comes to Chicago, specifically to the Loop Theatre, the day after Christmas.

Whoever attends will be rewarded with an entertaining, inspiring, complex motion picture. It concentrates on the struggles of a young Christian in East Germany. "Question 7" refers to the seventh question on a questionnaire handed him by the Communists: to what influences did he attribute his personal development? His father was a Christian pastor: should he record his father's influence?

MARTY

When I first heard of the production of this film, it sounded as if it could be an instant success. The people who filmed the "Luther" movie a few years ago had produced it. While the Roman Catholic segment of America's Christian populace was not (understandably) too enthused about the previous offering, it has endorsed "Question 7" generously.

PRIESTS HAVE encouraged members to attend. Catholic critics have lauded it. One Catholic agency gave it the award for the year's outstanding movie. Protestants quite naturally will be predisposed in favor of the movie. This sounds like a "captive audience" that should put the picture in the best-selling category.

What is more, since it avoids pious nonsense and concentrates on a tense human drama, it has entertainment appeal. Since it tells of the struggle with Communism it should involve the millions of Americans who recognize this as their own struggle. The movie has met one great test in some cities: word of mouth endorsement. People who saw it told others, and they went.

WITH ALL this in its favor, I am told that while it does very well in the cities where it gets a good start, "Question 7" does not do too well at all in other cities. What will happen in Chicago? Despite massive support by churchmen (I get daily mailings organizing attendance for it), and despite the large Christian population, it will be shown at a relatively small Loop theater. Will it get far enough along (the first two weeks) for word-of-mouth to generate continued confidence in its projection?

This may all sound like advertisement for a film which, in a sense, it is. But it has an editorial point. The course of "Question 7" in Chicago will tell us something about the seriousness with which hordes of good suburbanites took their issues this past year.

For one thing, it has been a pious year, an anti-dirty book, anti-dirty magazine year. Suburban women's clubs have busied themselves reading books to get banned; they have activated police forces to act as literary critics. Do they do this because they enjoy the works they censor, or do they take seriously the responsibility for filling the vacuums. As they discourage bad movies, will they support good ones?

SIMILARLY, the area filled up with anti-Communism clubs. How seriously will their devotees support this anti-Communist film? It has one disadvantage for many: it does not portray the viewers' neighbors as being hidden Communists. It does not inspire hatred. Maybe, therefore, it won't excite any one. The support "Question 7" receives may tell us whether these thousands of Chicago areans were mainly busy exploiting insecurities and mistrusting neighbors or whether they really cared about understanding Communism.

I hope "Question 7" moves to a bigger theater and settles for a long run. I would like to be proven wrong in my reserves about the past year's Crusades.

Research Dogs Are More Pampered Than Pets

Kid-Gloves In the Lab

If a Texas millionaire wanted to give his pet hound the world's finest care, he would be hard put to equal the kid-gloves treatment which thousands of dogs receive today in modern animal research laboratories throughout the nation.

In immaculately-kept "vivariums" maintained by government health agencies, universities, pharmaceutical laboratories and research hospitals throughout the U. S. and Canada, dogs and dozens of other animals from mice to goats are vastly more pampered than the most prized household pets—and for good reason.

SCIENTISTS engaged in the continuing struggle to preserve and prolong life—both for human beings and animals—need to test lifesaving drugs and study other medical procedures on living organisms. They must study life in order to protect life.

"Without animal experimentation," says Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of Medical World News and longtine former editor of the Journal of the American Medical Association, "we would not have serums or vaccines, anesthetics or antibiotics, or the great armamentarium of modern synthetic chemotherapeutic medicaments that bring relief from pain and recovery from a host of diseases that formerly destroyed human lives. Hogs would continue to perish in epidemics of hog cholera. Cattle would still be destroyed by the millions because of tuberculosis. Dogs would peril their own lives and those of all other animals by transmitting rabies, distemper and other plagues."

To insure the success of hundreds of millions of dollars worth of life-prolonging research, a typical modern animal research laboratory at the University of Illinois accords some 10,000 animals almost unequalled care.

IN A NEW $2,250,000.00 Medical Research Laboratory at the U. of I. Chicago Professional Colleges on Chicago's near West Side, thousands of mice and rats, a smaller number of dogs, rabbits, cats, chickens, pigeons, hamsters, guinea pigs, and usually a few rarer species never had it so good on the farm, in a zoo, or even in the most avid pet-fancier's home.

A 320 ton air-conditioning unit for the university's animal quarters supplies sterilized air at controlled temperatures and humidity. No building for human habitation has a more elaborate system and almost none of even the newest hospitals provide such comfort for human patients.

Even well animals get treatment accorded to few sick humans—including sterilized food containers, sterilized rooms, stainless steel cages, and their own nurse and veterinarian. Even an indoor loading platform in the windowless building keeps animals from getting chilled en route to their new quarters.

THIS ANIMAL "club" is so exclusive that new arrivals aren't even allowed to mingle with regular "guests" till after a month's quarantine assures that they are free of diseases brought in from the outside.

While the University of Illinois facility is one of the newest and finest among the nation's medical schools and research institutes it is by no means unusual. A new animal house being constructed for similar purposes at the University of Chicago, for example, will cost approximately three times, per unit of space, what it costs to build a new office building, or seven times the cost of the same space in a fine new home.

The elaborate care that goes into the keeping of these animals extends as well into the experiments in which they are used. Contrary to popular misconception, fully 90 per cent of all laboratory animals in the U.S. never feel the sting of an anaesthetic needle. The reason: they are used principally in feeding, pill dosage, vitamin evaluation and other such research which does not require surgical procedures. As just one example, the lifesaving "iron lung" was perfected on 24 cats who did nothing but sleep all day. The most-commonly used animal is the mouse, which is used extensively in screening drugs for effectiveness and undesirable side effects before they are administered to the first human patient.

ANIMALS USED in the development of surgical procedures—such as the dogs which allowed doctors to perfect the lifesaving "blue-baby" heart operation — are fully an aesthetized, of course. It would be foolishly impractical not to duplicate the procedures used in human surgery, for the purpose is to apply the results to human surgery.

"We go to such lengths to care for our animal subjects, certainly for humanitarian reasons," says Dr. William C. Dolowy, administrator of the U. of I. Medican Research Laboratory, "but also for good practical scientific reasons. The success of our work depends upon preventing extraneous factors from misleading our research. It is actually more economical to have excellent laboratory animal care because it increases the efficiency and productivity of our search for new knowledge with which to save lives."

Medical investigators who use animals are engaged in a continuing search for better techniques for handling their laboratory animals.

Eleven years ago directors of animal care at a number of medical institutions formed the Animal Care Panel in order to facilitate exchange of information on the best methods of laboratory animal husbandry. Most persons charged with laboratory animal care in the United States now belong to the ACP. They attend its large three-day annual meetings and comb the quarterly Animal Care Panel Proceedings to find ideas that will help them bring the care of their precious charges even nearer perfection.

THE AMERICAN Veterinary Medical Association has established a specialty board for veterinarians who qualify as experts in laboratory animal care. This small and select group is known as the American Board of Laboratory Animal Medicine.

Since 1953, the National Research Council-National Academy of Sciences has had a subdivision, The Institute of Laboratory Animal Resources, devoted to the collection and dissemination of information regarding laboratory animal breeding, shipping and handling. The Institute has just completed a survey of the organization of laboratory animal care in institutions across the country. The survey also included an inventory of facilities presently used for animal studies.

A committee of the National Society for Medical Research works on suggestions for experimental procedures that will protect laboratory animals against avoidable discomfort. A staff member of the Society handles the exchange of information on the design and equipping of animal laboratories. The NSMR supplies laboratories throughout the nation with large placards of "Principles of Laboratory Animal Care."

THE ASSOCIATION of American Medical Colleges, the American Psychological Association, the American Physiological Society and several other scientific groups have committees concerned with the promotion of better laboratory animal care. In every case there is the dual objective of humanitarianism and scientific efficiency.

In Washington D. C. several years ago a group of humane society leaders formed a new organization called WARDS, which stands for Welfare of Animals used for Research in Drugs and Surgery. The first project of the new group was to collect more than $20,000.00 toward the building of a fine new animal house at the Georgetown University School of Medicine and Dentistry. The University and the United States Government provided the balance.

The WARDS creed is that the relief of suffering through medical science and the relief of suffering through humane work are complementary tasks and that the antivivisection controversies of years past obstructed real progress. The spectacular progress in laboratory animal care that has been made in recent years since the antivivisection cause lost most of its power seems to confirm the idea held by the founders of WARDS.

SAYS DR. Hiram E. Essex of the Mayo Clinic and President of the National Society for Medical Research, "The threat of abolition of animal experimentation had to be defeated before optimum progress in laboratory animal care could be made. How could the Dean of the medical school in a state university, for instance, go before the legislature and ask for funds for good animal care when he was afraid that the very mention of the use of animals in medical studies might lead to the virtual shutting down of some departments of the school?"

Fortunately no medical administrator today need hesitate to ask the best for the animals that are the living subjects for tomorrow's new medicines and new surgery. The contributions of animal research have been too dramatic to be seriously questioned in recent years, and people are learning that even a multi-million-dollar animal house is good economy when it means quicker results in solving problems of life or death.

Russell Is Named Head Of Agronomy

Dr. M. B. Russell head of the University of Illinois Agronomy department, is the newly elected vice president of the American Society of Agronomy.

This honor came to Russell at a banquet session Wednesday night during the society's 53rd annual meeting, attended by more than 1,800 leading crops and soils scientists from the United States, Canada and other countries.

Russell will automatically succeed to the ASA presidency next year.

THE AMERICAN Society of Agronomy membership includes more than 4,500 scientists representing land-grant colleges and agricultural experiment stations in the 50 states as well as the United States Department of Agriculture.

Also included are agronomists representing industries allied to agriculture, such as fertilizer manufacturers, seed producers, farm machinery companies, canners and food processors. (FM

Area Home Bureau Plans Yule Party

A December 20 Christmas party at Itasca Country Club is planned by the Mount Prospect unit of the Home Bureau.

In the monthly meeting, the gift exchange and entertainment program was discussed. Reservations for members and guests are to be in by December 15.

The January meeting will be a luncheon at Lions Park field house, and will have "Pennsylvania Dutch Cookery" as the subject.

The annual meeting of all Cook county units will be held at Elmhurst Country club, January 25. (Fm

Illinois Farmers' Outlook

Soybean Prices Pivot Around Support Level

By L. H. SIMERL

Prices of soybeans probably will hold close to the price-support level for the next six months. This is normal behavior for prices of a crop where the supply is substantially larger than the amount that will be used at the support price.

The situation was quite different a year ago. Then the supply did not exceed prospective use and exports. The price-support level was below market value. The crop failure in China then could be reflected in rising prices in the United States.

For the 1960-61 marketing year we had 582 million bushels of soybeans. (The carry-over in 1960 was 23 million bushels, and the crop 559 million). This year we have 716 million bushels. (The carry-over was an insignificant 6 million bushels, while the 1961 crop was 710 million). These figures show that our supply of beans for this marketing year is 21 per cent more than the amount we had last year.

THE PRICE-SUPPORT level for this year is $2.30 a bushel, 45 cents higher than for the 1960 crop. But the price-support level last year was not much of a factor in the market. Farmers sold their 1960 crop of beans at prices averaging $2.21 a bushel, which is only 9 cents lower than the support price for the 1960 crop.

In most recent years China has exported around 55 million bushels of soybeans annually, but exports from the 1960 crop apparently were only about one-fourth to one-third of normal. China appears to have had poor crops again in 1961. Consequently exports of Chinese beans again are likely to be small.

The United States had no reserves of soybeans last year to make up for the reduced exports from China. In fact, we exported only about 130 million bushels, 11 million less than the year before. But the fact that foreign demand was strong forced United States processors to bid up the price in order to keep enough beans in this country to keep their mills running.

Domestic mills used 401 millino bushels of soybeans in 1960-61. This was 8 million bushels more than one year before, but just the same as two years earlier. Also, 45 million bushels were used for seed and other farm purposes.

FOR THIS marketing year, which began October 1, domestic mills are expected to take around 425 million bushels. Exporters are figured to take 175 million or so. Subtract another 40 million for seed and other farm disappearance. Then we would still have about 75 million bushels of beans left over next October 1—that is, after allowing for increases of 6 per cent for domestic crushings and 35 per cent for export. If farmers do not put most of this 75 million bushels under price support, market prices are likely to sag below the support level.

Some of the 1961 crop has not been harvested—and will be lost in the fields. Of course, there are some losses every year, but they seem to be considerably larger than normal this year. But even with these losses, the market supply seems to be more than enough to meet prospective needs until the 1962 crop becomes available.

We may note, however, that the expected carry-over next fall is only about one-tenth of the 1961 crop. That is not a big reserve. On the other hand, all big surpluses of crops have been built up by adding small amounts over a period of several years. (FM

by Robert E. Hood, Assistant Farm Adviser

WE READ A GREAT DEAL about Russia versus United States. In some fields there is a question about our relative position. But in agriculture the Russians have not been able to boast about overtaking us or even coming close. The facts are the farmers in the United States produce about 60 per cent more than Russian farmers, using much less labor and land. Russia has about 40 per cent more cropland, and about 18 per cent more people than the United States. Nearly 45 per cent of Russia's workers are farmers, compared to less than 10 per cent in this country.

Our family farm system with its thousands of individual farm units undoubtedly must get credit for our agricultural productivity. In Russia, land is owned by the government. Production, guided by central planning, is carried out on large collective and state farms. Individual farmers have little to say and no incentive.

Our system in the U.S. has been the direct opposite of what Russia is practicing. We always have been able to provide enough food for our people. We produce enough food for an adequate diet for all. So the proof must be in the pudding.

The Agricultural Colleges through their research have provided the basis for agriculture's "technical revolution" which in turn freed millions of people from the land to take part in the phenomenal economic growth of our past century. The new technology has played an important part in helping to provide an abundance of food. But the new technology would have been of no value unless our farm people were able to take advantage of it.

The agricultural colleges have been responsible for education of our people in agriculture, carrying on the research and passing on the results of that research to farmers. This is probably why in 1960 farmers provided enough food so each of us consumed 161 pounds of beef, veal, pork, lamb, and mutton; 35 pounds of chicken and turkey; 203 pounds of vegetables (fresh vegetables equivalent); 204 pounds of fruits, (fresh fruit equivalent); 653 pounds of dairy products (whole milk equivalent); 103 pounds of potatoes and 6 pounds of sweet potatoes.

In addition, we can choose from as many as 5,000 different foods when we go to market-fresh, canned, frozen, concentrated, dehydrated, ready-mixed, ready-to-serve, or in heat-and-serve form.

We often hear of famous quotes. For the quote of the week, I chose the one of my good friend Dr. Tyrus R. Timm, Texas A & M College.

"If you are overly alarmed at the prospect of this souped-up agriculture . . . you may draw some consolation from the fact that cultural anthropologists believe that man is the only animal who can live and prosper in a continuous state of maladjustment." (Fm

Letters to the Fence Post

Parcnt Warns of Spiraling Costs of Public Education

As the parent of two elementary school children, I have received daily the letters regarding the referendum which were sent home with the children by the Board of Education and Superintendent of Schools. Therein lie the reasons I will vote "no" in the school referendum next Saturday, Dec. 16.

In the letter dated December 8, they say "While we all want the best for our children, we have certain financial limits beyond which we should not go. Every taxpayer has the right and privilege to question and scrutinize school expenditures and he should do so."

They are so right; we all do have financial limits beyond which we should not go. I think many of us taxpayers have reached this point or will do so in the near future.

I HAVE attended a number of school board meetings in the past year and have had a chance to view the way our school board conducts our school business. On several occasions when questions of future building have arisen, the board has readily admitted that in the foreseeable future, if enrollments continue to increase as they have in the past, WE WILL HAVE A BOND REFERENDUM EACH AND EVERY YEAR.

I do not deny that we will need these classrooms and have to agree that our board has done a good job of getting adequate school buildings at a good price.

However, if the citizenry will take time to think about it, they will realize that the expendture for bulidings is not the only thing they should consider — it is the upkeep that mounts up. Each room must have a teacher, and we pay the highest teacher salaries of any surrounding comparable district. We must have maintenance of these rooms and each new program that is initiated causes us to need more administrative help.

For example, this past year our district has hired a business manager, a curriculum director (which very few elementary districts have), secretarial help for these gentlemen. We have had to hire additional principals in addition to classroom teachers.

THE BOARD'S letter of December 8 cites the example that if your home is assessed at $8,000 this bond issue will cost you only $4 the first year, etc. They say that each succeeding year the cost will decrease since more people will be moving into the area and your portion of repayment will be correspondingly less. I wonder. With each additional family that moves into the district, there are usually several children. More children — more schools — needed every year — more bond issues costing "$4 a year, etc." Adding these all together, along with high school bonds and the bonds floated for numerous past referendums, soon it amounts to $400, $500, and $600 tax bills annually for some of our residents. This will continue to spiral.

At several board meetings when citizens raised the above questions, we were told that "if you people were willing to sacrifice a little for your children's education — such as not spending so much on recreation, etc. — you could pay for these things."

I have heard of people who are holding down two jobs to keep up their homes. I wonder how much time or money they have to spend on recreation.

MY POINT is this: we need classrooms, yes, and art, music, directed curriculum, managed business, a principal for every school, highly paid teachers, divided gymnasiums, adequate office space for administrative help — they are all wonderful and wouldn't it be nice if our district could afford it.

They really can't, but the board hates to admit it.

We have one of the lowest assessed valuations per pupil of surrounding districts. I wish I could believe that it is the right thing to do — I have three children of my own who I would love to see have these advantages. I just wonder how long we can go on — going deeper and deeper into the red and always hoping for some miracle to come along in the future to rescue us from the inevitable; that is, buildings and children to educate and an electorate that refuses to grant increases in the education fund to operate these buildings properly.

I think the time has come when we had better cut these referendums down to the BARE necessities — for future referendums for classrooms, etc. are going to be increasingly hard to pass.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Mrs. Helsper is NOT the Mrs. Jean Helsper who is secretary of the Citizens School Committee.)

School District Must Economize

May I please express my views relative to the pending bond issues for school district 54?

In January of this year the board of education informed us that projected enrollment figures indicated a need (a desperate need I might add) of 118 classrooms for the 1961-1962 school year. According to figures released on Dec. 7 we now have 114 rooms in the district with only 97 being used. From this I would judge that projected figures are inaccurate to say the least. If each year the need for rooms is so desperate why is it possible to provide three to four rooms for kindrgarten classes which are open to only certain residents of the district? (Regardless of what the school board considers their policy in this matter.)

WHY IS AN oversized room needed at the Schaumburg school for music and art when an oversized room in that building was partitioned just this past summer?

Why are we asked to provide an oversized room for a band program, the desirability of which is still questionable in the minds of a lot of residents. $7,000 a year for a band teacher plus extra construction to meet the so-called "needs" of this program is more than I am willing to pay. With taxes what they are I believe each family should finance an instrumental music education on their own if they can. If they cannot, then it is something that can wait until the high school years. The vocal program is something which requires no instrument investment and is certainly something more geared to the financial capacity of the district.

I realize, of course that the instrument rental or purchase is not paid for by the taxpayer, however, I still feel that those who wish their child to play an instrument should also pay for the lessons. It should not be a part of the grade school program in a financially distressed school district. Whether the school board and Mr. Flum know it or not, taxes have made this district financially distressed.

THE SQUARE FOOT cost for the Hillcrest school is cited as a very good buy, however, what about the overall cost which might have been less had the school been built without the extra footage which is in excess of that incorporated in the other schools in the district.

The time has come for the taxpayer to vote "NO" on all bond issues until every room in the district is used to the best advantage. What is the purpose of building more and more rooms each year while there are two sixth grade classes at Fairview school with 15 and 17 pupils respectively. Can we afford such small classes?

I for one will vote "NO" on this bond issue and all bond issues offered this year until the school board makes an honest effort to cut all expenses not only on construction but also on administrative expenses for personnel that we can well do without.

Newcomer Likes 'Lively Paper'

We are newcomers to this area and find it a pleasure to read your fine newspaper.

We are especially pleased to find your paper above the narrow provincialism often found in local area publications.

Congratulations on your emphasis of human values and your awareness of the underprivileged as evidenced by your series on "The Poor" and on the need to accept the inevitable arrival of minority groups.

It is stimulating to see the lively interest of citizens in their community via the letters to the editor's page.

Prompt Response Pleases Citizen

Today, December 6, an incident occurred and I would like to relate it to you.

Early this afternoon I heated the oven for the first time, as I just moved to Rolling Meadows. While waiting for the oven to reach a 450 degree temperature, I sat in the living room to write letters. Then I felt prompted to look at the oven. Well, flames came out, and I reached for the list of important telephone numbers which my mother gave me Monday evening.

I called the fire department. Not only did the firemen come, but also the police. They came so fast that it is hard to believe. They were such gentlemen and so helpful. The flames left soon. Thank God!

Fund Appeal Is Well Supported

It is with profound gratitude that we use your column to say "Thank you" to the people of Elk Grove. Their generous contribution of over $1,200 to the March for Muscular Dystrophy has made us very proud.

We also want to thank publicly all the volunteers who made possible the great success of our drive.

The drive here was part of a nationwide effort to raise funds for research, clinics, and orthopedic appliances needed by the more than 200,000 victims of Muscular Dystrophy.

Let's Unhitch 'Iron Horse'

Let's unhitch the "Iron Horse."

As an admirer of antiques in many forms, I even drive a 1930 model "A" Ford touring car to the office on sunny days, I was happy to see the village of Bensenville place a piece of the town's heritage in the form of the old locomotive in the town park.

Now I see a highwire "look but don't touch" fence being built around the engine to keep the children off. Why not remove all glass, weld the boiler door shut and fix the bell so it can't be stolen and let the children climb and feel. Their greasy little hand will keep the old steps and handles polished and keep the "Iron Horse" alive.

PTA Article Is Clarified

Paddock Publications dropped a bombshell on the Fairview School PTA last Thursday. Our publicity chairman sent in a perfectly clear, well written release on our December 7 meeting. Someone on your staff, however, found it necessary to rewrite the first two paragraphs, and in the process completely distorted the topic and purpose of this meeting. Our principal, Mr. Robert Morgan, made a public apology at the meeting to our guest speakers and to the membership, and our publicity chairman, Mrs. Leo Floros, quoted the release as she had sent it in so that the members present were made aware of the vast discrepancies.

These are the first two paragraphs of our release. "'The Need for a School Counselor and Psychologist' will be discussed by people in these positions at the Fairview School PTA meeting tonight Thursday, December 7. The meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. in Fairview's multi-purpose room, 300 N. Fairview, Mount Prospect.

"Scheduled to explain their function in the Mount Prospect schools are Miss Gertrude Pastryk, School Counselor, and Mr Francis Simal, School Psychologist. Time has been allotted for a question and answer period following their talks."

THIS IS what you printed under the headline, "Experts to Defend School Psychology." "A school counselor and school psychologist will defend their positions in the Mount Prospect public school system in a talk tonight at the Fairview school."

These two fine people represent a much needed addition to our school system. The Fairview PTA is aware that this need exists, and it was our intent to bring information to our membership on how the need is being met. To have the general public informed through your paper that we had asked Miss Pastryk and Mr. Simal to come and "defend" their positions in the school system was more than embarrassing to everyone concerned.

ALL PTA organizations need publicity and appreciate the cooperation given them by their local papers. No one questions the right of an editor to pull up a lead sentence, or rephrase a release, but when drastic revisions are made so that the entire meaning of an article is distorted, the resulting publicity is not only useless, but harmful.

I am asking that this letter be printed in its entirety so that the citizens of Mount Prospect, our School Superintendent and the members of our school board are made aware of the fact that the Fairview PTA does not feel it necessary to call on any member of our school system to "defend" their position.

Mrs. Charles A. Nelson

Federation Gives Gifts To Children

The 4-H Federation will be giving gifts to children at the county hospital at the annual Christmas party. Members, leaders and friends are invited to attend at the Miner Junior high school on Thursday Dec. 14 from 7:30 to 9 p.m.

The officers and their committees have planned an evening of games, dancing and fun. Everyone is asked to bring an ornament for the tree and a gift for the children at the county hospital.

It is suggested that the gifts be of a nature that children can construct something, such as models to build, weaving, and something for little girls to make, and dolls and other toys. Also, suckers that have the loop string handles would also be appreciated. (FM

Tax Forms Change From Last Year

Although the rules for filing 1961 income taxes are the same, farmers will find the forms slightly different from those of last year. Cook county assistant farm adviser Robert E. Hood reported this week.

A new form 1040 of only two pages replaces the old four page form. Farmers must also file form 1040F to report their farm income and expenses and form 1040F-1 to report earnings for social security taxes.

DEADLINES for filing are the same as last year. The declaration of estimated tax is due by January 15 and the final tax return must be filed and the tax paid by April 16. If a farmer chooses not to file an estimate of his tax, he must file his final return and pay the tax February 15.

Copies of the 1962 Edition of the Farmers Tax Guide are now available from the Farm Advisers Offices, 201 N. Dunton ave., Arlington Heights.

This 64-page booklet gives complete instructions on how to report income and expenses and take deductions. It also includes a complete calendar of dates that affect taxpayers in 1962. (FM

Clever Clovers Plan Projects

The regular meeting of the Clever Clovers was held at Peggy Sidor's home December 5. The members discussed plans for their Christmas party which will be held December 19, seven o'clock, at Dianne Hahnfeld's. All mothers of Clever Clovers are invited.

A grab bag with gifts worth one dollar was among the plans the girls made for the coming party.

Plans for another club project were made at the recent meeting. As the club's service project for this year a 10 dollar donation to Care was decided upon.

The club members also accepted Nancy Drolshagen as a new Clever Clover. (FM

Poona, Anyone?

Badminton was first known as "Poona," the name given to the game several centuries ago in India, where it originated.
